I wouldn't put too much weight into what he said to Will Smith's son.

If Podesta was read into AATIP, then I'm sure he shared some of that with Obama. But do we have any evidence Podesta was read in? Usually, political types are NOT read in if we go by the Wilson/Davis notes. https://twitter.com/GrantCameron/status/1400510460684902400

Bingo. Certain people know a hell of a lot more of what we've been dealing with since at least the 1930s. (See my Kit Green story in the Dolan interview audio). That's why Lue (Mussolini downed craft in 1933) said 70, 80, 90 years. This didn't start around Trinity in 1945.

@OKftl This is not about the GOP. We're supposed to get a 180 Report thanks to Rubio, a prominent member of the GOP, who was told that the UAPTF & ONI believe we're dealing with UAP.

@BuddhaUap That's because the language of the DAA is weak. Doesn't give any repercussions for not handing over the UFO data. If Rubio and others (and then Biden) don't hold their feet to the fire, we're not gonna see much. Seeing Biden's reaction, I'm not hopeful in the short term.

I lean towards that theory, too. They may be more worried about the planet than they are about us. Michael (Look Up) used to say that all the time. I'm hoping there's at least one intelligence here that wants to help us and wake us up to the fact that we're not alone here.

I want to hear, "What did the DIA scientist see back in 2007 or so at Skinwalker Ranch that made him contact Harry Reid & push for a UFO/paranormal program called AAWSAP?"

And staying with the Gimbal, below is a quote from Lue from a few years ago.

https://twitter.com/JDaltorio/status/1399148993263726592

http://pbs.twimg.com/media/E2rPfS1VUAQ7OrD.png

“I think, when you hear the pilots talking, you’re talking about an object that is at 25,000 feet and it is orientating itself at a 90° angle, in 120 knot headwinds. Now, aircraft fly…they are a function of their design. An airplane flies in the atmosphere. It has a nose. It has a tail. It has an engine. And it has a definitive shape because it has to fly in the atmosphere. It has to have a leading edge. It has to have ailerons and all the things you would normally characterize and associate with an aircraft. In this particular case, you have something that has no exhaust, something that has no obvious wing surfaces And something that is orientating itself at a 90° angle without falling out of the sky! It doesn’t lose altitude! And in fact is still doing it moving in a forwarded direction…Now, what makes it even more interesting is when you hear the audio... The individual say there’s an entire fleet of them. I cannot go into detail why that’s important. I hope at some point the details of that will come out but it will not come out from me. It isn’t just one. And if you know the back story behind that incident - you’re just looking at a very short video maybe 30, 35 seconds worth - but there’s an entire story, weeks and weeks and weeks worth that go behind that video. And that is what’s so compelling. And if those details should come out, I think that’s gonna be the ‘A Ha’ moment, the epiphany, so to speak, where people are going to look and say, ‘Holy smokes! That really IS an important video! That’s not just some blurry thing on the screen.’”

4 Maybe if we c entire vid, it will be obvious these are not drones as we c one or many of them shoot off like a bat out of hell & make a 90 degree turn? We need pilots (2015) on the record who saw these objects making amazing maneuvers w/their own eyes & not just radar & FLIR.

3 The fleet reacting to the larger object (or vice versa) seems to bolster @Aviation_Intel's idea that it was a large drone acting as the brain to the smaller drones and flying together. I don't think (if I remember what Mellon said on JR) the F-18s were able to get a close look.

2 I agree we need 2C entire set of vids, radar & all other sensor data from the entire flight but w/current, limited data, the rotation (or non-rotation) is important. A HUGE deal was made of that rotation & if turns out it didn't rotate, that affects credibility of some folks.

One detail not covered in the @BryanDBender mega-article is how @ChristopherKMe4 gained access to AATIP. Great story as told by @LueElizondo.
http://pbs.twimg.com/media/E2fOEWfVIAAkd6I.png

(In a recent episode of the TTSA Talks podcast. Luis Elizondo explained how Christopher Mellon made his way into AATIP. ~Joe)

Luis Elizondo: I remember being at the Pentagon and someone saying, "Hey, a former very senior level DoD official is here to talk to you." And I remember you (Mellon) coming in and saying, "Hey listen. I would really would like to know (laughs) about this particular portfolio you guys are doing here called AATIP." And first of all, I was astonished that you even knew that we were a part of this effort. We weren't prepared to tell you anything. And, of course, I remember, very quickly, looking over my shoulder, kind of laughing at one of my guys there that's with me. And I looked at you and I said, "Okay, well if you want a briefing, that's fine, but you're gonna need these tickets." And it was long laundry list: A, B, C, D, E, F, G and so forth. And I remember you were diligently writing notes and you said, "Okay, no sweat." And I know from the inside, it takes over a year, sometimes, to even get nominated for some of these tickets. So as you left, I kind a looked back and snickered to my colleagues and said, "We'll never see him again, right? That problem is solved. We don't have to worry about that!" And I'll be damned if the very next week you came back to my office and they said, "Hey, he's out here again." And I said, "Well, what does he want? We can't let him in unless he's even got the tickets." And I remember one of my guys saying, "Mr. Elizondo, he's got the tickets." And I could not believe that within a week's time, you had somehow managed…and I verified and validated it. You did it! So, at that point, I realized, okay, this guy's for real and he's got the connections.

Melinda Leslie: Give me the questions, Dan. I'll run them by him (Semivan).

Daniel Sheehan: The first question to ask him is: "Is it true that you were the head of covert operations, stateside?"

Melinda Leslie: Yes.

Daniel Sheehan: Because that's a criminal offense and he ought to be in prison.

Melinda Leslie: I have every reason to believe the answer to that is yes.

Yes.

Read and listen to @JeremyCorbell and @g_knapp's reports about the 2019 incidents.

And as I've said repeatedly, I've heard the same thing: The videos and pics that made it into the classified briefings are there because they've been investigated and are considered UAP.

41 JC: Is there some type of public display of the 180 Report changing hands. DS reiterates that wording says the report isn't even mandated by law. He expects another 180 extension and they will hope the media fervor dies down and people will lose interest.

38: DS: Leaks will determine how much will come out.

JC: Why wasn't there a negative response from Pentagon on leaks? Is it bc images/videos don't show anything important? Not UAP? (This is psyop talk that Greenewald keeps bringing up & there's ZERO evidence for that).

If @KeithBasterfie1 is right & there are 5 videos of the Gimbal &, as we all assume, multiple radars tracked it, is it plausible that the folks (pilots) involved in reporting it and studying it (Lue/AATIP) were so clueless as to mistake it for a true UAP & not an advanced drone? https://twitter.com/SilvaRecord/status/1078559501790470145

Totally disagree in this case. Sheehan said when he gets information, he shares it. If we have craft (and bodies) that are not made by us, that could change the *ing world. That's why (IMO) he shared it w/Greer & Greer blurted it out. Lue is in a VERY difficult position.

