

Poison gnome

A WOMAN is fighting for her life after being speared by a GARDEN GNOME.

The 58-year-old housewife from Hartlepool, Durham, was accidentally stabbed by the ornamental fishing rod as she walked past.

Her leg swelled up like a balloon and doctors confirmed she had contracted the killer disease tetanus.

RV8

DAILY RECORD, SAT JULY
12TH 1986. D.S.G.