farm animals Down Under.

And they are considering a theory that aliens have subjected human beings to weird medical experiments.

The Sunday Mirror's report has attracted inquiries from America and Russia.

And now, the Australian Co-ordination Centre for UFO studies has asked for evidence for their research.

One of their investigators, 34-year-old Paul Hebron, an aircraft engineer from Brisbane, called at the Sunday Mirror office in Manchester last week while on holiday in Britain to inspect our dossier.

He said: "There have been several cases in Australia of animals being found dead after forms of surgery unknown to present science."

Skipping to stardom

SKIPPY the cat climbed into a rubbish skip—and hitched a ride to stardom. For the container was taken 20 miles from a depot at Colnbrook, Buckinghamshire, to Twickenham film studios, where she has now become a favourite with the staff.