Here, @MickWest says: "I suspect the (Gimbal) 'fleet' was something else, seen only on radar. Ryan Graves, @uncertainvector, described a separate v-shaped formation of smaller objects. Although I'm not sure how he knew they were smaller from the radar"

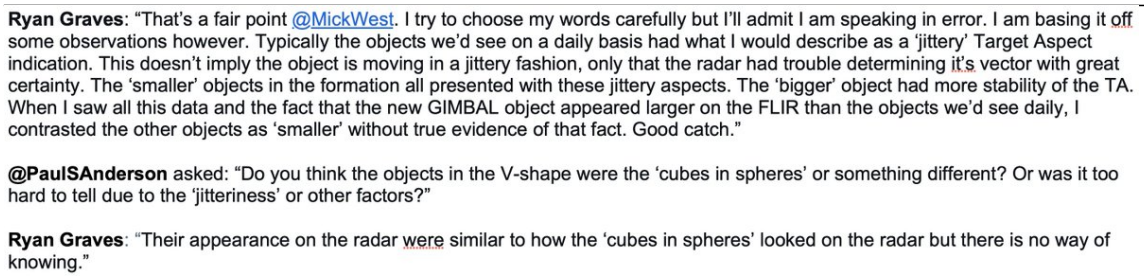
Ryan Graves responds. :backhand_index_pointing_down_medium-light_skin_tone:

http://pbs.twimg.com/media/E2A2yVFVoAAnBaA.jpg



Ryan Graves: "That's a fair point @MickWest. I try to choose my words carefully but I'll admit I am speaking in error. I am basing it off some observations however. Typically the objects we'd see on a daily basis had what I would describe as a 'jittery' Target Aspect indication. This doesn't imply the object is moving in a jittery fashion, only that the radar had trouble determining it's vector with great certainty. The 'smaller' objects in the formation all presented with these jittery aspects. The 'bigger' object had more stability of the TA. When I saw all this data and the fact that the new GIMBAL object appeared larger on the FLIR than the objects we'd see daily, I contrasted the other objects as 'smaller' without true evidence of that fact. Good catch."

@PaulSAnderson asked: "Do you think the objects in the V-shape were the 'cubes in spheres' or something different? Or was it too hard to tell due to the 'jitteriness' or other factors?"

Ryan Graves: "Their appearance on the radar were similar to how the 'cubes in spheres' looked on the radar but there is no way of knowing."

2 I'm not too shabby at interviewing. Started it back in 1997 with one of my first, if not THE first interview I did with @LeslieLinnie. I move onto Lyn Buchanan (RVing), Stanley McDaniel & Dr. James Strange (Cydonia), Linda Howe, Stanton and a few more, around that same time.

#ufo It's obvious folks respect & support interviews/content on YT more than a blog (w/transcripts & such) & tweets (mine are sometimes like mini-blogs & sometimes full transcripts).

Should I drop the blog, cut down on tweets by 90% & focus on YT content? Would help w/FT goal.

Ed Dames (Dr. Doom) used to run a 9-day, remote viewing course and charge $4500, back in the mid-90s. And no, that didn't include food or lodging. And Dames wasn't even a remote viewer in the Army program. He was a monitor bc his imagination got in the way of his Remote Viewing. https://twitter.com/MalCole1947/status/1395961796612169730

Tucker Carlson: “We keep hearing whispers that there is physical evidence of the existence of these objects that might tell us what they are. Do you believe that’s true.?

Luis Elizondo: “I do believe it’s true and I think that we should be looking at this and I think we should be more transparent with the American people. And the last thing we need to do is lie to the American people. I’ll tell you one thing, Tucker, from my perspective, that type of position, where you continue to lie to the American people and obfuscate is the reasons why people like me decide to run for Congress. And I can tell you, the last thing DoD wants right now is someone like me in Congress but that’s what happens when you’re not honest and open and fair with people. You get what you pay for. ”

Tucker Carlson: “I agree with that completely. Is there debris, do you believe, from any of these vehicles, whatever they are?”

Luis Elizondo: “Tucker, the United States government is in possession of exotic material and I’ll leave it at that. More analysis needs to be done. There’s enough uniqueness about it where it demands additional analysis, additional expertise and thankfully, there are pockets in the U.S. government that are wiling to have the conversation and conduct the analysis. I’m not gonna say those right now, what those elements are, because I’m worried, frankly, for the same type of reprisal that I’m facing, currently. But there are pockets of people that are willing to do the right thing and fortunately, these individuals are patriotic and willing to do the job.”

an incident off the coast of Patuxent River, Maryland. So it's actually Test Pilot School. He was on a testing range, executing a flight test, and he saw one of these things, you know? Right by his aircraft. Pretty darn close, too. He immediately knocked off the test and radio, and asked who else was working out there. And no one was. And they came back. He was the butt of a few jokes after describing what he saw. And this was after I had gone public, too, which was unfortunate to hear that some of the old timers are still poking fun. But he did end up getting a visit from some DoD officials to debrief on it. So, it seems like the reporting system is at least taking place. Whether it's effective or not, I don't know.

KR: Crazy. And did he explained to you what he actually saw.

RG: He said it looked very similar to what we had described. He said he couldn't make out the cube. It looked like there potentially was something inside. But it looked like kind of like a translucent sphere, like we were seeing as well.

Fravor in 2019...

“The one regret of the whole side from my point of view was that, because we never used the helmet cam on the joint helmet – because it was just nauseating to try and watch on a screen – I never had it on. Cause had I had it on, you had probably got tons of video of this thing flying around. And then the other side is is because nothing was done and a lot of the stuff is lost. Like we have the tapes. We have the radar tape and the FLIR tape. The FLIR tape is what you guys have seen but it’s been degraded so many times because it’s been copied. But on the high-res monitors it was pretty good. And then the radar tape actually showed, you know, the thing. As we hit it with the radar, it started to jam. Went to the jam extrapolate and the aspect vector started spinning around because it didn’t want to be locked up. And Chad saw that, you know, that’s what he had seen when he did it. And then, obviously the video. But all the radar tapes from the Princeton…there’s a bunch of stuff that’s missing that they can’t find.”

@Gurrlly007LIVE @EssentialBusin7 Going by memory...Fravor has always said tapes may not have been saved but has never said that they were confiscated. Especially not the Hawkeye bricks. @CrackSGA With physical mediumship, something is able to form a human body. And at end of seance, that body sinks into the floor and disappears. Just like some UFOs.

Kind of like the Keel theory where The Phenomenon can create craft & bodies. So, could be the same thing that's behind it.

Never said "they" were collecting data. And I don't know what "they" are. All options, including negative ones, should b on the table. The ET word was used repeatedly on ur roundtable last night when, in reality, we don't know what they r or their intent. Glad Sheehan said that.

Not gonna lie. When I think of East Coast events & Graves saying they saw UFOs EVERY DAY for a few years, immediate thought that comes to mind is an adversary soaking up data from us. One panelist said the same last night on Cameron livestream & received flack. I want more data!

Helene Cooper, Pentagon corespondent for the NYT, who co-wrote the 2017 article with Kean & Blumenthal, said (on @AriMelber) that she is open to the "other" option as far as what UFOs represent. That was said over the pyramid vid. So, did the Pentagon/Gough finally admit that this is a UAP or did 60 Mins get it wrong?

As I've said b4, behind the scenes, it's considered a UAP

6 More nonsense from Shostak and mention of the 180 Day Report. Not sure how many people watch this show any more and that may be a good thing. Too much screen time to Shostak. Loeb is limited in what he'll say on UFOs (he said nothing) so not a great fit for this segment.

An FYI. I just received a call from someone I know in the television industry to let me know that 60 Minutes is running a UFO/UAP story on May 16th during their broadcast. This person worked on the story and I was told that it was to have been a 20 min. segment but was cut back to approx. 12 minutes. When I asked why the shortened version, this person told me that he/she did not know. As an aside, the CBS Sunday morning show also is supposed to run a segment on the UFO/UAP topic. Well we will know very soon. I do not know what I expect, but 60 Minutes running a topic like this? Hell, I bet Phil Klass is pooping Marlboro ciggies!

