no my name's Mike Rowe and I'm a NASA engineer so the best life that i got in pursuing my semi career was basically to not give up don't let anybody put you down and even if it's something that normally you don't see women and it doesn't mean that you can't do it so with my mom that help and inspiration from women like Catherine I was able to pursue my engineering degree