

N M .

THE BEER that reaches the parts other beers cannot reach terrorized villagers who thought they had seen a UFO.

Several villagers in Abergavenny, Gwent, panicked when a mysterious brightly lit object lit up the night sky above their homes.

The Civil Aviation Authority was alerted and the police were called in.

But the culprit turned out to be an eight-foot high Heineken lager advert picked out by computer-controlled light, trailing behind a plane.

THE NEWS (PORTSMOUTH) 31 OCT 1985