JG makes a big deal about how Pentagon/Gough r responding so quickly now when asked about vids. And he retweeted the following video & said:

1 Greenewald makes argument that list of suspects who r leaking (F18 pics, pyramid/sphere vids, etc.) is very small & if Pentagon wanted to find out who it was, they could do so easily.

He is 100% wrong. Like I said, great @ FOIA but horrible @ analysis.

Side note: Soon as I moved from NY 2 LA in '06, I got a call 2 shoot Gene Simmons Family Jewels...in NY! I paid my way back to NY, worked, & then flew back 2 LA. But it was worth it bc I worked on GSFJ the next few years.

@CoremeDerwe As much as I don't like Rubio, I have to give him credit for realizing how important this subject is for us. And if his only reason is the use it to help him become POTUS, I honestly don't care. As long as we get the data out. Once 2024 comes around, I can vote for someone else.

TV worker bowled over

THOSE rambunctious Gotti boys are proving to be hazardous to the crew of their hit A&E reality show, "Growing Up Gotti," which follows the lives of mob boss John Gotti's daughter Victoria Gotti and her teenage sons Frank, Carmine and John.

Last Wednesday, at the Strike bowling alley in Mineola, Larry Velasquez, a friend of the gel-happy trio, sent an innocent camera operator to the hospital with an errant bowling ball.

Gotti pal Larry, who frequently appears on the show, is said to have tossed the heavy ball at the cameraman and cracked, "Catch!" just before it crushed his ankle. Insiders said that as the cameraman writhed on the ground in agony, the Gottis and their portly pal laughed and pointed. "It was disgusting," reports our witness.

But Victoria says it was the cameraman's own fault for stepping in front of a rolling ball. "The cameraman was looking for a special shot and he was running down the lanes as the balls were going," she told us.

Her assistant, Jennifer Abrahamson, who witnessed the accident, said, "It happened in slow motion. Several people yelled, 'Look out!' " Victoria said her boys were "traumatized" by the mishap.

The unidentified cameraman was treated at a local hospital for a severe bruise to his ankle. The incident incensed members of the close-knit reality TV community.

One reality-show veteran who's worked on several hit shows fumed, "This guy is a freelancer and he gets paid [only for] the days he works. Now he's out for a week. The worst part is that they not only refused to apologize, but they made fun of the guy."

"Growing Up Gotti" has made the notorious Gambino mob boss' three rowdy grandchildren instantly recognized, with their faces plastered on posters around the city.

The Gotti sons recently made the news when a video of jailed, ailing John Gotti aired that showed the tough-talking wiseguy sternly admonishing his grandchildren. Victoria has had to raise all three children virtually by herself, with her ex-husband Carmine Agnello in jail for racketeering and tax evasion until 2008.

When I say - I suspect we may have cracked gravity, itâ□□s not based solely on publicly available knowledge. Iâ□□ve addressed it w/Davis & heâ□□s adamant we have NOT done that. But at least one credible person expressed a different opinion 2 me, privately. Does u no good. Just an FYI.

I'm assume Lue has never been read into any of those UFO-related USAPs. Someone can ask.

Have u ever been read into any other UFO-related programs? If not, have u received info. from people (in those programs) u deemed credible, that was related 2 UFOs? Such as: Who's inside?

People sill doubt the validity of Wilson/Davis but many of us have believed (without doubt) that it's an accurate portrayal (of what happened on that day in 2002) & that's without any of the three involved saying it's legit & one (Wilson) saying it's not.

Back when Carter had his UFO sighting in 1969, he received a telepathic message that most people do NOT know about.

The message:

"In 52 years, u will be visited by two giants. Stay calm, listen to their pleas, & then...at the first opportunity, get the hell out of there!":alien::grinning_face:

So...@SenatorReid tried to get AAWSAP/AATIP "upgraded" to SAP status so they wouldn't have to battle for funding. DENIED!

But the other reason was to get access to the good stuff. Like, the REALLY good stuff. And AAWSAP/AATIP/Reid weren't the only ones who were denied access.

Humor us for a moment.

What follows is necessarily speculative. Although the data we present is genuine and fully supported by documents and by other primary source material as noted in the text, we are not suggesting that the conclusions we reach somehow reflect the "Truth," but rather serve as a platform for further study and research.

The study of genetics and heredity is usually associated with the nineteenth-century scientist Gregor Mendel, a Catholic monk, who experimented with creating hybrid pea plants. As we saw in Book One, however, even Biblical authors were aware of the possibilities of creating hybrids between human beings and "angels." The Biblical account gives us an extra dimension to that scenario, however.

There was not only a new "being" created out of the mixed parentage of human and angel —in this case—but the certainty of conflict and struggle for survival. The episode of the "sons of God and daughters of men" in Genesis 6 is the immediate prologue to the story of Noah and his famous Ark: a means of preserving the genetic equivalent of every desirable plant and animal on the planet in order to repopulate the earth after the Deluge, a catastrophic event that would at more closely, we can see that some races and ethnicities are carriers of genes specific to certain illnesses, such as sickle cell anemia among African-Americans and Tay-Sachs disease among Jews. What if there was another gene or genes that have no particular function or pose no discernible threat as far as we are concerned—perhaps hidden within our so-called "junk DNA"—but that would be considered dangerous to an alien race? In other words, what if the human race (or a certain ethnicity) was evolving "alien antibodies" that would render us invulnerable to an alien hybridization program, or whatever else the Others had in mind? What if we were developing intellectual or physical powers that would enable greater awareness of their presence, or provide us with some greater degree of protection against their intentions?

What if, knowing this, the Others have taken measures to ensure that these objectionable genes are not passed on or otherwise subject to even greater evolution or specialization? What if the polarization taking place between the races on Earth is part of this program and we are just playing along, oblivious to what is really happening?

In fact, what if the genetic code itself was an invention of these same Others?

Sounds outrageous, doesn't it? Pseudoscience and fringe conspiracy theory.

life on our planet but, astonishingly, left a calling card behind.

One of our informants suggested that we look more closely at the role that genetics plays in the narratives associated with the Phenomenon. He suggested that we entertain the possibility that acts of genocide in human history had an ulterior function, if not an ulterior motive. In other words, there were some human genetic characteristics that have evolved over time that were less amenable to the much-rumored "alien hybrid" scenarios that contactees have reported with consistency over the past few decades. We were asked to consider that some ethnicities might be carriers of specific genes that were resistant to "alien" manipulation and that genocide was an alien-inspired or alien-directed program to weed out any potential problems: obstacles to alien control lurking in the human gene pool as it had evolved on our planet. Conversely, what if some of the genetic mutations that were "weeded out" of the human genome due to natural selection—i.e., in order to survive on Earth—may be necessary to enable us to live off-planet?

At first this sounds like warmed-over eugenics: the type of "race science" that justified the worst excesses of the Nazi regime. (Perhaps it is not for nothing that some contactees report the existence of so-called "Nordics"?) Looked

Miller: No. Through a former NSA contact of mine, I had the chance to meet with a high-level, retired, National Security Agency, senior civilian. And this gentleman, we talked about the subject of UFOs and, again, whether any government agency either had information on the subject or had interest in. And he revealed one tidbit of information I found very interesting. He said within NSA, there was a document known only as “the document” and it was on the subject of UFOs and extraterrestrial intelligence. And it was so highly classified that only the Director himself and perhaps one or two other people were actually able to view it. It’s existence was widely known, but again, very, very close hold information.

