@UAPmike You know Iâ□□m not a big fan of his but there were other people with similar information. But those other people were smart enough not to say anything because it was not once, I said, “It comes close, it teases us, it cajole us, it lies to us, but you can never take it home to meet the parents. It won’t allow you to do that. There’s no formal introduction.” And then you add on top of that, there’s no ontology, which is just a fancy word that basically means there’s no structure to even discuss this. We don’t have a common lexicon. Somebody said, “Well, we have dots but no connections.” I don’t even think we have dots. We just have some things that we know that are invariant that are stable that happen in UAP sightings and what have you…that there’s a craft and a thing that looks like a craft, that may or may not be objective, it may be subjective. It appears, it disappears. You can’t put your finger in anything. You try to grab it and it just completely eludes you. So yeah, it’s highly problematic, and I talk about when TTSA was formed, we wanted to get this research side started so we could look at this and find the signal in the noise and put all the data together, all the databases and then try to ferret out this information. I don’t know if that’s gonna cut it. I really don’t. But anyway, we’ll see.

I'm not going live at 7pm. Maybe later. Maybe not. Who cares?

Just disgusted lately. Never thought the reaction to finally seeing some progress in this field would result in so much vitriol and hate being directed at the folks trying their best to change things for the better.

Donâ□□t be surprised if thatâ□□s where we wind up after all of this plays out. We have one guy who does his best to undermine Lue any chance he gets and a content producer holds that guy up as the gold standard in studying #ufos. Pathetic. And then we have all the other crap. A mess.

5 And for those saying: Eric Davis talked about Atlantis and a fourth hominin?! Screen shot below. I love that these guys aren't afraid to speculate like this.

The usual crowd criticized him for doing it, of course.

We know what they are not... They're not made here, George, but we don't know where they come from. Hal (Puthoff) has a favorite hypothesis, he calls it the Ultraterrestrial Hypothesis. They could be advanced technology - aerospace technology that are produced by a group of evolved hominins that split off from the main human race and they might be that fourth unidentified hominin that was discovered and announced in the news over the last couple years, they are the fourth one after the Denisovans. So yeah, you have Homo Sapiens, Neanderthals, and you have the Denisovans, and there's the genetic evidence of a fourth hominin, and so maybe they split off and they became very advanced, they could be the basis or the foundation for the legend of Atlantis, for all we know. And they saw the human race arising, they didn't like our warlike nature and they probably went underground and shielded themselves with their advanced technology to protect themselves from us, and they're the ones who have the Tic Tacs and other UFOs. ...that's a hypothesis.

This letter is in response to your Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request dated January 23, 2022 for access to Barack Obama Presidential records pertaining to documents and communications about the Advanced Aerospace Threat Identification Program and photos and videos of Unidentified Flying Objects, Unidentified Aerial Phenomena/Phenomenon, and the Advanced Aerospace Weapons Systems Application Program. The Barack Obama Presidential Library received your request on January 23, 2022. FOIA requests for Barack Obama Presidential records are processed and reviewed for access under provisions of the 1978 Presidential Records Act, as amended (PRA) (44 U.S.C. §§ 2201-2209), which incorporates the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. § 552) in substantial part.

We have performed a search of our collection for Presidential records related to your request and have identified approximately 3,440 pages and 26,271 electronic files of potentially responsive records that must be processed in order to respond to your request. Please keep in mind that these totals are an estimate and that all material processed may not be applicable to your specific topic.

The staff of the Barack Obama Presidential Library is currently processing and reviewing FOIA requests that precede your request. To treat everyone equitably, we have placed your request in our Complex Unclassified Electronic queue by the date it was received in our office.

Okay, I got to get to some more SuperChat and audience questions. They're eager. Do It Yourself Craft asks: What's his take on the alien abduction experience?

Lue: Interesting, they're fascinating, but they're just that. They're an experience. And with every person who talks about how these things may be here for peaceful purposes and, you know, just because they've never attacked us, means that they're benevolent, there's just as many people who are terrified and report the opposite experience. I've said this before, for [the] record: Look, if you take a member of my family against their will somewhere, that's kidnapping. And God forbid, if you touch them, now that's assault. Both are criminal offenses, from my perspective. I don't care what your intent is. Bottom line. So, if abductions are happening, well the word of abduction itself is a criminal act, right? It's kidnapping. It's not taking you on a date, it's abduction. If that indeed is happening. The problem is, it's very hard to quantify and qualify that aspect of the conversation. Because at the end of the day, you're just relying on eyewitness testimony. There's no gun camera footage, there's no radar data to suggest that. It's just someone's personal experience. And when you do that, you have to consider all sorts of stuff. You know, you have to...you're now talking about aspects that involve psychology, aspects that involve sociology and aspects that involve philosophy.

http://pbs.twimg.com/media/FNla7V5VUAAxM14.png

You know, we all interpret data differently, as human beings. Processes occur differently in our brains, and biochemically, even. So it's very hard to do anything with that data from a military perspective, from a DoD perspective because eyewitness testimony is one thing and even that's tricky sometimes. But when you start talking about experiences, physical experiences from people, and they vary so much, in some cases, in some cases they're similar. There's not a whole lot I can do with that data. So, although it's extremely interesting, fascinating, in fact, it was never really a core part of our research in AATIP. Again, because scientifically, it's very hard to quantify and qualify, and there's nobody else that can that can say, "Yes, I saw this person..." Now there's a few, small anecdotal examples here and there where people say, "I saw the person disappear," or something like that, but that doesn't help us. We need more information or more data. I will tell you.... (long pause) No, actually, no, I'll wait (laughs). Sorry. Next time. Yeah. It's interesting.

Going by my memory, I was also thinking...but you DID say there were photos of occupants! But as usual, Lue was right. He talked about something inside...some sort of occupancy. Not occupants. It's nuance but it's different. This is from his @TOEwithCurt interview.

https://twitter.com/UFORobbi/status/1500271762373812226

http://pbs.twimg.com/media/FNOk8cxVgAAZAjs.png

CJ: Are there potential photos that exist that show occupants in some of these, quote, unquote "craft"?

LE: Well, there's a lot of photos that show a lot of things. The question is, are they real? Are they legitimate?

CJ: Are there potential photos that have [been] potentially deemed as legitimate that have that quality?

LE: There are very compelling photos out there that seem to show something inside, some sort of occupancy. And I'll leave it at that because it gets really murky much beyond that and there's a lot that can can be speculated. And so I try to avoid speculation as much as possible. But yes, I've spoken to enough people, firsthand knowledge, that not only report the crafts that we know exist, but potentially some sort of intelligence inside these vehicles.

CJ: You mentioned it gets murky, murky as in low resolution or murky...what do you mean by murky?

LE: I mean, in every aspect. The source of the information, how the information was obtained, under what circumstances, resolution of photographic evidence, all of it. And so, that's why we have to be very careful.

@MusicAndTruth I believe Holloman (the one I'm talking about) occurred in 1964, right down the road from where the Lonnie Zamora incident supposedly took place.

When Lue's book comes out...if it shows Lacatski was wrong about various aspects of AATIP (when it began, funding details, etc), I think it will be bc Lacatski just didn't know. Nothing nefarious there. I'm looking forward to those details plus any hitchhiker/personal stories.

@UapDavid @albertsingsong @LueElizondo I think this is more about...without that experience, I'm probably not here right now, typing this! I would have never finished reading "Communion," which I had JUST started. Then again, maybe something else would've piqued my interest in the phenomenon?

https://twitter.com/_/status/1500533298602283012

@UapDavid @albertsingsong @LueElizondo I've spoken about it numerous times during interviews. But what I just tweeted is about it. When it happened, I thought, "The aliens are coming to take me." I struggled out of the paralysis and that was it. I heard a plane going overhead and thought it was "them." This was 1996.

https://twitter.com/_/status/1500532919709757445

@albertsingsong @UapDavid @LueElizondo I'll chalk it off to sleep paralysis. No beings, just paralysis & a high-pitched noise. Whatever it was, it convinced me 2 keep reading Communion (which I had stopped bc it was too scary) & the rest is history. W/o that experience, not sure if I would've gone down UFO rabbit hole @albertsingsong @UapDavid @LueElizondo Sleep paralysis may explain SOME cases, but definitely not all bc some happen during day, w/person wide awake! And some have multiple witnesses. Mutual sleep paralysis? Nah.

According to Lue, not including the word UFO or UAP in the DOPSR for the videos had zero to do with perception. And according to Lacatski & Kelleher, the word "UFO" not being in the AAWSAP RFP had zero to do with perception. I believe them.

Greetings Michael and thank you once again for your assistance...One more e-mail to follow (three in total due to size limitations).

Per your guidance, please find the attached three .mpg files for your review. Please note, although the files are UNCLASSIFIED, they are being sent via SIPR in the spirit of extra precaution. No locational data is provided in any of the files and therefore there should be no classification issues.

STRATEGIC ISSUE: Unmanned aerial vehicles (balloons, commercial UAVs, private drones such as quadcopters, etc) continue to pose a potential threat to DoD facilities, equipment, and location. Army, Navy, and Air Force have all acknowledged the potential threat by UAS' to DoD equities but no single UNCLASSIFIED repository exists to share this information across all stakeholders.

PURPOSE: Our collective purpose is to eventually establish an UNCLASSIFIED database or "Community of Interest" of related signature data to be accessible by stakeholders such as DIA, the Navy, Defense Industry partners, and perhaps even State, Local & Tribal authorities to catalog and identify specific UAS threats to national security and/or DoD equities. By creating a virtual library to catalog and analyze each event, our hope will be to better understand the capabilities, and ultimately vulnerabilities of these systems.

Please let me know if I can assist any further with this request.
Sincerest Regards,

Lue

Drones have been involved in the #UFO conversation before any of us knew about "AATIP" or @LueElizondo. And they continue to be so.

Only time will tell why.

But once we realize that drones ARE A PART of all this, we will be in a better place to understand the REAL phenomena.

@PeterDa42270854 Well, it shows how much our gov't redacts. I don't mind it being shown as it shows that we need to rely on other sources for info. on UFOs. Not that FOIA can't be helpful (obviously, in the past, it has) but in this case...no.

Since the videos were taken at different locations with different cameras, the scale factors (meters/pixel) are different. Even though they differ in scale, it is still possible to compare distance measurements using ratios:

$$r(t) = d(t)/d(1)$$

since the scale factors cancel. As plotted in Figure 87, videos 1, 2, 4, and 5 show a similar relative rate of ascent, while video 3 is different. That four of the five videos appear to show the same motion from different locations suggests they are authentic.

The acceleration of the object after the flash is comparable to the Tic Tacs discussed in the previous chapter. And, like a Tic Tac, the lack of a shock wave (sonic boom) that should have been produced by an object moving at supersonic speeds so close to the ground cannot be explained.

In order to determine physical distances, we need an object of known size in the image to use as a reference. Fortunately, in video 4 the UFO appears to be close enough to the Dome of the Rock to use the diameter of the Dome (approximately 20 meters) for calibration (Figure 83). The calculated speeds and accelerations (Table 2) are remarkable. Within 1/30 second, the UFO is moving 3x the speed of sound. 1/30 second later, its speed is over Mach 7. The acceleration is almost 4400 g.

To mitigate the effect of the rolling shuttle, we use the center of mass computed from the image brightness arrays to estimate the object's location in each frame:

$$\bar{x}(t) = \frac{\sum_{x,y} x\, b_{x,y}(t)}{\sum_{x,y} b_{x,y}(t)} \qquad \bar{y}(t) = \frac{\sum_{x,y} y\, b_{x,y}(t)}{\sum_{x,y} b_{x,y}(t)}$$

The distance traveled is computed from the centers of mass:

$$d(t) = \sum_{s=1}^{t} \sqrt{[\bar{x}(s) - \bar{x}(s-1)]^2 + [\bar{y}(s) - \bar{y}(s-1)]^2}$$ and used to estimate the velocity and acceleration:

$$v(t) = [d(t) - d(t-1)]/\Delta t$$
$$a(t) = [v(t) - v(t-1)]/\Delta t$$

where $\Delta t = 1/30$ second.

