

 BURN marks in a field in the South of France may have been left by a flying saucer three years ago, says a report by Gegan, the national space agency.

DJB

198