2 how fast the Tic Tac was moving when it took off. Fravor and the others say it took off like a bullet. Is West trying to say they just lost it in the haze and Tic Tac really wasn't going that fast? If this doc is accurate, I'd say they lost it in haze...in the distance.

Do we need to take a second look at the contactees? @channel_clear, what do you know about Smith?

https://www.amazon.com/gp/product/1938398033/ref=as_li_tl?ie=UTF8&camp=1789&creative=9325&creativeASIN=1938398033&linkCode=as2&tag=ufojoe-20&linkId=11ef1cee9fdf8466c8bc147cbad891a3 https://twitter.com/jratcliff/status/1386730943914942464

There are other examples of sensible researchers who tried to penetrate the thunder of the UFO enthusiasts and reach the lightning. In 1954, Wilbert B. Smith, superintendent of Radio Regulations Engineering, Department of Transport, Ottawa, Canada, became the head of a semiofficial Canadian UFO study dubbed Project Magnet. Smith had fine credentials, and the UFO enthusiasts were thrilled with the announcement. But as the years passed, Smith began to realize that the quickest way to the source of the problem was through a study of the contactees. In some cases the UFO "entities" had actually passed on scientific information that Smith was able to check and confirm in his laboratory. Toward the end of his life (he died of cancer on December 27, 1962), he gave lectures and wrote papers about what he had learned.

"I began for the first time in my life to realize the basic oneness of the universe-science, philosophy, and all that is in it," he remarked in 1958. "Substance and energy are all facets of the same jewel, and before any one facet can be appreciated, the form of the jewel itself must be perceived."

As usual, the extraterrestrial believers thought their scientist had gone crackers. They didn't want to hear about philosophy and energy. They wanted to discuss Venusians and the Air Force plot to hide the truth. It is unfortunate that a large part of Smith's papers and findings are still unpublished and undiscussed.

6 Most compelling part...UFO sighting happened simultaneously with drone malfunction and other electromagnetic anomalies that occurred.

Knapp: One of the last times I visited SWR, a drone dive-bombed and hit me in the face.

5 Before and after object came out of clouds, there was no record of where it came from or where it went (on video/instruments). At night, they captured (in Homestead 2) what appeared to look like a flame coming out of the floorboards. Happened on camera for KSL.

4 Warning was "Extreme EM interference detected." At same time, lots of the Skinwalker sensors (trifield meters - had elevated RF & radio frequencies - encompassed the ranch for minutes. Also, saw a dark object pass from one cloud to another at exact moment drone died.

3 Phenomenon is transient. EM anomalies are unpredictable. Had an @KSLcom crew in for the day from SLC & BF told them not to expect anything 2 happen. Sure enough, the ir drone fell out of the sky & gave a warning message the drone operator had never seen after years of drone op.

2 Fugal went in as a skeptic. Within days, he put his own security on site & felt there was a 95% chance there was a natural/prosaic explanation behind the odd stories. 6 months into his ownership, his skepticism melted away as he & others had a world-view, changing UFO sighting.

🙏🙏 Thank you! This development is the most infuriating thing ever, they are running with a story that anyone with half a brain cell can see is NOT anything but a camera effect / bokeh. Most of the UFO community need a reality check, this is not going to make it easier for any of us moving forward. So sad. 😠

@dave_beaty It came across as more than an opinion.

I'll trust my source who says the same exact thing as Corbell and Knapp: ONI and UAP considered these unknowns. I don't think deck logs are going to say UAP or UFOs. But we still need more to start piecing this together. Early stages.

@dave_beaty What's ur point to revisit? You were specific. Helicopter, plane or drone. It's out of focus. Cool. I'll wait for more data. As has been said many times, the UAPTF & ONI are using that to brief on UAP. These people aren't idiots so there's a reason they included it in briefings

Another year has come around again...yes, it was 48 years ago when John and I saw a UFO from our balcony where we lived. The UFO came over the top of the spire of the next building without a sound. You can see the lights on it, it was bright and close enough to see the details of the whole object. Yes, on Aug. 23rd 1974 at 9pm, a quiet Friday summer evening, John and I saw a UFO.

Davis met & interviewed Wilson in 2002. That was one day in his decades-long mission to collect info. on, & track down, the CR program. Those efforts go back to NIDS era & continued for over 2 decades. There's a reason why he briefed staffers on Capitol Hill a few years ago. #ufo https://twitter.com/PostDisclosure/status/1561775163594739713

9 Lue, if you want the government to do something (it's their job to carry out the will of the people), you need to get off the couch and contact your reps. @LuAngeles says you can stay on the couch and contact them via your phone as you lay on your back. :smiling_face_with_sunglasses:

IMO...

Watch all of Greer's films but have salt handy. There's some really good/valuable information within and some of it deals with the history of UFOs. Also, some of it deals with consciousness, which, IMO (and the opinion of many others), is 100% linked to the phenomenon.

@CuthelIain @dave_beaty @JeremyCorbell @g_knapp Just know that the "unknown" determination doesn't come easily to the folks working on this behind the scenes. They do their due diligence. That's not the go to answer. If they believe it's prosaic (human tech), they won't label it a UAP.

Why did so many Tic Tac witnesses seek out @dave_beaty, who, at the time, was "just" a videographer/editor/producer, instead of going to a journalist with the NYT? Dave put out the word & witnesses started contacting him. Same happened with @JeremyCorbell. Not hard to understand. https://twitter.com/OSIRIS_UAP/status/1384223970803666961

Tom DeLonge: The pandemic offered us an opportunity, like so many other businesses, to realize the efficiency of working virtually, and the potential cost-savings of decreasing the rent expense used on office space. This also gave us a new perspective on where our flagship store may be better located for growth and marketability. We are currently looking to move into a more optimal retail location in the heart of downtown Encinitas that has high foot traffic and greater square footage that allows for increased capacity for customers as well as product selection. People travel from all over the world to visit our store and we are excited and eager to expand the scope of our brand and create an improved experience for our customers.

IMO (which I think is obvious)...In the end, secrecy surrounding the #UFO subject is going to blow away the secrets surrounding what went on in Vietnam & fallout from the publishing of the Pentagon Papers (Vietnam Task Force) by the NYT in 1971. UFO truth will affect every human.

@zcichy @junglist1973 I think Mick damages our cause of educating people on the anomalous nature of publicly available data. And that includes eyewitness testimony over the past (almost) 80 years. If he's telling people there's no evidence that anything anomalous is going on, it's misinforming people.

Thank you everyone for participating and offering suggestions on the vid. I do think @mickwest has made a valiant effort and posed a legitimate theory worth exploring if the truth is what we're really after. I'm reserving my opinion on the recreation until I have more of a chance to replicate it myself. So far I haven't been able to, so I need more time. However, IF this is bokeh, my next 2 questions we may not be able to answer due to lack of access to the witnesses: 1) Did Navy personnel observe the pyramid shaped "drones" with the unaided eye or was it only through the night vision that they described them as "pyramids" or "triangular"? 2) Are these objects from the same logged events where they were tracked at 700ft and sustained flight for between 90 minutes to 3 hours? They attempted to find possible vessels from where they would have launched, but were unsuccessful. If all this is accurate, it by no means signifies that this is "other worldly", but it identifies a SIGNIFICANT security concern. The technology is not conventional (known commercial) and if adversarial military then it's been stated that we still don't know 1) Who are they? 2) Where are they coming from? 3) What is their motive? 4) How are they so easily making incursions on our airspace and then leaving without the ability to be tracked? Similar to the midwest swarms last summer. Houston...we have a problem.