Motion Analysis

Of particular interest is the rapid ascent of the UFO after the flash. Figure 81 shows five frames from videos 1 and 2 at the beginning of its ascent. The quality of video 1 was lower than video 2, as evidenced by the block compression artifacts. Notice how both cameras appear to capture the object at multiple locations in the same frame. This artifact is due to how most cell phone cameras take pictures and video using what is known as a "rolling shutter." Figure 80 demonstrates this effect that can occur when attempting to photograph lightning.[57]

The map in Figure 78 plots the locations where videos 1, 2, 4, and 5 were filmed.[56] After the UFO descends, it hovers for a period of time. The hover times in the five videos are 23 seconds in video 1, 23 seconds in video 2, 22 seconds in video 3, at least 21 seconds in video 4, and at least 19 seconds in video 5. The last two videos start late and do not show the UFO descending, so the total hover time could not be determined. That the hover time in video 3 was only 22 seconds first suggested that something was different about it. Videos 1 and 2 south of Temple Mount show a bright object moving a short distance left to right while hovering. Videos 4 and 5 north of Temple

Dome of the Rock UFO

At least four videos have been discovered that show a UFO over the Dome of the Rock on January 28, 2011. The object descends from an undetermined altitude and moves east toward Temple Mount, hovering about 50 meters above the Dome (Figure 74). Following two quick flashes of light (Figure 75), the object shoots up (Figure 76) and disappears without a sound.

Four 320x240 pixel videos shot with cell phone cameras were downloaded from YouTube. All four appear to be actual videos of the event. The following discussion refers to them as videos 1, 2, 4, and 5. A higher resolution (540x360) version of video 4 was also found. A fifth video (video 3) downloaded from YouTube appears to be a fake created using relatively simple CGI techniques.

Carlotto dedicated 12 pages of analysis of this "Dome of the Rock" event in his brief book, "Not of This World: An Emerging Picture of the UFO Phenomenon."

http://pbs.twimg.com/media/FMyhvikVUAASDca.png

In order to determine physical distances, we need an object of known size in the image to use as a reference. Fortunately, in video 4 the UFO appears to be close enough to the Dome of the Rock to use the diameter of the Dome (approximately 20 meters) for calibration (Figure 83). The calculated speeds and accelerations (Table 2) are remarkable. Within 1/30 second, the UFO is moving 3x the speed of sound. 1/30 second later, its speed is over Mach 7. The acceleration is almost 4400 g.

The CNN series on UFOs, which I helped produce with Break Thru Films, has NOT been cancelled. It has been postponed. This was only due to the CNN merger, which put the network through a huge reshuffling, and the loss of its streaming platform CNN+. The CNN executives love our five-part series, and are definitely going to air it. It's just a matter of when. We are doing what we can to make it happen, but it will likely be a few more months.

@FoptimusSublime Thank God we had AAWSAP and AATIP, and our reps were able to see data and not just hear anecdotes. Otherwise, none of what you see right now (Gillibrand, Rubio, Gallego, NDAA language, a UFO office) would have happened. This is not about belief.

@FoptimusSublime We want the world to realize reality is much different than we've been taught. It's a tough lift so we're gonna need solid (documented) evidence to wake people up.

Otherwise, nothing will change.

@FoptimusSublime I don't remember. Sorry.

We can collect as many anecdotes as we want and it may be enough for folks like you and I to realize something anomalous may be going on. But it has to be documented. We need MASSIVE funding to study all of this stuff, in depth.

@FoptimusSublime We see this differently. Go look @ work of Bill Bengston. He & his healer (Ben Mayrick) had people come 2 them (Ben did the healing) & many left w/cures. But Bengston knows it's very difficult 2 prove if Ben healed them or something else (diet change, boost in immune system) did.

Author...

"When asked specifically about the statements he had made to Corbell, Dr. Krangle said that he didnâ□□t recall making statements that he was certain Lazar was a physicist."

with regard to Lazar but go read the articles & then listen to ALL of Krangle with Corbell.

Davis has been at this (chasing down CR program) since at least 2002 & his interview w/Wilson. He didn't just rely on one source or even 2 sources. He's thorough. And as I've said, on a scale 1-10, his belief that there's a CR program is...100. And he's not alone in that belief.

@murnut Agree on that, of course. But I wasn't talking about USAF or our military in that tweet. I specifically mentioned Davis, Lue, & Puthoff. Respectively, all three have spoken about...a CR program, exotic material and crashes. I don't think they're all lying to fool our adversaries.

Only other possibility is Lue, Davis, Puthoff & others are lying to us about crash retrievals (or, in Lue's case, "exotic material") & doing so in order to fool our adversaries into believing we have that stuff when, in reality, we don't. IMO, that's NOT what's happening. #ufo

To The Stars Academy of Arts and Science

January 23 at 3:11pm ·

On October 11, 2017, during a broadcast announcing the formation of To The Stars Academy of Arts & Science, our creative team utilized a slide that was intended to be illustrative of the Nimitz case discussed in the presentation. We recognize that the use of this slide without proper clarification created confusion and, most importantly, did not meet our standard of accuracy. TTS Academy is committed to being a trusted leader in the exploration of exotic science and technologies, and we regret this oversight. It is important to note that the evidence presented by the speaker regarding the Nimitz case is derived from the testimony of multiple US military personnel and multiple sensors aboard multiple ships and aircraft operating in conditions of excellent visibility. Furthermore, the US Department of Defense has not denied the account provided by TTS Academy or the retired US military personnel involved in the incidents of November 14, 2004.

3 Church wouldn't let it go...

"Can Elizondo, Mellon and Fravor be trusted in the future? No."

~Slippin' Jimmy Church http://pbs.twimg.com/media/FMF-g0OUYAINqyY.png

anybody's mouth when interviewing Melon, Elizondo or Favor in the future should be "who knew about the pic? When? Why?" We are talking about a company that is selling stock....to the PUBLIC. Then we have the statement released by TTS on January 23rd...and that statement was again misleading...and did not really say anything. The whole thing is a mess...and by pushing this on my audience, my personal excitement about disclosure and speaking about what TTS is doing...everything...has turned out to be a big chunk of doo-doo. I want answers...and none of them are going to be good. Are the videos real? I hope so...but it doesn't matter. Did Fravor really see what he describes? I hope so...but it doesn't matter. Can Elizondo, Melon and Fravor be trusted in the future??? No. They can't even search the net for a balloon pic that's been around since 2005. Until I get some answers I'm going to take a back seat and observe...I'll just report the story...on more party balloons. If you wanna chase this and promote TTS for the 'big' stuff they have, go right ahead...but remember....every time you bring this up in the future, in film, tv or radio with the 'secret alien tech' from TTS...all anyone is going to think about or remember is the alien tech is helium filled mylar. Think about it. You have talent, you are gifted...you know I love your stuff...that will never change...please be careful moving forward.

http://pbs.twimg.com/media/FMF-g0OUYAINqyY.png

Jimmy Church

Jeremy...you are smart...so you shouldn't be 'shocked' that this is still news...or that this is NOT going to go away. When Chris Mellon stepped up to the mic and said that 'this is not any experimental program by us, what technology is this?' (I'm paraphrasing)...with the image behind him...of a party balloon!!! While asking people to buy stock in a company??? How many people bought stock based on that balloon image??? That is misleading. Also, the Paco website was referenced during that live feed and people were told to go there and check it out for themselves...with THAT image there. Again, misleading. So, who knew and when??? You say this has been known for a long time....really? Let's look at the timeline... We are introduced to individuals from the DoD, CIA, Skunkworks...and none of the brainpower KNEW it was a friggin' balloon??? And if they DID...we REALLY have a problem. That was Oct 11th...Did Fravor tell anybody it wasn't what he saw??? Did anybody bother to ask him??? Apparently not....because on Dec 16th that same image was spread through the mainstream media...worldwide...again, misleading the public that it was real...driving sales of stock in TTS. Did you know it was a balloon before Elizondo or Melon???

Did you say anything? No. So, no, I'm not cool with it. What this does, ultimately, is raises questions once again about trust. The first question out of

http://pbs.twimg.com/media/FMF-UwqVIAQWNAO.jpg

Jeremy Kenyon Lockyer Corbell

Jimmy, I'm shocked this is still a topic of conversation. That image was pulled off of fighter pilot, Paco's, aviation blog when he wrote about the "Tic Tac" incidents. The image was never claimed to be of the actual AAV from 2004. In fact, there is more I revealed about both the Tic Tac and Gimbal video me months ago (location and year), on Nerdist, Bizarre States. This image been known for a long time as simply "pulled from the first article by Paco". Bad choice by TTS to put it as a background on stage for sure... but a conspiracy? No.

To imagine this discredits the ACTUAL footage, the pilot David Fravor, the DOD, Luis Elizondo and the AATIP program, and ALL the multitude of witnesses involved in the ACTUAL series of events in 2004 that I have personally spoken with for over two years (remember, I broke the "Tic Tac" case on Coast to Coast with George Knapp)... is simply ridiculous and trivial and misleading. I doubt that's what you meant by brining this up on your program. But the issue does deserve proper clarification. I'm simply trying to keep the facts straight and not derail the public from useful inquiry. And it's good to tune in to the details, but this image issue was known from day one.

We MUST look at everything of course, yet focus on relevance.

Let's not throw the baby out with the UFO bath water.

Again, I know this was not your point Jimmy... and TTS made a mistake (and there will be more)... but the weight of a photo overlook is far inferior to the bigger picture. Make sense?

OK... so, in the interest of transparency... Tom DeLonge's 'Tic Tac' UFO was NOT photographed by the US Navy off the coast of San Diego in 2004... but was shot in Manchester UK in 2005... here are the two images side by side...and the ORIGINAL article that was posted in 2005...with four additional images.
Something doesn't smell right to me... I've sent everything to DeLonge and his team and I'm waiting for a response... but one thing is for sure... the UFO community will police itself.
Read the original article...look at the images...and post your comments below...things are about to get interesting...somebody has been played...not sure who...but I want answers.
Steve Mera, who posted the original article in 2005 now says that it was a metallic party balloon....hmmmmm... here we go!!!

And AFAIK, Hynek did NOT investigate Roswell. Stanton Friedman is the one who encouraged Don to dig deeper into Roswell and expand on the research that he (Stan) had already done.

Three hour and forty-three minute lecture on #Roswell by Don Schmitt, who originally was a skeptic on the case. This was 2019 in Sydney.

Don also worked with Hynek back in the day.

Jacob has been his loving, energetic self (with possibly a little more tude). His eyes are slowly healing and the pain and sensitivity he had seem to be so much better❤️

When Jacob was first diagnosed in the end of December, he was given 1-2 months to live. With treatment, they said 1-2 years. Time is so uncertain but man, will this pup be living it up to the end, regardless of when that is. A lesson I guess we all can learn from.

My goal is to take him on as many adventures as possible ! So any suggestions are welcomed ☺️🐾

In that same TS/SCI building cafeteria in El Segundo, I had lunch with a senior USAF NCO who had worked for Project Blue Book in the 1970s (after it had been "officially disbanded). He was an ELINT technician (electronic intelligence) who flew in RC-135s from MacDill AFB in Florida. The "normal" target was Cuba where they did lots of snooping and sometimes challenging the Cubans to turn on radar and other systems.

He said there were times when they were diverted from these missions to track UFOs off the east coast of Florida. His claim was they UFOs had a landing and takeoff spot in the ocean east of Miami, north of Bermuda. He also claimed there was a specific electronic signature (frequency) emanating from them when they were going into or coming out of the water, so they were easy to track. On several occasions they filmed the UFO as it transitioned from water to air or vice versa. One last item is he was occasionally assigned to fly in a USAF weather aircraft (WC-135) when they had a hurricane hunting mission over the usual UFO area, where his specific assignment was kept secret from the other crew members. He would always report back to a dedicated USAF intelligence officer on base when they returned from a mission. He did not know where the intel that he collected was sent for processing or storage (WPAFB in Dayton would be the obvious choice). High quality film of UFOs is "out there" somewhere!

JC: Is there a way 2 get to the AF radar data & is there a way to get to it?

49 Lue: If I was in Congress, I'd haul the AF up there (Capitol Hill) so fast, you'd hear a sonic book.

JC mentions AF brass telling their folks to not discuss the topic in certain secure, UAP chat rooms.

Lue: Some elements in intel community want to shut the chat rooms down.

48 There's a systemic problem. Congress & DoD are trying to do the opposite. If the AF doesn't want to tell the American people, fine (Not fine ~Joe), but they better not hide it from Congress, Secy of D, DNI &. At that point, it's a rogue element. Don't want 2 go down that road.

