Atlantis update on the weather things are shaping up real nice the storms that were to the north north west have dissipated and slowed down they shouldn't penetrate the 30-mile circle by the time we're interested in we have already pulled the room room and you're go for the deorbit burn and Kathy go for the deorbit burn that kept me a team here reporting that the deorbit burn is in progress both orbital maneuvering system engines are now firing this will ask for three minutes and five seconds this will slow atlantis down enough that it will drop out of orbit and we'll begin the re-entry process atlantis we saw a good deorbit burn kappa given a knock will meet you in the post burn tab hey Atlantis's deorbit burn now complete the shuttle now on its way home