I do think @mickwest has made a valiant effort and posed a legitimate theory worth exploring if the truth is what we're really after. I'm reserving my opinion on the recreation until I have more of a chance to replicate it myself. So far I haven't been able to, so I need more time. However, IF this is bokeh, my next 2 questions we may not be able to answer due to lack of access to the witnesses: 1) Did Navy personnel observe the pyramid shaped "drones" with the unaided eye or was it only through the night vision that they described them as "pyramids" or "triangular"? 2) Are these objects from the same logged events where they were tracked at 700ft and sustained flight for between 90 minutes to 3 hours? They attempted to find possible vessels from where they would have launched, but were unsuccessful. If all this is accurate, it by no means signifies that this is "other worldly", but it identifies a SIGNIFICANT security concern. The technology is not conventional (known commercial) and if adversarial military then it's been stated that we still don't know 1) Who are they? 2) Where are they coming from? 3) What is their motive? 4) How are they so easily making incursions on our airspace and then leaving without the ability to be tracked? Similar to the midwest swarms last summer. Houston...we have a problem.

Don't disagree. But if folks look into some of the things Mick has said in the past, they'd see that listening to him comes with a huge caution flag due to his ignorance of UFOlogy and/or misinformation like he spread on Rogan. Some of the folks suggesting disinfo. would be embarrassed if we pulled up some of their previous takes when Tac Tac story broke.

There were folks who were saying stuff like, "TTSA refuses to mention UFOs anywhere. The UFO story may just be a front 4 something else."

Insanity. https://twitter.com/wookiepastimes/status/1382440736625410053

@murnut I can't rule it out 100% but IMO, & from what I've heard, that's not what's happening. Remember, there was similar reaction when @PacoChierici, @JeremyCorbell & @g_knapp broke Tic Tac story & latter two broke the AAWSAP story. Reporting was accurate but people screamed disinfo!

Can't compare them. W/Tic Tac, retired Navy folk were able 2 speak out. We need folks who leaked 2 Corbell/Knapp 2 retire or get permission 2 speak up. 180 Day Report won't say (like PBB) UAP aren't a threat 2 national security as we already have folks like Rubio saying otherwise https://twitter.com/socalkoi1/status/1382349653371351045

@ChrisBartelSWR @SK1LLLS @SkinwalkerRyan Hopefully, we get to hear from James Lacatski one day. If he can be as open as Lue has been about AATIP, we will learn a lot about AAWSAP.

@ChrisBartelSWR @SK1LLLS @SkinwalkerRyan I've heard that there's a TON of work/investigating AAWSAP did (not necessarily on the ranch) that we haven't heard about, yet. Hope we get access to whatever data they collected but I don't see that happening any time soon.

@Heracli19402827 Of course. But remember how long Knapp has been at this (1987) and then imagine how many sources he must have. And remember who he keep close company with.

I hope the triangle coming out of the water photo and/or video exists.

Just think: We have all AAWSAP/AATIP data, PLUS, the historical data, & IMO, at least one intact craft.

The older data, besides films & photos, may feature comments from some big names in our gov't about the reality of this phenomenon.

@socalkoi1 @LueElizondo @ChristopherKMe4 Not sure it would take that long. But I'm only throwing out one possibility. IF we have some amazing tech, it doesn't have to be in the "let fly it and see what it does" phase if it's being seen. Testing could have been completed a long time ago.

Doesn't change my argument bc I wasn't saying all UFOs are black budget. But some might be & some may get a kick taunting pilots w/antiquated (when compared to other tech we see flying around) propulsion.

My main point is they wouldn't be testing if they'd had it for a while

As far as other UFO programs? We've heard that from @g_knapp, @JeremyCorbell & Bernard Haisch

But in terms of, generally, thinking that we're gonna get from here to there in our lifetime or maybe even within a century, right now we don't see a path for it. So either, it's as hard as the equations would now predict – and therefore, warp drive probably isn't gonna happen for a century or maybe more – or, there's some back door to the Alamo, so to speak, that we can do an end around run and find some lower-energy way of generating things like warp drive and wormholes and so on, that we just haven't discovered, yet. So, of course, that's a big issue behind government and aerospace corporation programs, is to try to figure out how these things work and see if there is some unknown shortcut that we could take. So at this point, all I can say, for sure, is…it's gonna be a century or more. And if it pops up to be usable within our lifetimes, that's because somebody has really found a magic key to the lock. So, at this point, we don't see where it will come from.

Mr. Davis said he also gave classified briefings on retrievals of unexplained objects to staff members of the Senate Armed Services Committee on Oct. 21, 2019, and to staff members of the Senate Intelligence Committee two days later.

Anomalous Effects of Consciousness

The best way to describe the anomalous effects we see in the data is as a correlation that comes to exist between the devices spread around the world — just during major events, defined in terms of the widespread attention and emotion the produce. That is, there are departures from expectation when human consciousness is powerfully engaged. The devices are designed to be independent, and they are separated by hundreds or thousands of kilometers, and yet we see the correlations — that is anomalous, and it is linked with consciousness. The implication is that we are not isolated from each other as seems to be the case, but linked in a subtle, unconscious and inaccessible way. Learning more about that, and tapping into the potential of our interconnection is the next phase of human development. We are at the beginning, and ready to move forward.

@jeff5647a @JeremyUnidenti1 @paulsanderson @SicCoP1 Apples & oranges. People aren't digging in their heels & doing their best to keep the highway from being constructed. I think the DNI can do it in less than 180 days if all agencies were cooperating & willing to share all that they have. But unsurprisingly, that's not happening.

@SicCoP1 @TheUFOTrail @markoconnell_1 Oh, I'm sure it wasn't Mark's mistake but that was only one issue w/that episode. But to talk about disinfo. from Ratcliffe when the show ur on is misinforming the audience (see my other Day tweert) is a little hard to take. And we all know Ratcliffe isn't only one saying this.

Also on Day:

"Since leaving the Navy, he's been warned not 2 discuss what he saw. But he's agreed to meet w/Ben, no matter the risk."

Sensationalistic bs. He's given tons of interviews & a few lectures. Never heard him say he was warned. Met him @ UFO MegaCon in 2019. Good guy.

It doesn't matter in the short run. If this progresses like we hope & it's still just Fox, that's a problem. But CNN, MSNBC, NYT, WaPo, Politico have all covered UFOs before, mostly starting in 2017. I'm confident they'll be back again soon, in force. Patience! We all need some.

Not a fan of the metal sphere story but let's see what the sample shows. IMO, this vid should not have been inlcuded. Sorry. Unless I'm missing something? #ufo @mattjdavidson @LyndaRVA_UAP @19Nimbus @htyson12 @AnjaliOnGaia @_Desmoden I think two have. Raven Dana and the Strieber's secretary, Lorie Barnes. Although Barnes had her encounter at her NYC apartment and it was in the 1950s. More may have gone on the record about their experiences at his cabin but I'm not aware of any names right now.

@lucio_linae Plus, we have others saying there are alien bases in mountains around the world. Pat Price's RVing work, so not confirmed. But Puthoff's story KIND of confirms UFO activity near one of the alleged bases. And I know someone who beleves Price was right. Who knows? Not me.