To prove a public person was libelled or slandered with false information, you need to prove the person or media outlet that printed/published or said it, did so with the knowledge that it was false info. Very high bar that Palin didn't come close to reaching.

Old tweet. Not much I fear w/this topic. But, I think SOMETHING that interacts with humans CAN (allegedly) manipulate/read our thoughts, and levitate us and objects in our environment. This goes back to stories of Saints (not Brees) levitating. All anecdotal and limited, so far.

2 Some folks are connecting those events (Russia/Putin/Ukraine) to some sort of #ufo Disclosure & that's a mistake, IMO. From what I have garnered, they believe a full-out world war will usher in a new age where The Others show themselves openly. I won't hold my breath on that.

@Fortean777 I just think people from all walks of life have these experiences & interests. His book is one I recommend for OBE beginners. Guy who was calling it hallucinations obviously hasn't read the book. Taylor explains how/when he realized it was real when he went 2 "visit" his teacher.

@luccahuguet No. But, I had this cassette tape Dr. John Turner (met him on a RVing message board) made & it helped get me to the vibrational stage several times. But never OBE. I can't find that tape! He went on 2B an author & guest on C2C. Need to get another copy.

I was working on "Nanny 911" at the time & Albert was part of a team that would investigate alleged hauntings where people were having a rough go of it. I suggested a show based on that & said we should call it "Haunting 911." Next thing u know, Albert started using that name.

Loved the book but it had nothing to do w/his NASA work or being read into anything. And it wasn't quiet. He was everywhere when this book came out. Art had him on C2C repeatedly. I took a few OBE classes w/him in Orange Co. back in the day. He "stole" my idea for a show name. https://twitter.com/Fortean777/status/1493140905708064770 @RyanSprague51 @thaxter Emma went to someone she thought would help her. It would've been nice if she had lots of non-UFO folks to choose from & professional therapists. But that's not reality. And calling police is not an option for an abductee. You won? Experiencers are involved here. What did u win?

If frustration (re: lack of #ufo data) accomplished something, I'd say, "Go 4 it!" But it doesn't. Just like when fans root against their elimnated team @ end of year 4 better draft position. I say, "Ur rooting doesn't affect outcome, so root 4 them 2 win, & if they lose, ur OK."

3 FOIA will only get you so far. Reporting on what the classified reports said (via their sources) and talking to the sailors (as Corbell says he has done) will help get us closer to the real story of what happened in 2019. Everything I know about it says UAP and not drones.

@Bringouttherum @ericalukesuap Most of ufology is like that. You need to judge the witnesses. Some are good at it. Others, not so much.

6 Also, @ericalukesuap, you had a guest on (Borelli) who accused me of lying about going to Will Miller's house. You didn't question him at all. I think you said something like, "I'm not sure why people do things like that."

And I assume she believes @g_knapp, Kelleher & Lacatski are all lying when they wrote (and said) that all five DIA folks who visited the ranch took something home?

Hopefully, we can get some new videos/data (beyond what @JeremyCorbell & @g_knapp have released) to debate in the very near future.

So folks understand, me saying Gimbal takes a major hit (4 being UAP/#UFO) if it's not rotating doesn't mean I have come 2 any "meaningful conclusion" as @LtTimMcMillan suggested I did. As I said, we need 2 c the (alleged) 5 vids in full. And, of course, all the other data.

“I think, when you hear the pilots talking, you’re talking about an object that is at 25,000 feet and it is orientating itself at a 90° angle, in 120 knot headwinds. Now, aircraft fly…they are a function of their design. An airplane flies in the atmosphere. It has a nose. It has a tail. It has an engine. And it has a definitive shape because it has to fly in the atmosphere. It has to have a leading edge. It has to have ailerons and all the things you would normally characterize and associate with an aircraft. In this particular case, you have something that has no exhaust, something that has no obvious wing surfaces And something that is orientating itself at a 90° angle without falling out of the sky! It doesn’t lose altitude! And in fact is still doing it moving in a forwarded direction…Now, what makes it even more interesting is when you hear the audio... The individual say there’s an entire fleet of them. I cannot go into detail why that’s important. I hope at some point the details of that will come out but it will not come out from me. It isn’t just one. And if you know the back story behind that incident - you’re just looking at a very short video maybe 30, 35 seconds worth - but there’s an entire story, weeks and weeks and weeks worth that go behind that video. And that is what’s so compelling. And if those details should come out, I think that’s gonna be the ‘A Ha’ moment, the epiphany, so to speak, where people are going to look and say, ‘Holy smokes! That really IS an important video! That’s not just some blurry thing on the screen.’”

@ADKT1T2 @AlFaruq1986 Hi Cindy! :red_heart: When I say they go too far into the New Agey stuff, one example is this: There are folks who think we signed some sort of "soul contract" before we came into this life that allowed the grays (or whoever) to abduct us. I think that's a cop out.

@AlFaruq1986 @ADKT1T2 IMO, it's fiction. Just my opinion. But you're making the claim and speaking as if (Antichrist is already here) it's fact, so you're the one who needs to present evidence. And I'm not talking quoting from scriptures. You disagree?

@AlFaruq1986 @ADKT1T2 I know you're trying to be cute there but I don't care if it's Islam's (and the 12th Iman) or Christianity's Antichrist and Messiah. IMO, it's all fiction. Actually, I think it's symbolic of cyclical events on this Earth. Natural disasters. Comet strikes being among the worst.

One of the most prominent Lazar critics has been researcher, Stanton Friedman. He wrote this article, "The Bob Lazar Fraud," back in 1997. Here's a short excerpt:

> He was publicly asked when he got his MS from MIT. He said "Let me see now, I think it was probably 1982." Nobody getting an MS from MIT would not know the year immediately. He was asked to name some of his profs, He said: "Let's see now, Bill Duxler will remember me from the physics department at Caltech." I located Dr. Duxler. He's a Pierce Junior College physics prof, and never taught at Caltech. Lazar was registered in one of his courses at the same time Lazar was supposedly at MIT! Nobody who can go to MIT goes to Pierce JC, not to mention the rather long commute between LA and Cambridge, Mass.

@BenPrimeEsq I'm not asking anybody to do anything.

But if somebody as brilliant as "James" is presenting the evidence and the person on the other end just keeps saying. "Well, that's impossible. I just don't believe it." Then that's that. No reason to waste any time on them.

@awakeningMan Get our leaders (& Evangelical Christians in the Air Force!) 2 release as much UFO-related data as possible so we can decide 4 ourselves what this represents & if it's important enough 4 us, as a country, & maybe one day, as a species, to devote resources to try to figure it out.

6 As Iâ□□ve tweeted before, I learned last year (from a source in a position to know) that the NRO doc (real or fake) played ZERO role in helping Wilson locate the #UAP/#UFO crash retrieval program.

@BenPrimeEsq @UFOBreddit @TOEwithCurt LMH thinks every mutilation is carried out by ETs.

You're better off listening to folks without a bias (towards any one outcome) like O'Brien & Kelleher. Yes, some cases cannot be explained prosaically, but, overall, most SEEM to fit into the "humans carried it out" category.

@BubbaSri @ThomasKBullock2 I've never heard that. You have a link or quote where CK says most cases of mutilation are high strangeness and human activity can be ruled out?

Christopher O'Brien thinks most are carried out by humans and a very small amount fit into the high strangeness category.

Mr. Davis, who now works for Aerospace Corporation, a defense contractor, said he gave a classified briefing to a Defense Department agency as recently as March about retrievals from "off-world vehicles not made on this earth."

Mr. Davis said he also gave classified briefings on retrievals of unexplained objects to staff members of the Senate Armed Services Committee on Oct. 21, 2019, and to staff members of the Senate Intelligence Committee two days later.

I'll make another prediction: Disclosure isn't happening any time soon.

Maybe 2012?

Cover of Neil Young's, "Rockin in the Free World"

We added Nate on vocals. He was one of the editors on Pawn Stars.

We did this strictly for fun so it's far from perfect. But fun as hell to play!

I interviewed @LeslieLinnie in 1997.

U totally misunderstood what I've said. I share Karla Turner vids & quotes a lot. She said she & her family experienced MILABs. I'm VERY open 2 it.

But when someone claims to KNOW names of some folks involved? OK, let's hear HOW she knows. https://twitter.com/Fortean777/status/1487303494776225794

@Sloanius Military abductions. Some abductees report seeing human military in their experiences. Sometimes just humans & sometimes human & non-humans, working together. Is it the phenomenon making them perceive that, or is it really happening? Karla Turner (& family) said she had MILABs.

https://twitter.com/_/status/1487301900282130432

@Fortean777 @gangatoday1 @Lynda_Katerra Fine. Then explain HOW you know. What type of evidence? It's a pretty big claim. And by "you," I mean Lynda.

https://twitter.com/_/status/1487301289503440910

The list is growing. Lynda claimed 2 know names of some folks involved w/MILABs. MILABs is controversial enough on its own & some in our community have already decided they don't occur. I'm not one of them. So I asked for names or some evidence, but Lynda didn't like that, and :backhand_index_pointing_down_medium-light_skin_tone:

If Pope's claim to fame had only featured Ancient Aliens, that would be one thing. But as we all know, it's not. Would he be on my list of folks to add to the team? No. But I'm not concerned that Avi chose him to be part @GalileoProject1. Revisit this at the end of the year.

Yes, they should be able to get that information, in theory, and deserve it and are entitled to it. But in reality, some of these programs are buried so deep, you'll never know about them unless someone in the know informs you and tells you where to look. I reached out to a government insider to see if they could shed some light on the issue.

> "Various people within the United States government, in positions of oversight and who you would think had access to all UAP programs, did not find the UAP crash retrieval program when they looked because they never knew of its existence. I, and others in my circle, have discussed the topic with them of how one cannot find waived-unacknowledged SAPs that operate outside of Section 119 of Title 10. In fact, a DoD office can create a shell company and then transfer funds to it under an unremarkable commercial defense services contract. Then that shell company turns around and gives a subcontract to a third-party aerospace/defense firm that hosts a waived-unacknowledged SAP that operates outside of Sect. 119 of Title 10. This usually hides (making the audit trail terminate at the shell company) the flow of money going to the third party company that's running a waived-unacknowledged SAP where a UAP crash retrieval program is hidden.

"It tendeth toward some fireworks"

In what could possibly be the very first documented reference to livestock mutilations on record we have the following excerpt from a letter sent to mutilation researcher Tom Adams/Project Stigma by a reader of his Stigmata publication, Elizabeth Hilts from Regina, Saskatchewan:

The sheep incident[s] I mentioned in my private book of "Oddities" appears to derive from a diary (or other personal papers) from the court of James I of England. The quotation is:

> "10 February 1606: The minds of men are much troubled with a strange accident lately fallen out, which yet by no means can be discovered, about the City of London and some of the shires adjoining. Whole slaughters of sheep have been made, in some places to number 100, in others less, where nothing is taken from the sheep but their tallow and some inward parts, the whole carcasses and fleece remaining still behind. Of this sundry conjectures, but most agree that it tendeth towards some fireworks."

The above quote appears in: A Jacobean Journal, being a record of Thos Things Most Talked About...1603–1606, by G.G. Harrison, London, Routledge rev. 1946, page 279. The original source was: The Court and Times of James edited from the Collections of Thomas Birch, by the author of the Memoirs

1 If u wanna read a transcript w/someone I consider 2B one of the top experts on mutes, check this out. Be warned: Although (in some cases) he won't rule it out, O'Brien doesn't think this is about ETs/NHIs. And Linda Howe is mentioned 7 or 8 times. :eyes:

SA: But there are cases where they have been fully drained of blood.

CO: There have been cases, yes, there have. I've had some. But out of the two-hundred, I've had only two, maybe three, four, that the meat appeared to be grayish colored or light pink. It didn't have the robust, red color. One case, a whole calf was totally drained the fluids and the spine was gone, the right front leg was gone, the reproductive track was reamed out, the brain was taken out of the skull with no break into the cranium. We only found one drop of blood and this thing was in a brand, fresh, spanking, new five inches of snow. And we found one drop of blood on the left, rear hoof. So that case would be an example of a high-strangeness case. There were strange lights seen in the area, reported by two separate witnesses unbeknownst to one another. I do consider that to be the strangest case that I personally have ever investigated.

