Hey I'm NASA Kennedy's Josie Burnett taking you Inside KSC!

The Kennedy Space Center workforce, guests and visitors gathered January 28 for the NASA Day of Remembrance.

The ceremony was held near the new "Forever Remembered" display in the Space Shuttle Atlantis attraction at the nearby Kennedy Space Center Visitor Complex, and honored the crews of Apollo 1, space shuttles Challenger and Columbia, and all astronauts who have lost their lives while furthering the cause of space exploration and discovery.

An aft skirt, similar to one that will be used on a solid rocket booster that will help launch NASA's Space Launch System rocket, was transported January 20 from its fabrication facility to the Rotation, Processing and Surge Facility at Kennedy Space Center.

Inside the RPSF, the aft skirt will be prepared for stacking with booster segments to test.
recent facility upgrades as the center prepares for NASA's journey to Mars.

And remember Spaceport Magazine digs deeper Inside KSC!