And I spoke to her at length, over the phone. She sent me a copy of her passport and her DD214, which is a standard form that you get when you leave active-duty military service. I sent her mine as well, so she knew who I was. And then we exchanged LinkedIn accounts and we were able to sniff each other's butts, like dogs do, you know? And we got to know that we were both exactly who we say we are. She went even further and provided me some contacts from her former chain of command. And since then, I've spoken to multiple of her former hires in her chains of command from when she was in as an active, intelligence officer. So a civilian contractor. I confirmed that she has briefed to the Office of the President and the Joint Chiefs of Staff at the Pentagon. That's all been confirmed by contacting her former chain of command. I also did some background stuff with some friends of mine that are still in the reserves and the intelligence community and they also verified all this.

@lucio_linae @Julesofthwood She never said aliens are going to wipe out humanity.

However, if there is some negativity felt between some ETs and humans, she's far from the first to suggest that.

@zcichy @AFSUnidentified @PostDisclosure So Underwood was wrong when he explained that sequence (in detail) to Corbell?

Pilots can be wrong but we have yet to hear from Gimbal pilots so they can give details about why they felt it was rotating. But we HAVE heard from Underwood and he went over that specific point.

2 I reached out to a retired F/A-18 (Marines) fighter pilot I know from my past TV work but he wouldnâ□□t respond, at all. Probably thought, â□□UFOs? Hell no!â□□

But I kept it strictly to the rotation and how the ATFLIR works. Didnâ□□t matter.

One says Mick is 100% right & the other says he's wrong bc the ATFLIR can't rotate that far, according to the specs. Many of us have seen the vid u posted (by Dave) & it doesn't end the debate, at all, IMO.

The way to end this? Release full vid.

Stevenson arrived on the scene after the two families met; any new statements the girl made about the woman's life would be tainted, because Stevenson would have no way of proving that the information didn't come from the woman's family. His recourse in such cases is to concentrate on obtaining firsthand testimony about what the child said before the first meeting, and how he or she behaved during it. The dead woman's relatives gave it, but grudgingly -- they had been rocked by Suzanne's claims. That reluctance made their testimony all the more valuable, in Stevenson's view.

Suzanne's case is appealing in part because of its American connections: The woman died in Virginia, some of her children live in this country, almost everyone involved speaks English. But the fact remains that Suzanne was born in the hills descending into south Beirut, not in Rockville or Woodbridge. Until someone else with memories of such detail and apparent veracity is documented in the United States, the relative weakness of American cases will inevitably suggest that the more persuasive foreign ones are somehow artifacts of a cultural belief in reincarnation.

Still, this view leaves several questions unanswered. Why, for example, do the American cases exist at all? Why are they identical, in form at least -- the age of a child when the first statements are made, the type of statements and accompanying behavior -- to the foreign ones?

http://pbs.twimg.com/media/EwAByqBVkAExn-V.png

This was Suzanne, a middle-class Druze girl living in Beirut who believed that she remembered the life of a woman who had died undergoing heart surgery in Richmond, Va. Her parents told Stevenson her story: When she was 16 months old, she pulled the phone off the hook and said, "Hello, Leila?" into it over and over. Soon Suzanne claimed that she was Leila's mother. By the time she was 2, Suzanne had mentioned the names of this woman's other children, her husband, and her parents and her brothers -- 13 people in all. At 3, she had recited portions of a funeral oration for the woman's brother. Ultimately, Suzanne begged her parents to take her to her "real" home, and they made inquiries in the Lebanese town the girl insisted she was from. There they found a family who fit the particulars Suzanne had mentioned.

And there they learned that minutes before undergoing her heart surgery, the woman in question had tried desperately to call her daughter Leila.

This family, including a sister of Leila's, confirmed much of what Suzanne had been saying: names, places, the funeral oration. Suzanne identified members of the dead woman's family from photographs. Though she was a child, she treated the dead woman's grown children as a mother would. She asked if their uncles, when they returned to Lebanon, had distributed "her" jewels to Leila and her sisters -- which had been a deathbed request known only to the family.

1 Is @blackvaultcom still skeptical about Lue & AAWSAP studying UFOs? Or, as he accused me of doing, did I take him out of context & he was really only skeptical of materials making it out to AAWSAP/public sector? 1/ sigh - Why do people just want to create drama between Mr. Elizondo and I?

Give actual CONTEXT to why I said this. The context was AAWSAP (which Mr. Elizondo CLEARLY stated to me he played near no role in nor does he like talking about it) and I was referring to

🇺🇸 The/Black/Vault 🇺🇸 @bla... · 8m

2/ UAP material being put in the private sector. There is zero documented evidence that AAWSAP, in my context, has that evidence. Sorry, it's just not there. And before you say it, there isn't with AATIP, either. However, Mr. Elizondo knows my skepticism and desire for

🇺🇸 The/Black/Vault 🇺🇸 @bla... · 7m

3/ documentation. That's not everyone's; that's my own. I feel strongly I am still entitled to an approach that works for me; but never have I claimed my approach should be everyone's.

🇺🇸 The Black Vault 🇺🇸 @bla... · 6m

4/ Although I don't speak for Mr. Elizondo, I will say this about intelligence in relation to the US government and military. The more intelligence and evidence you have on a situation, the better. HUMINT is not the end-all, be-all. So if people crucify me for digging; so be it.

5/ I will end with this. Numerous people in this thread have a knack for taking me out of context, and trying to create little wars between people. I can say comfortably, no one cares for that drama. Accurately quote, or don't quote at all.

Trenton Jordan noted that he was losing his skepticism regarding UFOs. The cause? Freshly released video footage from shuttle missions, in which unexplained objects were flitting about outside the windows. He was aware of space debris and other possible explanations, but he grew convinced that NASA must be withholding information about aliens that the public deserves to know. He wrote to me in July 2008, in search of arguments that might quell his skepticism.

Dear Mr. Jordan, Thanks for your kind words about my life's work. They are warmly received. Regarding your evaporating skepticism of visiting aliens: When you see shapes or lights that fly through the air or through space, and you do not know what they are, they become a UFO— emphasis on the "U." Such sightings split into four broad categories:

1. The observer is crazy or otherwise delusional.

2. The observer sees and reports inaccurately, confounding an account that would be a simple description of natural phenomena.

3. The observer sees and reports accurately, but is insufficiently familiar with natural phenomena to be mystified by what he or she sees.

4. The observer sees and reports accurately something that defies any normal or conventional explanation—constituting a genuine mystery.

Note that eyewitness testimony is, by far, the weakest form of evidence that a person can present in support of a claim. In spite of its high value in the court of law, in the "court" of science, eyewitness testimony is essentially useless. Psychologists have known for quite some time how ineffective the human senses are as data taking devices.

Note that the pedigree of the observer is irrelevant here—as long as he or she is human, the fallibility of observation is manifest. Note further that claims of a "cover-up" or "conspiracy" is the battle cry of people who want to believe, in the face of insufficient data to fully support their claims.

Another well-known shortcoming of the human mind is what psychologists and philosophers call "argument from ignorance." The NASA cases you describe come closest to category (4) above, since we have video of strange phenomena—video that we take to be generally reliable, reminding us again of what the "U" in UFO stands for. Once you confess to not knowing what you are looking at, no logical line of reasoning allows you to then declare that you know what you are looking at. And that includes assertions that the flying shapes "must be" intelligent, technologically advanced aliens from distant planets secretly observing the behavior of Earthlings. You simply bear insufficient evidence to make that jump, however tempting it may be.

http://pbs.twimg.com/media/Ev5mE3fVgAEoW_d.jpg

A similar argument from ignorance comes from the Big Bang. When I am asked what was around before the Big Bang, I say, “We do not yet know.” Often the reply is, “It must be something—it was surely God.” To go from “We don’t know” to “It must be God” is another example of an argument from ignorance. This kind of disconnect has no place in rational investigations, yet it perennially permeates the thoughts and statements of people who already know what they want to believe.