But again, for every one of those, there's a hundred much more mundane cases that could be some sort of government group monitoring the environment. There's various explanations that have been proposed over the years to explain why anybody would want to do this, and one thing that I'm pretty sure of is…it's not so much the head of livestock that's important it's where it is, in the environment.

2 Hal's comments on Rich in WV, Feb. 2020.

https://www.ufojoe.net/hal-puthoff-transcript-transiitontalks-qa
http://pbs.twimg.com/media/FJzYf4cUcAEk7tw.png

HP: He's repeating a well known…actually it was from a presentation that Ben Rich, who was head of Lockheed Martin Skunk Works, gave shortly before his death to an engineering group at some university in Southern California. And he was talking about all the advances in aerospace and how he developed stealth and so on. And as he got toward the end of his set of slides, he ended up with a slide of what looks like an ET craft taking off into the stars. And so, Jan Harzan, who is actually director of MUFON, after the talk was over, cornered him and said, "Well, you know,…is this…what can you tell me? Do you guys really have all this going together?" And so, I guess, maybe it was even in his talk, he said, "You know, we now have the technology to take ET home." And so on.

And so, a lot of questions, in fact by me and everybody in this field. Was he exaggerating? Was he really trying to tell us something? Or is he just generating interest in the future? And so, whether what he was saying, you know, we have the technology to take ET home and it's not as hard as you would think it would be. Statements like that. Coming from a guy who's head of the Skunk Works… really hard to discount it.

On the other hand, as we go digging for evidence and, you know, people at Skunk Works. I mean, I've had contracts with Skunk Works, and we keep digging. Really can't find out why he said that. So either it was somewhat of an exaggeration and just kind of a blueprint for the future. Or, it is so buried that even people who you think would know, don't know. So I don't know the answer to that question: "How should I take Ben Rich's comments? Seriously or not?" I just keep digging on the off chance that he might have been telling it like it is. But until I find data, or my colleagues find data, it's just, again…it's one of those things in the gray box, on the shelf.

But I believe @LueElizondo when he said "100%" on Roswell & Eric Davis when he said craft & bodies were recovered. Throw in reporting of @g_knapp about "goodies" & comments by physicist Robert Sarbacher, & on a scale of 1-100, I'm at 90%.

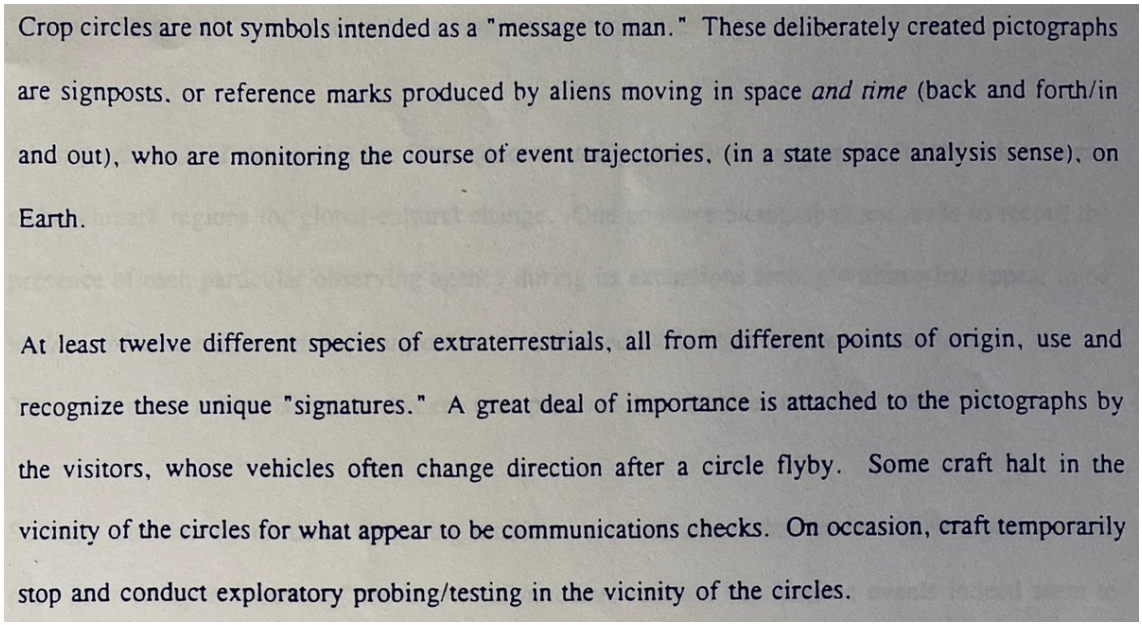
2 Dr. Doom, Ed Dames (he'll be on C2C this week:man_facepalming_light_skin_tone:) & all of those bad remote viewing predictions. From his company: PsiTech. Did he steal the idea from LMH? No idea why they both had a similar theory. I don't trust Dames. This report was also from 1992.

https://documents2.theblackvault.com/casefiles/matthewriot/psitech-cropcircles.pdf

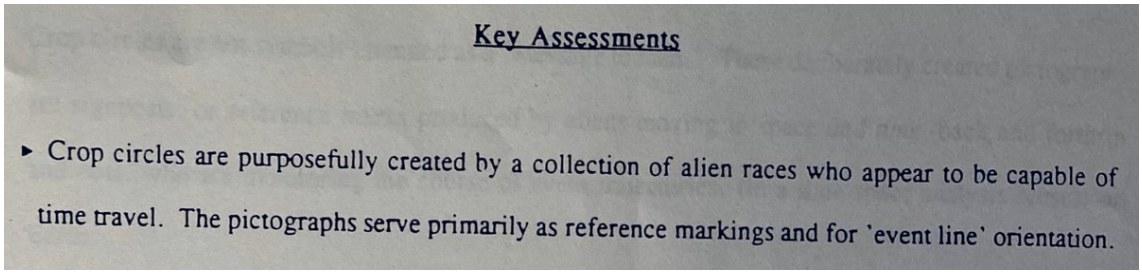
http://pbs.twimg.com/media/FJrkt8zVEAA0qS-.jpg



Crop circles are not symbols intended as a "message to man." These deliberately created pictographs are signposts, or reference marks produced by aliens moving in space and time (back and forth/in and out), who are monitoring the course of event trajectories, (in a state space analysis sense), on Earth.

At least twelve different species of extraterrestrials, all from different points of origin, use and recognize these unique "signatures." A great deal of importance is attached to the pictographs by the visitors, whose vehicles often change direction after a circle flyby. Some craft halt in the vicinity of the circles for what appear to be communications checks. On occasion, craft temporarily stop and conduct exploratory probing/testing in the vicinity of the circles.

http://pbs.twimg.com/media/FJrkt8zVEAA0qS-.jpg



Key Assessments

- Crop circles are purposefully created by a collection of alien races who appear to be capable of time travel. The pictographs serve primarily as reference markings and for 'event line' orientation.

1 Linda M Howe on @TOEwithCurt:

LMH: In 1992, she met some man at an amazing crop circle in England. Guy tells her he knows someone in the CIA who said the circles are being used by another intelligence to, "judge the accuracy of their travel in time."

That sounded familiar!

IF, the Army, under the CRADA agreement with @TTSAcademy, was able to get the Bi/Mg sample from Linda M. Howe to levitate by hitting it with enough terahertz frequencies, like most people, I'm VERY skeptical that they would announce that to the world. Seems obvious.

Danny Miller, nope, not that crowd. But Stan Friedman's investigations plus corroborated independence interviews, still-classified DoD records, internal DoD investigations done in the 1970s and 1990s, lengthy private interviews with or affidavits by a number of now-deceased AF/Army Air Corp officers, etc., much of this is not in the public domain yet.

Eric Davis

Stan did not create any myth. Roswell and several later UFO crash retrieval's happened and that is settled history.

If they include more info. on 2019 West Coast Navy events @JeremyCorbell has spoken about, I'll be thrilled.

Embarrassing is making comments about a series u haven't seen. There are more ways to help than "blowing the doors wide open." Public education is important. Let's see.

Here's what CNN said in its release yesterday about our series:
UFOs (wt) — UFOs (wt) unspools the secret history behind the American government's decades long investigation into the existence of Unidentified Aerial Phenomena. From the creators of the hit series Surviving Death, this provocative five-part series investigates what the government shared with the public versus what went on in the shadows; how citizens investigated cases and pushed back for more transparency; and what the future holds for this mystery which is now formally under investigation by the US government. UFOs (wt) premieres this Summer on CNN.

The photo shows some of our amazing team in Washington DC. To my left is the series director Ricki Stern.

Add Eric Davis & Hal (and a few others) to that list. I can listen to & learn from those folks all day long. As far as media...Leslie & @g_knapp are always a great listen w/a lean towards George, my fellow Sin City resident. I lean towards folks who are willing to say AAWSAP.:grimacing_face:

So @EricRWeinstein has been educated by folks like @JeremyCorbell (who has some REALLY great sources) & Dr. Hal Puthoff (who's been @ this for 5 decades or so) & he's still very resistant 2 the idea that part of this is locked up in aerospace corporations.:man_shrugging_light_skin_tone:

Some folks think we have it. Some folks think we don't.

We're at an impasse!

Put it this way: IMO, if we DO have anti-gravitic craft, one could argue that it would be a bigger national security secret than if the craft had a non-human origin.

@delta_waverider @LuAngeles @BSquidding @TxUFOSightings @singularitymike @SicCoP1 @JRam_11_11 Wilson was VJ2 at Joint Staff at the time. The promotion to the head of DIA came later & as the story goes, in 1997, Wilson was threatened with a lack of promotion (to DIA head), loss of a star, and early retirement, if he kept pursuing the crash retrieval stuff. Details matter.

@WitnessCitizen @Go_Kick_Rocks88 @AbductedGinger2 At one time, I thought maybe Mellon HAD been briefed into AATIP at that point (of Kean interview) & just couldn't talk about it. I mean, that's possible but I don't think there's anything nefarious there.

@Go_Kick_Rocks88 @PacoChierici May have been the Tic Tac case. Still doesn't prove Mellon was read into AATIP @ that point. Not sure if Mellon or Lue have ever given an exact or close to exact date on when Mellon was read in.

@delta_waverider @LuAngeles @BSquidding @TxUFOSightings @singularitymike @SicCoP1 @JRam_11_11 I have no doubt he was trying to get in contact w/me. Why? Don't know. Maybe about Wilson/Davis? But John had spoken about Wilson being the head of the DIA when he was allegedly denied access to the UFO crash retrieval USAP in 1997. That's inaccurate & a big detail to get wrong.

https://twitter.com/_/status/1484598729638219776

@Go_Kick_Rocks88 @AbductedGinger2 Tic Tac vid leaked online in 2007 & event wasn't classified. So, aviators (like Fravor) were free 2 speak about it over the years. And, as Fravor has noted, he did. Maybe he also called Mellon? Doesn't mean Mellon was briefed into AATIP. This is from 2015

Nah. Tic Tac incident wasn't classified & FLIR video was 1st placed online in 2007. Then @PacoChierici wrote about it in 2015, w/tons details. A pilot calling Mellon to talk about it doesn't mean Mellon was briefed into AATIP at that time.

100% it's a valid point & something myself and others on here have thought about. Keel brings it up in "Operation Trojan Horse." Maybe there's no way to reverse engineer what has crashed? This assumes the Davis info. is accurate (failed to reverse engineer) & Miller is wrong.

19 And remember, Miller said he BELIEVES we have a craft that can take us anywhere in space & time. If he's correct, & I don't know that 2B the case, then certain aerospace companies DO have advanced knowledge of physics.

I'll close with an except from another Miller interview:

18 "hesitant to say that they believe we have this tech, as we always hear, 'You can't tell your friends without telling your enemies.' National security. Maybe Miller thinks there are more important things in this world than exploiting alien technology for use as a weapon.

17 I consider Miller a friend & visited him in 2007 at his Florida home. He told me he was a pacifist. Speculation: I think that plays into his mindset when he decides what info. he'll share on this topic. Other folks who still work in the defense industry may be a lot more

2 He had a higher-quality video than what DoD released? Seriously? Where is it?

Lots of issues. I'm just listing a few. He claimed he briefed someone at NORAD. Then edited it to something else. Do people really believe he briefed someone at NORAD?

http://ufotrail.blogspot.com/2020/05/normalizing-fantastic-and-resisting.html
http://pbs.twimg.com/media/FJju5vpUUAIH_qF.jpg

Prasad stated in the article that he briefed the deputy commander of NORAD on how to detect and track hypersonic UFOs. The article was soon edited, however, to instead state he briefed a "prominent North American Aerospace Defence Organization". It is unclear why "Aerospace Defence Organization" was capitalized, as it is not a proper noun or agency name.

