hi I'm NASA Kennedy's Tiffany Farrelly and I'm taking you inside KSC

NASA's insight spacecraft is on a six-month 300 million mile to Mars following a successful liftoff from Vandenberg Air Force Base in California on May 5th the Mars Lander launched atop a United Launch Alliance Atlas 5 rocket will reach the Red Planet on November 26 insight is the first interplanetary mission to launch from the west coast and will be the first mission to look deep beneath the Martian surface the voice of Kennedy launch control now has a place on a chroniclers wall George Diller joined the prestigious chroniclers group during a ceremony at

Kennedy's NASA News Center on May 4th also inducted was former Aviation Week and space technology reporter Greg Koval chroniclers recognizes exceptional news and communication retirees who shared information on US space exploration from Kennedy for at least 10 years dillards decorated career spanned 37 years in nasa's public affairs and remember spaceport magazine digs deeper inside KSC