So if the flying mysteries actually turn out to be intelligent aliens, it will not have been demonstrated by any observation yet brought forth. What’s required to draw the conclusions you seek is much better evidence of the kind that would survive the “court” of science: Aliens visiting multiple media centers, for example, demonstrating their technology on national television; joining the President and First Lady for a state dinner or high tea in the Rose Garden; allowing themselves to be CAT scanned at the Johns Hopkins Medical Center so that we can learn about their physiology; submitting some of their communication devices or other hardware to our most respected research laboratories. The day real evidence comes forth, you will not need congressional hearings parading high-ranking eyewitnesses on the subject.

Until any of that happens, UFO sightings of category (4) are simply intriguing unidentified lights and shapes in the sky— perhaps worthy of further study like any mystery in science—but without conspiracy theorists invoking cover-ups to bridge all gaps in the data, convincing themselves of what they are already sure is true.

Should NASA direct funds to study these mysterious reflective objects visible from the window of spacecraft? Would be nice one day to have a radar device that constantly monitors and photographs anything of any size that approaches the craft. But there’s so much happening outside the window of a spaceship— dislodged tools, loose paint chips, particulate fuel exhaust floating by. Not to mention rapid, ever-changing lighting conditions.

In summary, if you want public money to investigate UFOs for the possibility that they may be alien visitations, then you need much, much better evidence to justify the cause.

Thanks for your interest.

1 Don't know what The Hat Man is or isn't. In this vid, the only explanation given is sleep paralysis. @corinnepurtill concludes: "In truth, there is no stranger lurking in the corners of our rooms at night. The Hat Man is only in our minds."

In truth, none of us know the truth.

@StarMan92062292 That's an old theory that goes way back. To those open minded enough to examine reincarnation, it's what we've been taught. I'm skeptical about that being the truth but right now, there's no way to know for sure, either way.

Well, if the Princeton egg (RNGs) experiments are legitimate, they suggest that a large number of humans focusing on the same thing can affect the physical world. What if a few billion humans focus on "them" and breaking whatever control they may have over us? Can we do it?

@StarMan92062292 Maybe someone needs us 2 keep reincarnating to this planet 4 their own, selfish purposes? I've speculated about this b4 & there's probably no way to ever figure it out. RVing from Farsight says we're being trapped here. But that can't be validated so who knows if that's right?

@StarMan92062292 Well, you're talking (ridiculous, IMO) man-made rules vs. what appears to be a reality in reincarnation. If reincarnation IS a reality, the purpose is unknown. I know what we're been taught by mystics (learn lessons, become a better person) but I'm skeptical of that reason.

@michaelgarfield @stuartdavis the previous life, giving us a clean slate would seem to make sense. So, speculatively speaking, the system should b tweaked, IF the stated goal is legit. @PostJawn @LyndaRVA_UAP I answered ur original question in a retweet. U see it?

Evidence is overwhelming these kids have knowledge they had no way of knowing w/o anomalous cognition. Also, SOME of the disabilities & birthmarks can be traced to death wounds of previous personality. Reincarnation? Maybe.

The guy who made it happen is Harry Reid. Now I have heard Tweet-fologists…Twit-fologists, pardon me…say, “Well, Harry Reid doesn’t strike me as somebody who’s interested in UFOs.” Oh, you know Harry Reid, do ya? You talk to Harry Reid a lot? And you know what he’s interested in and UFOs is not on the list? Well that’s baloney. I’ll just tell you a little side story. Back when I first met Bob Lazar. This is 1989. The first person, outside of our newsroom, that I told about it was Harry Reid. And I remember, we were in a limousine. He was on his way to McCarran Airport to fly back to Washington and I told him this story. Senator, I know you are on the appropriations committee. You’re involved with funding of Nellis and Area 51 and you’re interested in national security issues. This is a heck of a story here and I wanna tell you about it. “Hmm,” he said. “I’m interested in that. I’ll check into it.”

If I'm remembering correctly...

@foiaboi is only one who questioned this.

I blew it off back then but as the months went by, I also wondered why John Petersen would say this to HP. Very odd. JP was also a member of NIDS so he & Hal go way back.

Source: http://www.ufojoe.net/hal-puthoff-transcript-transiitontalks-qa
http://pbs.twimg.com/media/EvwnBexVIAEWQwp.jpg

John Peterson: I have one more final question for you. The last time I heard your name on the Internet, Steven Greer was pitching his movie that's coming out and he said that you had told him that there were some anti-gravity or…

HP: Anti-energy.

Q: Anti-energy devices or something, and he had asked you why you didn't make them public. And you said that they would murder your kids and your wife and probably you, if you said. Why did you say that (JP laughs as Puthoff smiles)?

HP: I didn't say that (audience laughter). I didn't say that! Most of…I mean, it really ruins my appreciation for the media in general, because most times when I find something in there about me, it's not true. So, I'm wondering, is that the case with everything I'm reading here? Anyway, no, I did not tell Steve Greer that if anything were released, if I were to release anything, I and my family would be murdered. Never said it. Never even thought it. So, there you go.

Petersen: Thanks for clearing that up (both smiling and laughing).

TY, Dean.

If true..

What kind of system is set up on this planet 2 where we're "punished" 4 something that happened in a previous life? It's not as if it's karma bc most of these folks didn't do anything wrong in the past life. Why do only some remember? Is it like abductions?

2 I think we have overwhelming evidence there's more to life and humans than just the physical. Psi (psychic functioning) has been proven, IMO. Life after death has not. But the evidence sure points in that direction. Some researchers (Gary Schwartz) are trying new experiments.

Have you listened to his interview w/Knapp? The two-hour one. I don't know if he "knows" more than we do about if there's an afterlife but he certainly knows more than most humans as far as what evidence exists that suggests our consciousness survives physical death.

1 Both @ddeanjohnson & @PaulJamesDean have done some wonderful work for our field. DJ's work on the SSCI & 180-day report was invaluable & PD's work is some of the most in depth you'll find. But when it comes to the 1961 SNIE MJ-12 (UFO crashes) doc, they're both woefully wrong. http://pbs.twimg.com/media/EvfsaDTUYAAILmx.jpg

I believe it to be a legitimate document because of the following:

An independent source with the appropriate security clearances and need-to-know access had authenticated and validated the Nov. 1961 SNIE with several SIS-level authorities at the U.S. government agency that owns it, so this document is not any hoax or forgery.

(SIS = Senior Intelligence Service ~Joe)

And the same source added this little tidbit: The author of this SNIE report has a documented history of leaving various, uncorrected typos in their final reports. What?! That piece of information might just be my favorite part of this entire story!!! That tells you just how thorough this source (and others like him/her) are with this material. They need to make sure before they put their reputation behind it. And I realize it's an anonymous source but I know who they are and I have no doubt this document is legitimate. The one source who first brought up the typos never mentioned that possibility. I was going to search for other, similar reports with typos but I trust this source so I'll take their word for it. Others can take a look. On a related note, when Luis Elizondo's resignation letter leaked, folks pointed to a few typos and started claiming it was fake. It wasn't.

