dragons is deploying a solar arrays and as you can see the solar arrays deploying on the Dragon spacecraft this will provide power to dragon as it initiate s-- its journey toward the International Space Station twelve and a half minutes after liftoff everything went very well dragon is where it belongs in space the solar arrays locking into place