Prasad was emailed and asked if he would care to comment on the edit and clarify who was actually briefed. He did not immediately respond. The edit is indicated in the images below, before and after.

"What people don't know is that I was actually briefing @ChrisKMellon at the Pentagon. He had the tickets, he had the clearance. So when I was at the Pentagon, he was actually getting briefings on the UAP topic."

~@LueElizondo on C2C Sunday night

How did that happen? See below. http://pbs.twimg.com/media/FJchNHRUYAI73qJ.jpg

(In a recent episode of the TTSA Talks podcast. Luis Elizondo explained how Christopher Mellon made his way into AATIP. ~Joe)

Luis Elizondo: I remember being at the Pentagon and someone saying, "Hey, a former very senior level DoD official is here to talk to you." And I remember you (Mellon) coming in and saying, "Hey listen. I would really would like to know (laughs) about this particular portfolio you guys are doing here called AATIP." And first of all, I was astonished that you even knew that we were a part of this effort. We weren't prepared to tell you anything. And, of course, I remember, very quickly, looking over my shoulder, kind of laughing at one of my guys there that's with me. And I looked at you and I said, "Okay, well if you want a briefing, that's fine, but you're gonna need these tickets." And it was long laundry list: A, B, C, D, E, F, G and so forth. And I remember you were diligently writing notes and you said, "Okay, no sweat." And I know from the inside, it takes over a year, sometimes, to even get nominated for some of these tickets. So as you left, I kind a looked back and snickered to my colleagues and said, "We'll never see him again, right? That problem is solved. We don't have to worry about that!" And I'll be damned if the very next week you came back to my office and they said, "Hey, he's out here again." And I said, "Well, what does he want? We can't let him in unless he's even got the tickets." And I remember one of my guys saying, "Mr. Elizondo, he's got the tickets." And I could not believe that within a week's time, you had somehow managed…and I verified and validated it. You did it! So, at that point, I realized, okay, this guy's for real and he's got the connections.

@susanlynnparry @PrestonEDennett Well, the narrator said the ETs were going to attack. Preston said the ETs were warning us/predicting an apocalypse any day. Any day! That was 2012. Predictions like that never come to pass. That's why I'm wary about these new time-traveling predictions. Ten years?

2 Wish Lue could show everything AATIP (& our reps, in classified briefings) were privy to. But we don't have that. So put together thousands of civilian reports since the 40s, military reports, gov't docs, our reps speaking out, & it's obvious anomalous craft are engaging w/us.

SG: Does the government know what's going on and they're keeping it a secret?

ED: I think so. Yeah, I think there's a lot of evidence that the government has known, but the problem is, it's so outside the realm of of human comprehension that they can't deal with it on a legislative basis, they can't deal with it on a military, operational basis, they can't deal with it on the basis of a presidential policy. So they just ignore it and just sweep it under the rug and let a finite group of scientists and engineers and investigators work together to either get funded to investigate and evaluate it or they don't get funding for long periods of time and nothing gets done! They just hold onto the information and it just collects cobwebs in the classified, storage warehouses.

Art Bell

Art Bell is one of America's most popular talk show hosts. His radio programs, Coast to Coast AM with Art Bell and Dreamland, are heard in every major city in America. Millions are tuning in nightly as Art Bell informs, entertains, challenges, and sometimes even inspires. Art Bell has taken his place as the leader in late night talk radio.

The Art of Talk

The Art of Talk is Art Bell's first book. For the first time, America can learn about the man behind the microphone. The Art of Talk reveals a life which is as diverse and interesting as his radio programs. With his characteristic dry humor and sensitivity, Art shares everything from where he grew up, his family life, his marriages, how he got his start in radio, to the behind the scenes story of how his popular radio programs got started and have continued to succeed.

@awakeningMan I don't think she's saying it's ALL fake.

I think the possibility that what we're dealing with in the past few years is our tech is extremely low. I'm not against the idea that we have some really cool tech but don't think 2004, 2015 (Go Fast, Gimbal) and 2019 represent that.

1 If 2019 West Coast events & other unexplained incursions from "drones" are actually #ufos, it makes many of us think (as Eric Davis said) the phenomenon dictates disclosure. Is it trying to force us into revealing their presence? If so, it could be a mixed bag of good/bad.

I'm cautiously optimistic. @PostDisclosure's vid yesterday has me a little excited. Let's see how 2022 plays out & let's c what Lue has to say tomorrow on C2C. I think overwhelming amount of folks who work for gov't are good people. Only a handful wanna keep this info. from 6 As far as Congress? Gallagher was briefed by Nolan about W/D and related UFO topics. Maybe Davis has already spoken 2 Congress? I don't know. Do u? IMO, NDAA having whistleblower language for folks who worked in these alleged programs is, in large part, because of Eric Davis.

3 Intact craft or crash retrieval program? No evidence for that. Just comments from Davis & some by @LueElizondo.

3 As far as letting Congress decide? Old news. That's why whistleblower/immunity-like language is in 2023 NDAA. AARO will get to know if it's legit, & certain folks in Congress. I'd have at least one high-ranking person, who is also on CR BIGOT list, available to Just Answer Qs.

2 Location of "Holy Grail" was uncovered by someone else & Congress has that info. I think all UFO-related programs were found.

My "position" has been: I highly suspect all of these programs, including bodies, exist, but need to see it for myself or hear from workers, to start.

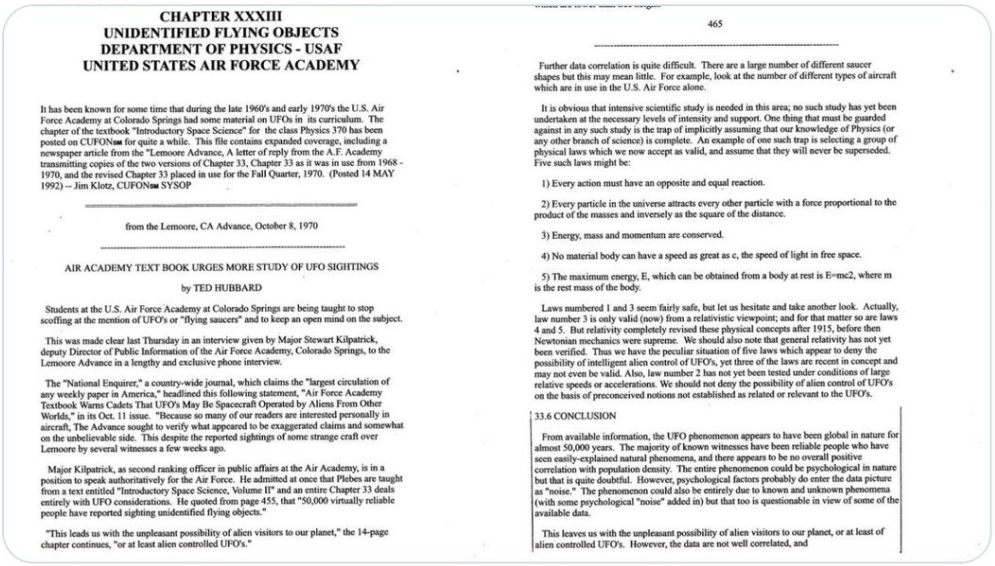
According to the USAF Air Force Academy Textbook Chapter 33, the UFO phenomenon has been Worldwide for at least 50,000 years. Taken at face value that means that anything of this nature is possible.



CHAPTER XXXIII
UNIDENTIFIED FLYING OBJECTS
DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICS - USAF
UNITED STATES AIR FORCE ACADEMY

It has been known for some time that during the late 1960's and early 1970's the U.S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs had some material on UFOs in its curriculum. The chapter of the textbook "Introductory Space Science" for the class Physics 370 has been posted on CUFONsm for quite a while. This file contains expanded coverage, including a newspaper article from the "Lemoore Advance, A letter of reply from the A.F. Academy transmitting copies of the two versions of Chapter 33, Chapter 33 as it was in use from 1968 - 1970, and the revised Chapter 33 placed in use for the Fall Quarter, 1970. (Posted 14 MAY 1992) -- Jim Klotz, CUFONsm SYSOP from the Lemoore, CA Advance, October 8, 1970

AIR ACADEMY TEXT BOOK URGES MORE STUDY OF UFO SIGHTINGS

by TED HUBBARD

Students at the U.S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs are being taught to stop scoffing at the mention of UFO's or "flying saucers" and to keep an open mind on the subject.

This was made clear last Thursday in an interview given by Major Stewart Kilpatrick, deputy Director of Public Information of the Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs, to the Lemoore Advance in a lengthy and exclusive phone interview.

The "National Enquirer," a country-wide journal, which claims the "largest circulation of any weekly paper in America," headlined this following statement, "Air Force Academy Textbook Warns Cadets That UFO's May Be Spacecraft Operated by Aliens From Other Worlds," in its Oct. 11 issue. "Because so many of our readers are interested personally in aircraft, The Advance sought to verify what appeared to be exaggerated claims and somewhat on the unbelievable side. This despite the reported sightings of some strange craft over Lemoore by several witnesses a few weeks ago.

Major Kilpatrick, as second ranking officer in public affairs at the Air Academy, is in a position to speak authoritatively for the Air Force. He admitted at once that Plebes are taught from a text entitled "Introductory Space Science, Volume II" and an entire Chapter 33 deals entirely with UFO considerations. He quoted from page 455, that "50,000 virtually reliable people have reported sighting unidentified flying objects."

"This leads us with the unpleasant possibility of alien visitors to our planet," the 14-page chapter continues, "or at least alien controlled UFO's."

Further data correlation is quite difficult. There are a large number of different saucer shapes but this may mean little. For example, look at the number of different types of aircraft which are in use in the U.S. Air Force alone.

It is obvious that intensive scientific study is needed in this area; no such study has yet been undertaken at the necessary levels of intensity and support. One thing that must be guarded against in any such study is the trap of implicitly assuming that our knowledge of Physics (or any other branch of science) is complete. An example of one such trap is selecting a group of physical laws which we now accept as valid, and assume that they will never be superseded. Five such laws might be:

1) Every action must have an opposite and equal reaction.

2) Every particle in the universe attracts every other particle with a force proportional to the product of the masses and invensely as the square of the distance.

3) Energy, mass and momentum are conserved.

4) No material body can have a speed as great as c, the speed of light in free space.

5) The maximum energy, E, which can be obtained from a body at rest is E=mc2, where m is the rest mass of the body.

Laws numbered 1 and 3 seem fairly safe, but let us hesitate and take another look. Actually, law number 3 is only valid (now) from a relativistic viewpoint; and for that matter so are laws 4 and 5. But relativity completely revised these physical concepts after 1915, before then Newtonian mechanics were supreme. We should also note that general relativity has not yet been verified. Thus we have the peculiar situation of five laws which appear to deny the possibility of intelligent alien control of UFO's, yet three of the laws are recent in concept and may not even be valid. Also, law number 2 has not yet been tested under conditions of large relative speeds or accelerations. We should not deny the possibility of alien control of UFO's on the basis of preconceived notions not established as related or relevant to the UFO's.

33.6 CONCLUSION

From available information, the UFO phenomenon appears to have been global in nature for almost 50,000 years. The majority of known witnesses have been reliable people who have seen easily-explained natural phenomena, and there appears to be no overall positive correlation with population density. The entire phenomenon could be psychological in nature but that is quite doubtful. However, psychological factors probably do enter the data picture as "noise." The phenomenon could also be entirely due to known and unknown phenomena (with some psychological "noise" added in) but that too is questionable in view of some of the available data.

This leaves us with the unpleasant possibility of alien visitors to our planet, or at least of alien controlled UFO's. However, the data are not well correlated, and I don't know if there's some huge #ufo cover-up.

What I want is for all the data to be released so we can have a fighting chance at figuring out what the heck we're dealing with.

Don't assume "off-world" means extraterrestrial. I think it means not made on this planet. If it was built near Earth but in a low/micro-gravity environment, it would still be considered off-world.