"I happened to like [Richard Doty] as an individual, actually. Heâ□□s a nice guy." ~Hal Puthoff

HP: This is a question about…Richard Doty has stated on the internet – a very controversial figure as many of you would know – and he stated that he had worked for us for, I guess, over a decade or whatever. That was a period in which we were really investigating all kinds of aspects of the phenomena that I talked about today. And so we had all kinds of consultants. And Richard Doty was one of them. And so, he gathered up information that he could gather up and thought we'd be interested in. But he was like, one of many. And so, even though he's a very controversial figure out there, we're not sure if the data he provided…what was the percentage that we could really count on. But hey, we didn't want to leave any stone unturned, anything that might be hiding under a rock.

http://pbs.twimg.com/media/EvL3G4hVgAIM8cN.png

So we had several people, and he was one, who consulted with us. And he told us about various sightings and certain aspects of government programs and so on. So, what he says is true and it would be too long to try to go into the data he provided us with. Some if it we evaluated and could verify and some of it we couldn't verify. Some of it we were pretty sure it might not exactly be the case. But he was a counter-intelligence officer, so that would be okay. because that would be his job (audience laughs). So anyway, we interacted with all levels of people, in and out of the government. So, it's not surprising that, you know, if we were doing all of this and trying to find out everything we could find out, why would we leave out of our tool kit, somebody who's making these big claims and was clearly part of a program? So yeah, we worked with him. I happened to like him as an individual, actually. He's a nice guy.

Elizondo: I don't know Mr. Doty so I'm not gonna comment. He's not relative to the discussion that my colleagues and I have. I respect people's opinions. Hopefully they respect mine. But I can't comment about somebody that I've never met. And I deliberately choose not to do that. There's a lot of people out there that do that with me and I don't really appreciate it. There's a lot of people out there that assume I have some sort of ulterior motive or that I'm trying to do something underhanded and...they've never met me, they've never talked to me. So, I'm gonna politely side-step that question 'cause I don't know the individual.

Done Edit

John Greenew... @black... · Jun 15, 2020

In no time, some will immediately try to discredit Admiral Wilson's denial; label it a cover-up; and will continue to praise this leak as proving something.

In a few years, it all will be made into a documentary that is immediately heralded as the "best xyz of the millennium."

Only in UFOlogy does a denial of something equate to a full undeniable admission it all happened.

deal of his time to the Reception Committee. Upon graduation John hopes to be headed to Supply Corps school. In whatever career he chooses we are sure he will give a fine account of himself.

JAMES OKEY SHANNON Belfry, Kentucky

Born and raised in the beautiful mountains around Belfry, Kentucky, Oke made his mark in high school as his class vice-president. He obtained varsity letters in football, basketball, and track. Upon entering the Academy, he was captured right away by Navy Crew and he rowed with the Plebes to the 1963 I.R.A. National Championships. In addition to varsity crew, Oke's schedule is double-overloaded for a major in Political Science. After graduation, Oke plans to get his N.A.O. wings at Pensacola and later to pursue a masters degree in International Relations at Post-Graduate School. Oke sets rather high goals for himself but his persistence and efforts always seem to pay great dividends in the long run. Since leadership is entirely a quality of example, Oke can be certain to expect and obtain high standards from those he will lead.

ROBERT T. SIMMONS Long Beach, California

Hailing from the sunny state of California, Bob arrived at USNA ready for the challenges of plebe year. Academics came easy to Bob and this helped ease the tensions of his first year. Continuing into his upperclass years, he branched off into two majors with great hopes for a career in the Silent Service. Four years in the Drum and Bugle Corps gave him further opportunities for his musical talents. Enjoying all sports, he was an active member of the Battalion and Company teams. Well liked by his classmates he could always be counted on whenever a willing hand was needed. Bob will certainly prove to be an asset to the Navy upon graduation.

JR: We need find some way to measure this. What is all the essays suck?

RB: What if there are only three applicants!? :-) But the good news is we have some very good people entering the contest. Many are authors.

Just added a 6th judge. A physicist.

Another case was Randi's yearly "million-dollar challenge," often held in Las Vegas, in which he tempted psychics with a cash prize. For years it was an annual charade to which virtually no serious observer or claimant would venture near. Journalist and NPR producer Stacy Horn, who wrote about Rhine's lab at Duke University in her 2009 book Unbelievable, queried Randi in June 2008 about his million-dollar prize. She told me:

> I had an exchange with Randi because I was going to have the following sentences about his million-dollar prize in my book:
> "To date, Randi's million-dollar prize has not been awarded, but according to Chris Carter, author of Parapsychology and the Skeptics, Randi backs off from any serious challenge. 'I always have an out,' he has been quoted as saying."
>
> I sent that to Randi to ask him if he really said that. ...He wrote back saying that the quote was true, but incomplete. What he really said was, "I always have an 'out'—I'm right!"
>
> It seemed like he thought he was being amusing, but I didn't really know a lot about him yet. But it also seemed to indicate that the million-dollar prize might not really be a serious offer. So I asked him how a decision was made, was there a committee and who was on it? ...He replied, "If someone claims they can fly by flapping their arms, the results don't need any 'decision.' What 'committee'? Why would a committee be required? I don't understand the question."
> At that point I wrote him off and decided to not mention his prize in my book since it just seemed like a publicity stunt for Randi.

Miller: No. Through a former NSA contact of mine, I had the chance to meet with a high-level, retired, National Security Agency, senior civilian. And this gentleman, we talked about the subject of UFOs and, again, whether any government agency either had information on the subject or had interest in. And he revealed one tidbit of information I found very interesting. He said within NSA, there was a document known only as “the document” and it was on the subject of UFOs and extraterrestrial intelligence. And it was so highly classified that only the Director himself and perhaps one or two other people were actually able to view it. It’s existence was widely known, but again, very, very close hold information.

Interesting anecdote from Will Miller that I transcribed for the MegaBlog. Do we have some human-made, fancy, smancy craft? Maybe.

http://www.ufojoe.net/wilsondavis1 http://pbs.twimg.com/media/Eu-XSmvVoAEmNWZ.png

It's taxpayer dollars at work on projects that that could potentially benefit mankind. And there's the issue of technology transfer, you know. Over the years, I have come to believe that there is some of that technology in use by Department of Defense. I'll give a couple of examples. I had a friend, a former military officer who worked with me. [He went to work at] the famous Groom Lake facility, Area 51 and he was out there for several years. As we all know, most folks that work out there have signed their lives away, never to disclose what goes on and for better or for worse, and this fella was no different. And over the three years I worked with him – and he knew my interest in things extraterrestrial and my work with CSETI – never once did he mention any of his work out at Groom Lake or any association between that and anything extraterrestrial. And the day I was leaving the command, he took me aside and he said, "You know, Will, some of the folks you talk with, maybe some CSETI researchers may see objects that are doing, you know, Mach 9 and then suddenly make a right angle turn and you say, 'Well, gosh, that's got to be an extraterrestrial craft.'" And then he looked at me and he said, "But it's not." And he just turned and walked away.

Dave: I would go.

Lue: I wouldn't bc I have a family and I live for them. Not worth the risk.

Lue: UFOlogy has been with us for a long time. Indigenous and Roman soldiers reported phenomena. It just wasn't called UFOlogy.

We have zero (public) evidence these craft are non-human.

It certainly seems to be the case & makes sense to me but we can't prove it, yet.

Same with SOME of it being human tech. Remember, NIDS first thought some of the triangles were ours and then changed their hypothesis.
