it's toured the country in the world to honor the dedication and sacrifice of Americans who have lost their lives in the line of duty now the u.s. honor flag will pay tribute to astronauts as well when it flies aboard space shuttle Atlantis during the space shuttle programs final mission during am a 26 ceremony at the Kennedy Space Center Visitor Complex in Florida the flag began its journey to space with the visitor complexes astronaut memorial mirror as a backdrop a 100-member honor guard and bagpipe procession accompanied the flags arrival james k Loftus director of the miami-dade Police Department presented the flag to Bob Cabana director of NASA's Kennedy Space Center Cabana handed over the flag to veteran astronaut Jerry Ross in preparation for its flight aboard atlantis the handoff was followed by a moment of silence at the memorial which bears the names of astronauts who died in the exploration of space the flag honors all the first responders military and now astronauts who paid the ultimate price in the service of our country and I think it's it I wrote privilege for us to be able to take it aboard Atlantis and bring it home safe. It says a lot the gun is a tribute following the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks. The flag flew over ground zero at the World Trade Center site for two weeks since then it served as a traveling memorial to police officers, firefighters and military service members who have lost their lives while serving their communities and country now after visiting more than 1,000 locations on earth the flags next trip will be out of...
this world

you