Definitely anomalous.

alive. So he was one of them that was in there. You remember now, Eric Davis is the one that told Rubio, in the closed door session with the Senate Intelligence Committee, that, "the people in my task force – the UAP Task Force now, the ONI – our people believe that these are off-world vehicles." I mean, that's what he said to him. That's what's lit up Rubio. All of [Rubio's] pretense of bullshitting about, oh, he thinks they might be Russian. He knows perfectly well, they're not Russian. But the bottom line is that the people believe they're off-world vehicles, that's what they believe. But you get them to even utter the thing of extraterrestrial life or extraterrestrial beings. They won't say it, but they do believe they're off-world vehicles. You know, who else is driving off-world vehicles?

How would a balloon following a horizontal path above ocean water suddenly descend, enter the ocean, submerge (despite being filled with gas far less dense than the surrounding water), and disappear from sight?

3 Could some of what we're dealing with be drones? Of course. Does @Aviation_Intel do some excellent work? Yep. I've read all of his recent articles. But the data that made it into the UAPTF briefings was vetted & those folks aren't idiots who are baffled by balloons & drones.

@Reddit_r_UFO That's not what I'm saying. I was pretty clear. If it made it into a UAPTF briefing, it was considered a UAP. End of story. All this speculation...well, it they wanted 2 show folks what a misidentified UAP looked like, they also put THAT info a briefing...is just made up bs.

2 #ufotwitter - So, if Tyler (& others) are saying vids that made it into UAPTF briefings, that were presented as #UAP, are in actuality, balloons & drones, he's in effect saying: UAPTF (& ONI & folks above them) are a bunch of bumbling fools who can't tell a balloon from a UAP.

Most of the videos you saw from Corbell and the details he shared were from UAPTF "ongoing examinations." Plus, we have East Coast #ufos. If someone like Tyler is going to say those vids represent something prosaic like drones or balloons, that says the folks in UAPTF are idiots.

@SicCoP1 @Aviation_Intel @JeremyCorbell U agree w/everything in the article? Well, article insinuates UAPTF folks r clueless. It's drones & balloons! I decided 2 pass it onto folks who know a hell of a lot more about this subject than us. They were all unimpressed & the overall feeling was lots of words & no substance.

@SicCoP1 @Aviation_Intel Lots of words & no evidence to make his point it was drones and/or balloons. And Tyler's follow-up was he thought the alleged trans-medium craft (one vid @JeremyCorbell released) might be a delated balloon. I don't think folks in UAPTF r idiots. Apparently, he does. The "this" DM is referring to is the "drone" article by @Aviation_Intel, linked 2 below. I thought it was weak but decided to pass it on to a few folks (one passed it on to a higher-up) in the intel world who have interest in #UFOs. All were underwhelmed.

@SuperbatPrime .@wkpixley1 may be right but there's no way to tell that I'm aware of. I loved hearing Boeche explain the theory that whatever this is, may be pretending to be ET as a way to deceive us re: their real intentions. That may be total bs but it forces us 2 think of all possibilities.

LIEUTENANT COLEMAN. *I NOTICED ONE UFO APPROACH OUR AIRCRAFT AT A TERRIFIC RATE OF SPEED. I TIMED IT AS BEST I COULD WITH A STOP-WATCH OVER A KNOWN DISTANCE AND THE FLIGHT ENGINEER COMPUTED THE SPEED AT 5,240 M.P.H. I ALERTED THE ENTIRE CREW TO LOOK FOR THE OBJECTS VISUALLY, AND FLASHES OF LIGHT WERE NOTED. THE CLOSEST THE OBJECTS CAME WAS APPROXIMATELY 20 MILES. I SAW ABOUT 20 OBJECTS IN ALL... I RECALIBRATED THE SET AND THERE WAS NO CHANGE.

THE OBJECTS WERE SMALL AND POSSIBLY ROUND, WITH THE EXCEPTION OF ONE VERY LARGE RETURN SHAPED AS FOLLOWS, ONE-HALF-INCH CURVED ARC. I ALSO NOTICED A LARGE RETURN COME UP TO WITHIN 40 MILES OF OUR TAIL FROM BEHIND AND THEN DISAPPEAR. TO THE BEST OF MY KNOWLEDGE, I BELIEVE THAT THIS OBJECT WAS REAL AND MOVED AT AN EXTREMELY HIGH SPEED AND WAS NOT A SET MALFUNCTION OR OPTICAL ILLUSION.

MASTER SERGEANT BAILEY. THE RADAR OPERATOR CLOCKED THE OBJECT (THE FIRST ONE SEEN) AND I COMPUTED THE AIR SPEED OF THE OBJECT TO AVERAGE 5,240 M.P.H. TWICE DURING THE PERIOD, THE RADAR OPERATOR REPORTED AN OBJECT TO BE PASSING AT 3 O-CLOCK. UPON LOOKING OUT THE WINDOW, I SAW A BLUE-WHITE STREAK TRAVEL FRONT TO REAR AND DISAPPEAR UNDER THE WING.

Foreword

by Senator Harry Reid

People often ask me how I got interested in what the U.S. government now generally refers to as Unidentified Aerial Phenomena (UAPs), but what most people simply called UFOs or flying saucers. I don't know why, frankly, but I think that perhaps there is something about Nevada that led me on this venture. I am not from the part of Nevada most people think of—Las Vegas. I am from a tiny town in the high desert called Searchlight, with a population of about three hundred. I grew up in a house made of railroad ties and learned to swim in the only pool, which was at a brothel. With mining gone, prostitution was the only industry in town.

When you live in rural America, far away from the bright lights of Boston, Denver, Dallas, Salt Lake City, and Las Vegas, you have the opportunity to look up at a clear night's sky and see the Milky Way. There's too much light pollution in the big cities for anyone to catch a glimpse of this nighttime marvel.

For as long as I remember, my family had a mattress that we kept in the backyard. I spent countless nights outside with my mom, dad, and brothers, gazing up at the endless, starry heavens. It was a rare night that I didn't see shooting stars. The expanse of stars filled my eyes and sparked my imagination.

You might want to do a little more digging on 2019 because I trust the information I received and it matches the info. @g_knapp and @JeremyCorbell received:

2019 wasn't China or Russia. ONI, the now defunct, UAPTF and others, came to that conclusion. https://twitter.com/TomRtweets/status/1479578717450121217

@SicCoP1 @dave_beaty @JeremyCorbell You're surprised because you're uninformed about what went on back then. They've all accessed FOIAs. Great! Dave also had a few sources. But the real investigation and details have come from Corbell and @g_knapp and their sources.

2 That's a fact. And I had my own source that backed up what Jeremy and George reported. One of these days I might take the time to show #UFOTwitter how factually inaccurate one of Keyhoe's recent articles was regarding the 2019 events & Corbell's work on it. It was pathetic.

2 When you write an article (like Adam and Marc have done) about unknown objects and continually call them "drones" without any evidence, your motives should be questioned.

AFAIK (from reading posts from folks who've seen related data & heard from others who have seen related data) there's no available evidence showing #ufos are coming in from, at or beyond the orbit of the moon. AFAIK, those alleged ET bases were not confirmed except via other RVing (which isn't confirmation) & a phone call, which only hinted @ it. Some RVing (McMoneagle?) pointed towards the sites being human.

And so, you got a guy with that kind of ability, and one day he comes in and says, “Well, I found four UFO bases on the planet. I’ll give you their locations.” Well, I didn’t really want to report that, but I had to. And so, it turns out one of my contract monitors…one of the locations was in Australia, near Mount Zeil. And so, I told my contract monitor, “I got this crazy list of places” and so on. He says, “Well, I know the station keeper in Australia. I’ll call him out there. I’ll won’t tell him why I’m calling but I’ll just see what I can find out.” So he called him up and said, “You know, I’m interested in that area around Mount Zeil.” And the guy immediately says, “Oh you mean where the UFOs are always flying around?” So, does that mean it might be possible to collect data on UFOs, using remote viewing? Maybe. But I do not know of any actual effort, under good circumstances, with great follow-up, to take advantage of remote viewing in the UAP area. So that’s something left for the future. Any more questions?

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

December 27, 2021

On Monday, December 27, 2021, the President signed into law:

S. 1605, the "National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2022," which authorizes fiscal year 2022 appropriations principally for Department of Defense programs and military construction, Department of Energy national security programs, and intelligence programs; specifies a military basic pay increase and other authorities relating to the U.S. Armed Forces; and other matters.

Thank you to Chairman Reed, Ranking Member Inhofe, Chairman Smith, Ranking Member Rogers and the Senate and House Armed Services Committees for their leadership.

3 "The report shows people catching Omicron are:
31% to 45% less likely to go to A&E (ER ~Joe)

"50% to 70% less likely to be admitted to hospital for treatment

"However, a milder virus could still put pressure on hospitals because it spreads so fast."

"Two doses of a vaccine were shown to offer limited protection against catching Omicron, which was then restored with a booster dose.

They called me 2 work again this week but I was already booked.

Can't discuss details bc I signed the typical NDA. Enjoyed it

â□□They May Be From Another Level Of Reality We Donâ□□t Understandâ□□

I added some more detail from another transcript (Puthoff) and interview (Mack). Plus a link to my YT where I discuss this and Dr. Kit Green.

Tim Taylor?

And I still think there may be a link to possession and an aspect of the phenomenon.

@RobertDobalina7 Below is the requirement 4 someone to become one of Dr. Kit Green's patients. 100% saw a UAP or unknown object. So, the way I understand it, 25% of those folks died within 5-7 years. As time went on, they discovered that the majority fit Havana Syndrome.

@19Nimbus @JeremyCorbell @g_knapp There are a few folks who do that. Feels like a holier than thou kind of thing.

But I like Nick and feel he explains the situation succinctly when he's on various news segments. But seeing some of these tweets, does he really believe what he says?

ED: Okay, I have a personal theory and my boss has a different one. I'll give you mine. I believe that they are alien. Whether they're extraterrestrial, that remains to be seen, but if they're interdimensional…whether they're extraterrestrial in an interdimensional fashion or not extraterrestrial in an interdimensional fashion is irrelevant. The fact is, if they're traveling through dimensions, they've got a home somewhere. Now where that home is, we don't know. It may not even be on the Earth. It could be on the Earth and they're moving through dimensions that we don't have access to, technologically. So it's very possible. I mean, it's not out of the question that aliens could be hiding here in a shadow biome.

@Condorman6 I remember and retweeted your AF/BB tweet. Good stuff.

It's possible this was AATIP, continuing some of the work that AAWSAP was doing. But, I was under the impression that Kit Green wasn't part of anything AATIP.

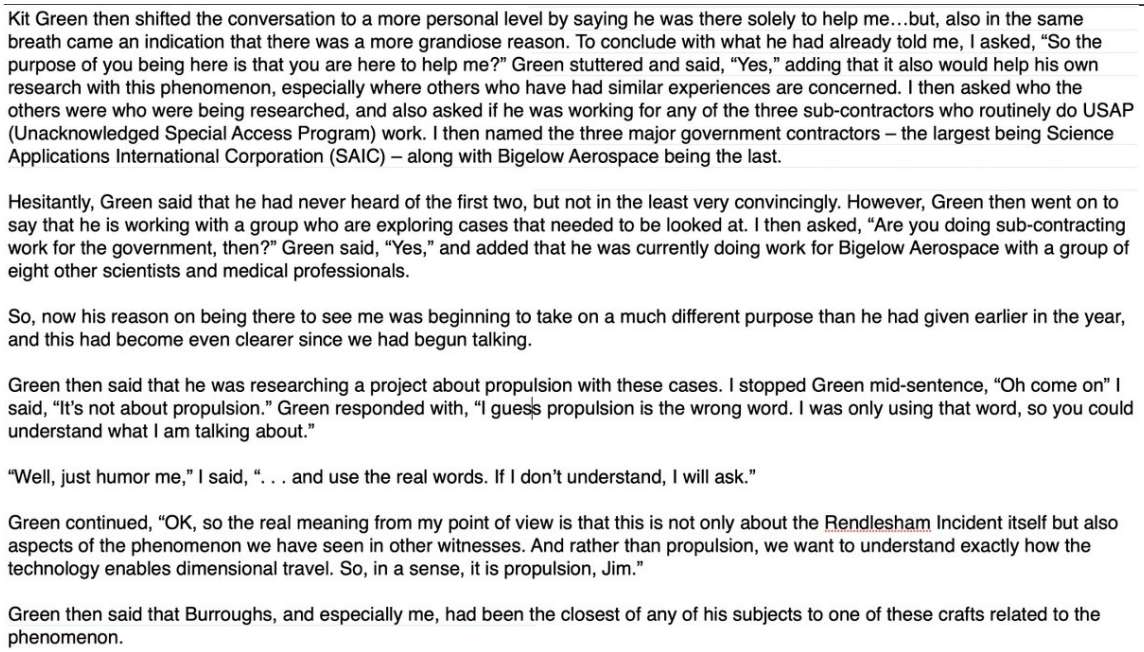
3 Excerpt from the book. Very interesting. http://pbs.twimg.com/media/FHAZVBZVEAAmbgx.jpg



Kit Green then shifted the conversation to a more personal level by saying he was there solely to help me…but, also in the same breath came an indication that there was a more grandiose reason. To conclude with what he had already told me, I asked, "So the purpose of you being here is that you are here to help me?" Green stuttered and said, "Yes," adding that it also would help his own research with this phenomenon, especially where others who have had similar experiences are concerned. I then asked who the others were who were being researched, and also asked if he was working for any of the three sub-contractors who routinely do USAP (Unacknowledged Special Access Program) work. I then named the three major government contractors – the largest being Science Applications International Corporation (SAIC) – along with Bigelow Aerospace being the last.

Hesitantly, Green said that he had never heard of the first two, but not in the least very convincingly. However, Green then went on to say that he is working with a group who are exploring cases that needed to be looked at. I then asked, "Are you doing sub-contracting work for the government, then?" Green said, "Yes," and added that he was currently doing work for Bigelow Aerospace with a group of eight other scientists and medical professionals.

So, now his reason on being there to see me was beginning to take on a much different purpose than he had given earlier in the year, and this had become even clearer since we had begun talking.

Green then said that he was researching a project about propulsion with these cases. I stopped Green mid-sentence, "Oh come on" I said, "It's not about propulsion." Green responded with, "I guess propulsion is the wrong word. I was only using that word, so you could understand what I am talking about."

"Well, just humor me," I said, ". . . and use the real words. If I don't understand, I will ask."

Green continued, "OK, so the real meaning from my point of view is that this is not only about the Rendlesham Incident itself but also aspects of the phenomenon we have seen in other witnesses. And rather than propulsion, we want to understand exactly how the technology enables dimensional travel. So, in a sense, it is propulsion, Jim."

Green then said that Burroughs, and especially me, had been the closest of any of his subjects to one of these crafts related to the phenomenon.

With Tom DeLonge referencing "going mainstream" recently, I figured an article in the NYT or WaPo or story on "60 Minutes" was coming soon. Seems like that's about to happen and I'm not surprised at all. Makes sense since the NYT covered the Hillary Clinton/John Podesta/UFO story but didn't do anything on the "To The Stars" launch, which featured some very impressive people around DeLonge.

From a new FB friend of mine, Isaac Koi:

New York Times story: A little birdie has told me that the New York Times is working on a "big story" on government studies of UFOs, apparently due to be published very soon. I think it is worth keeping an eye out for this. 🙂 I'm not sure whether this is related to Tom DeLonge's company. I hope to know more soon.

2 More NYT/#UFO anniversary FB pics!

@GrantCameron's quote/post is from a few days before the NYT article came out.

From Grant Cameron...

Latest rumor, "Coming in the next few days. Probably Sunday. Conflicting reports about what it will focus on. Something to do with the government studying UFOs." Apart from this I heard of a UFO related book coming from the NYTs. Maybe same journalist?

"I think we may have been" visited already, [Hillary Clinton] said in the interview. "We don't know for sure."

That quote is from 2016 and was printed by the NYT. Her interest in the UFO phenomenon is one of the reasons I was high on her early on, before Trump threw his hat into the ring. I wonder what would be happening on the UFO front right now if she had been POTUS when this Pentagon UFO story broke? Maybe it would have happened earlier? Maybe we'd be seeing all of the d... See more

"My personal belief is that there is very compelling evidence that we may not be alone. Whatever that means."

~Luis Elizondo, Former Head of Pentagon's UFO Program

Kudos to CNN's Erin Burnett for pushing Elizondo to give that answer. If you watch the full six minutes, you'll see that he didn't want to say it. But she kept pushing. So glad Elizondo will continue to work on this mystery with Tom DeLonge and his "To The Stars Academy of Arts and Science." ... See more

We have a long way to go but this is an excellent start.

Here's the NYT article on UFOs I've been hearing about and waiting to read. As I suspected, the posting of UFO footage taken from military jets that Tom DeLonge and his team at "To The Stars Academy" have been referencing was being held back until this article was published. One of the videos includes audio of the Navy pilots and is very interesting to see/hear. Hell, it's extremely cool! Especially when the object ro... See more Again...

The reason u always see the same scientists (Davis, Nolan, Puthoff, Green, Vallee, Kelleher, etc.) talking about #UFOs & related phenomena is bc there's a limited pool of folks of their stature who will openly speak about it. They all have guts & are a part of history.

2 And thanks for the comment.

I don't agree w/everything Nolan or Kit or Eric Davis (or anybody for that matter) say but when you hear them talk, you know they've thought about these subjects a lot and choose their words very carefully. Especially Kit. It's interesting to hear.

I just went to buy tickets for a concert and encountered the dreaded CAPTCHA. But instead of asking me to prove I'm a human, it asked me to prove I'm a hybrid.

@scotlandishson Assuming any of this is true...

One can make the argument, as @rosscoulthart has done: What's so important about this period in time that folks feel the need to come back, change the timeline and create an alternative one? Are we about to fall off a cliff?

CONCLUDING OUR FASCINATING SERIES ON THE ULTIMATE MYSTERY: IS THERE REALLY LIFE AFTER DEATH?

We had made contact with the dead. Now, were we about to hear voices from the far corners of the universe?

THROUGHOUT history, mankind has tried to communicate with the dead. Now, a new book suggests that communication with 'the other side' can take place. For five years, a group of friends conducted experiments in a cellar in Norfolk — with extraordinary results. On Saturday, we told how independent investigators concluded this group had truly made contact with the unknown. In this final extract, contact is made with beings from outer space. Whether or not you believe their claims, it makes fascinating reading.

by Grant and Jane Solomon

THE EVIDENCE: The Scole group, left, claim they communicated with the spirit world via a specially-set-up tape recorder. Images such as the face, centre, and other 'worlds', right, began to appear on film locked in a sealed box and that he is the gate-keeper between Earth and the other side. He explains that he represents thousands of minds from the many other realms of existence.

IS THIS THE ULTIMATE PROOF OF LIFE AFTER DEATH?

He goes on to say that their plan is to pioneer methods of communication between the two dimensions using 'creative energy'. A combination of spiritual, human and earth-bound energy forces. And that this small group in Norfolk has been chosen to help them.

As Manu continues to speak through Diana, her husband Alan Bennett also enters into a trance. Manu explains to them that it is important that two of the group are able to work as mediums.

The visiting spirit, whose 'voice' is being recorded on the tape recorder on the table, concludes with the words: 'What you are about to witness is a sign of greater things to come. We have brought you a gift from our team to your group.'

Suddenly, shortly after Manu stops speaking to them, there is a loud thud on the table. A short while later, the session is over, and Diana and Alan have regained consciousness. The lights are switched on.

There, on the table, is a mint condition coin, the rare and sought-after Churchill Crown. They all examine the coin, hardly able to believe what has happened. They place it in a locked cabinet so that it may be examined by experts. It later transpires that it is completely genuine.

AS the months passed, the group achieved more and more breakthroughs with what they believed was the spirit realm.

'Manu' explained that he was being instructed by a team of spirit scientists and technicians. These were personalities who'd had an interest in technology and scientific experiments while alive on Earth.

The spirits knew that convincing proof had to include physical evidence, which could be tested and scrutinised. And that they were going to do everything in their power to provide this proof.

They could influence atoms and molecules using the power of their thoughts and this in turn would help them produce actual, physical acts and objects from thin air.

Within six months of receiving the coin, the group recorded that they had witnessed dancing lights, the ringing of bells hung on the roof of the cellar, levitation of objects paced on the table, noisy cracklings and loud thumps.

THEN one night, when the Foys and Bennetts were joined by their three other friends, they received another important 'message from Manu': 'We are going to bring you a collection of gifts which have been carefully chosen by us to be relevant to those present and are brought with a tremendous amount of love and goodwill.'

At the end of the session, when the lights in the cellar had been turned on, there were seven objects lying on the table — a silver thimble, two small silver lockets, a silver chain bracelet, a St Christopher medallion, an ornate miniature spoon, a decorated bowl with an inscription in French on the reverse and a tiny gold medallion with hieroglyphics.

Four gifts for women and three for men, exactly corresponding to the group's make-up. These, too, were locked in the cupboard with the first gift, the Churchill Crown.

The sessions became even more fantastic. The dancing lights that would appear in the cellar started to touch the group members. And whenever the lights appeared, words were spoken from mid-air.

This communication technique became known as 'extended voice'. These voices seemed to come from all around the room and even from within the walls.

Then, apparently at the spirits' request, the Scole group bought a new 35mm camera without a built-in flashgun, and loaded it with conventional 24-frame, 35mm colour film. The camera was placed on a wooden chair beside Sandra Foy who was briefed by the spirit team to take photographs in the total darkness whenever she was asked to do so.

There was no normal source of light in the room; hence it would not be expected that the film could be 'exposed'.

As the strange lights started to fly and dance around the cellar, the 'spirits' explained that they would try to communicate by projecting images on to the film.

Sandra was told to pick up the camera and wait for the spirits to give the word before taking a picture. For a brief moment, one of the small, bright lights stopped its rapid rotation around the room, hovered and 'posed' in front of the camera. On command, Sandra pressed the button.

A LITTLE later, she was told that she could take pictures as she wished, at her own pace. After taking a few snaps, she put the camera down on the seat next to her, where it continued taking its own snapshots without her pressing the button. The camera wound itself on after every frame. The last five frames were used in this way.

The next day the film was developed and the results were startling. The group's first reaction was that they must have been given the wrong film by mistake. But it was their film because the first shot was the view from one of the farmhouse windows, taken when the camera was first loaded.

The rest of the photographs left them speechless. There had been no fewer than 11 definite attempts by the 'spirit team' to put images on the film.

The subjects of the photographs varied greatly and appeared totally unconnected. The first was an image of St Paul's Cathedral during the Blitz. A second was a similar but sideways view.

Another two seemed to show a wrecked bus after a night of wartime bombing in Coventry or London. The fifth image showed the front cover of a newspaper from 1936 and a sixth showed a group of soldiers from World War I, two officers and seven men.

Pictures eight, nine, ten and 11 were much fainter, but represented groups of people. The group were told that these images all held some significance for other members of the 'spirit team'.

A 'spirit' called Patrick said that he had known the men in uniform, and another called Edward had actually taken the photographs of the Blitz before his death.

HAVING achieved such success with the camera, the spirit scientists felt that they needed to provide further proof of their existence before the group could go public with their findings.

To this end, they were told that from now on they would receive only original images, transmitted directly on to film left in the centre of the table. There would be no need for a camera.

They placed a 35mm film, still in its factory-sealed tub, on the centre of the table. They also put out two instant Polaroid films.

The Polaroids, when processed by feeding back through a camera, revealed a variety of pictures, star clusters and, on one occasion, a very clear portrait of Sherlock Holmes author Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, himself a paranormal investigator during his life.

In another instance, the signature of the composer Ivor Novello was printed on to Polaroid film.

The 35mm film was initially more difficult to process. Eventually they gathered their own processing machinery but at first they had to take them to the processing shop where they were greeted with very strange looks as they handed over unopened film for development. They received even stranger looks when the film came out with various images on them.

The house in Norfolk where the extraordinary experiments took place

The images grew more and more sophisticated and started to include ancient scripts and hieroglyphics as well as excerpts from poems and pieces of literature.

The 'spirits team', conveying their wishes through the ghostly voice of Manu, now felt it was time that the Scole group invited the scrutiny of scientists.

Through their friend Montague Keen, himself a member of the Society for Psychical Research, they contacted the wider scientific community.

The investigations involved individuals from organisations such as Nasa, the Scientific And Medical Network, various European universities including Britain's Open University and privately-funded research bodies.

Investigators from Germany, Ireland, the Netherlands, Spain, Switzerland and the U.S. assessed and reviewed the Scole group's techniques and physical evidence, including the photographs.

Some investigators came to believe that the Scole group's work constituted ground-breaking evidence for the existence and survival after death of the human consciousness.

To ensure that the tests were undertaken under rigorous scientific conditions, a special wooden box was built to house the unopened, factory-sealed film. The box was then padlocked and held by one of the visiting investigators.

Before the box was used in any of the experiments, it was sent away for careful examination to ensure that it wasn't possible to open it in the dark in the cellar without breaking its seals.

WALTER Schinneger, a highly-respected German engineer interested in the paranormal, was invited to attend a session. None of the group knew him, but they believed he had a logical, detached mind.

Schinneger was handed the wooden box, just big enough to contain one roll of film in its plastic tub. He placed his own roll of 12-frame film in the box, locked it and took the keys, together with the box, out to his car.

He left the padlock keys in the car and handed his car keys over to another investigator, Swiss lawyer and businessman Dr Hans Schaer, a member of the Society for Psychical Research (SPR), who had been present at several previous sessions and was going to sit in on this one.

Schinneger explained what happened: 'From the moment of locking the box until the time the film was processed immediately after the sitting, the box was solely in my hands. It was never allowed to stand alone and was not even touched by anyone else.

'In the cellar I held the box on my lap with my right hand, in such a way that my forefinger was on the lid and the lower part of the finger touching the locking mechanism.

'During the several minutes that followed, with my hand in this position, the table vibrated several times, sometimes so strongly that crystals we had placed on the top started to rattle.

'On one occasion the pullover and shirt on my right arm were pulled up and a finger circled my wrist; then the clothes were pulled down again.

'It felt as though at least five hands were touching my right arm at the same time, some of them quite powerful, as if they were seeking to pull my fingers away from the container (which I did not allow) or to apply force to the container, so that some effort was needed to keep the container in place.

'I held on to the box until after the sitting had finished. Then I retrieved my car keys from Hans, took the box to the car to pick up the padlock keys and returned to make a close inspection of the processing machine to ensure that it was empty.

'I then inserted the film into the processing machine and started the clearly audible processing mechanism, which took about two minutes. I removed the film myself and we all inspected it.

'It showed text, symbols and lines over the whole length of the film, together with some German words and handwriting and some strange mirror written text.'

The investigators present were convinced; there was no way that the film could have been tampered with by humans. Yet there was still an element of doubt which visiting investigators insisted on removing.

Dr Richard Wiseman of the Society for Psychical Research, and a former member of the parapsychology unit at Edinburgh University, is a specialist in the psychology, methods and practice of deception. He was brought in to ensure no tricks were being played.

Dr Wiseman provided a fraud-proof security bag made of opaque triple-layered polythene. At the next Scole meeting, Professor Arthur J. Ellison, also of the SPR, took a 35mm Polaroid film which he brought with him, and placed it in the Wiseman security bag.

Although the Scole group were now being supplied with films direct from Polaroid so that they could continue their experiments without incurring high costs, the investigators always insisted on bringing their own films.

Professor Ellison kept hold of the bag at all times. After the session, the investigators opened the bag, removed the film, and put it through the developer upstairs. The results, projected by the Foys on to their large screen in the library, showed mainly star-like scatterings.

And, in one section, there was a small cog-like shaped light with a shadowy substance behind it.

The investigators considered that the outcome 'indicated paranormality' since the image was certainly not random but rather a recognisable shape.

They could find no way in which the procedure could be faulted. The security bag and the film had been in the possession of the investigators throughout. Soon, however, the imaging was to become sophisticated.

SOME four years after the Scole group were first introduced to Manu and his 'spirit scientists', they were asked to switch some of their experiments to video. This presented a new and exciting set of breakthroughs.

The hand-held video camera, mounted on a tripod and often angled according to the spirits' instructions, captured images that ranged from dramatic surges of colour to men's faces poking through bubble-like spheres.

Then a year after video was first introduced, the group saw a creature on film they were to name Blue.

They describe it thus: 'There was a very clear, animated creature whose features, to say the least, were not exactly as our own.'

DOCTOR Hans Schaer, who had undertaken tests with the group on numerous occasions, came back to witness the video camera operation. There was perfect light in the cellar and only he and the Foys and Bennetts were present.

Schaer personally loaded a brand new tape into the video camera, making sure that no one else touched it. After five minutes of meditation music they each in turn sat in front of a mirror placed opposite the video camera.

When the last of them had returned to their seats, Robin Foy closed a set of curtains that had been placed directly in front of the camera and turned out the light.

Alan and Diana Bennett went into a trance and Manu spoke to them. He explained that the work that they had all produced in the past would not be continued, the energy would now be used for other unspecified purposes. It was 1998, five years after the Scole group began their work.

At the end of the session, when the light was switched on again, Dr Schaer removed the video tape from the camera, checked his dated signature and carried the tape upstairs where he inserted it in the video player.

At the very beginning of the tape, they all saw in the lower right part of the television screen the clearly recognisable profile of a man aged between 50 and 60, slightly balding in front, with dark hair and possibly a black moustache, wearing metal-rimmed glasses.

The portrait appeared as if inside a water bubble. It lasted for about six seconds. Then the image moved slightly and another face appeared behind the first one, but still easily recognisable.

The second man wore something like a Russian fur hat. His face remained for about three seconds and then both portraits vanished.

Dr Schaer later concluded in his report that there was no explanation for what had happened.

https://www.ourstrangeplanet.com/the-san-luis-valley/guest-editorials/mad-cow-disease-and-cattle-mutilations/ http://pbs.twimg.com/media/FGW75fJUUAADhRX.png

In 1993, I got a call from a man who told me that if I went to a certain place on a certain evening, I would see several helicopters land and refuel. He was right. Well after dark, two Chinook helicopters (The large twin rotor type) landed in the field behind some trees and carrying black plastic fuel bladders. Minutes later several smaller scout helicopters landed nearby, shut down and crews from the Chinooks walked over with large hoses and refueled each of a half dozen helicopters. The whole operation took less than 30 minutes and the Chinook helicopters took off and headed across the border where we tracked them to their home base, Fort Campbell, Kentucky. Now we knew who they were but we couldn't figure out why they refueled on Sand Mountain. The next morning a reporter, Steven Smith from the Rainsville Weekly Post, called the Public Affairs Officer, Captain William Gibbons of the 101st Airborne and asked if they might've been in our area the previous evening. "We have no aircraft in your area, it wasn't us" said the captain. It certainly was. So we knew then that some kind of secret operation was being conducted, but we didn't know what it was. We still don't, but when you look at each piece of evidence and try to use them as puzzle pieces, these so called "cattle mutilations" might be associated with government studies of epidemiology. With BSE & CJD and many other diseases being so devastating, is it possible than many alleged cases of "cattle mutilations" are actually evidence of our tax dollars at work?

I think (I could be wrong) that Ted Oliphant was one of the first to connect cattle mutilations to some kind of monitoring of our food supply. And also, Colm Kelleher wrote, "Brain Trust," which touched on that and made a connection to mad cow disease.

Going by memory, I think Year 3 of AAWSAP was set to investigate places like Crestone/SLV, Dulce, Sedona, Yakima, etc. but it never happened.

It REALLY pisses me off at how much we lost when that program was killed. I try not to think about it. 11 years wasted. #ufotwitter @ThomasWinterton @UAPDOG It could be both, IMO.

Humans (state actors) using the ranch as a cover to engage in nefarious behavior.

and...

UAP-occupants (assuming they're non-human) doing something different.

In this scenario: Are state actors using their own UAP or something else? Something cloaked?

RT @JTParker09: Gary mentions the Ubatuba event. Here are a couple more details about it.

http://pbs.twimg.com/media/FGReLxEXMAIPOpP.jpg

Ubatuba, Brazil 7 September 1957

- Witnesses: local people near the beach
- Disk plunged, rose again, exploded
- Analysis by Dr. Olavo Fontes, Barbosa, Apro (Lorenzen)
- Highly pure magnesium (over 99.8%)
- Personal interview by JV with Dr. Fontes
- Analysis confirmed by Dr. Sturrock (Stanford) and French Govt labs
- Traces: Ca (3230 ppm), Sr (568), Ba (248), Si (156), Mn (59), Al (57) in sample SU-H
- Multiple samples available and first-hand reports of analyses
- Note: continuing arguments about the date (1933, 1934?)

PROPRIETARY INFORMATION G. Nolan & J. Vallee: Material composition of UFO samples 10

http://pbs.twimg.com/media/FGReI2IWUAQB8E5.png

Ubatuba: Two more samples found

- While in Argentina in Sept. 2016

JV visited a site in Victoria (Entre Rios) that preserved two samples from Ubatuba:

- One from Dr. Olavo Fontes (« Muestra-A ») through Sr. Nicolas Ojeda
- The other (« Muestra-B ») from an Argentinian sailor named Hercente.

Ubatuba: Status of surviving samples

The samples shown on the right are among those that were transmitted to JV by Professor Sturrock in July 2013.

Selected portions of these materials (and others) were extracted and mounted for new analyses.

More about Ubatuba: Colorful history

- History of Samples:

In Sept.1957 Columnist Ibrahim Sued (O Globo) received three fragments in a letter from an eyewitness. Dr. Olavo Fontes cut sample 1 into subpieces for studies in Brazil Govt. laboratories.

One subpiece went to the Mineral Production Laboratory where chief chemist Dr. Feigl did the first analysis. Another subpiece went to Dr. Louisa Laria Barbosa who did spectrographic analysis. Dr. Elysuario Tavora Filho of the Crystallography lab did x-ray diffraction.

Fragments 2 and 3 were not tested in Brazil, unfortunately.

Fragment 2 was sent to APRO in Arizona and subpieces were tested at Oak Ridge, Dow Chemical and the USAF, who destroyed their sample accidentally (and asked for more!)

Fragment 3 was sent to the Colorado (Condon) UFO project

Later APRO also sent subpieces to Dr. Sturrock at Stanford.

One sample was stolen from his safe deposit bank vault…

- Density Anomaly:

Dr. Olavo Fontes has reported that a chemist named A. Batista, from the Laboratory of Crystallography, determined the density to be 1.866 g/cc versus 1.741 g/cc for terrestrial magnesium, suggesting a higher concentration of the heavier isotopes of magnesium, Mg25 and Mg26, normally representing 10.1% and 11.3% of the element, respectively.

Density was measured on a small chip from the center of « Sample 1 » that was carefully polished to eliminate contamination.

If the sample was entirely composed of Mg26 the density would be 1.862 (Paul Hill, 1995) matching the measurement.

The Condon report challenges this conclusion, however

Unfortunately « Sample 1 » was destroyed in Brazil.

@junglist1973 It was more the content. I worked 65-75 hours on Blind Date and then took the subway back and forth to work every day for an hour each way. I was exhausted and fell asleep on people on the train. Sorry! But I loved the gig! Summer in NYC!

If people have a problem with me taking shots at Punk Ass Tucker...

I don't care.

If you think that's a political belief, you're not paying attention.

I'd prefer any other show on Fox. Unfortunately, right now, it's only TC calling. Where are the others? https://twitter.com/RainerJoel/status/1469699826870853636

@junglist1973 Yeah, that kind of stuff. They offered me a full time job with benefits and vacation. It would have helped so much with my financial situation.

But there was no way I working on that show 50-60 hours a week. I was very happy to move on to Blind Date. Really fun show to shoot.

But, someone else mentioned substack and I need to look into it.

I'll do Cameo - Hi, this is UFOJoe and I'd just like to say, "Happy Birthday, Jet!:

@junglist1973 The baby (probably 2 years old) would NOT eat food on camera. Producers: We MUST have fat baby scarfing down food! The kid throws a piece of food on the floor, & then eats it! Mom, seeing that, decides to throw the other food on the floor so her kid will eat on camera. Horrible.

My issues w/Tucker are more human than political & would prefer Lue doesn't do his show. But he goes on shows that call, & apparently, Tucker is calling. Who else?

I've learned 2 live w/it bc the phenomenon is much more important than my disdain 4 Punk Ass Tucker. Just no OANN! https://twitter.com/Rob_Bonham/status/1469496232745734146 @junglist1973 I get it. Some folks don't like my stuff, either.

Was just stealing his tweet to tell my story. Like the time I shot a fat baby on Maury and the kid kept throwing the food (the he/she was supposed to eat on camera) on the floor. It gets worse. Much worse...
