

Eyewitness encounters the bigshots want covered up

By ROSE GRADY

Life will never again be the same for Faye Knowles and her three sons. It was altered forever in a few horrifying minutes on a lonely road through the Australian outback — where they were plucked off the earth by a UFO!

Their bloodcurdling ordeal, already labeled the Nullarbor Incident, is unquestionably the best documented close encounter of the fourth kind ever reported.

One expert on sightings of alien crafts said an official report claiming the UFO was nothing more than a meteorite shower is "preposterous and a scandalous attempt at a coverup."

The expert cited evidence that clearly proves the encounters were genuine. They are:

- The car they were riding in when it was snatched up by the glowing UFO is heavily dented where its roof came in contact with the alien craft.

- Scientists are at a loss to identify the talc-like dust that covered the car when police found it.

- Descriptions of the odd-shaped UFO given by the trawler that also encountered it hundreds of miles away are identical in every respect with those given by Mrs. Knowles and her three grown sons.

- And all efforts by investigators to prove the two separate sightings coincidental hoaxes or a bizarre case of multiple hysteria have been miserable failures.

"We were a bit skeptical at first," said police Sgt. Jim Furnell.

"I've always had reservations about UFOs. But after investigating, we're treating the reports very seriously."

For the Knowles family, the minutes that would change their lives began ticking off in the pre-dawn hours as they traveled a barren highway across Australia's vast Nullarbor Plain on a trip from Perth to Melbourne.

'The craft picked our car up and started to shake it!'

Suddenly a shimmering craft streaked out of the sky and followed the Knowles' car as it raced down the road at 120 m.p.h. before clamping itself to the car's roof.

"I reached out and touched the thing," the 48-year-old mom told reporters. "It felt warm and spongy and it smelled like dead bodies."

Her 24-year-old son Patrick said he heard a humming and then saw a dark mist begin filling the car.

"We started yelling and screaming, but our voices had changed," he said. "They were deep voices and very slow like in a dream."

"Then the craft picked our car up and started to shake it!"

"We had our dogs with us and they went crazy. Then the thing released us and the car slammed to the ground so hard it burst a tire."

The glowing UFO hovered near the car for several minutes before it suddenly shot into the heavens with a fantastic burst of speed.

The terrified family drove 400 miles to the town of Ceduna where they reported their harrowing encounter to Sgt. Furnell. Unknown to the Knowles family or to Furnell, at about the same time but far to the south, the skipper of a fishing trawler was reporting that a shimmering, dome-shaped starship had hovered for several minutes over his boat in the Indian Ocean.

The skipper and the crew to a man said that when they tried to speak, their voices were very deep and their words seemed to be spoken in slow motion!

ESCAPEE EXPLODES

An astonished cop stared in disbelief when a man he had just arrested jumped from a police cruiser — and exploded. The prisoner had his pockets full of gunpowder when he dived onto the street in Gwent, England. He survived and was hospitalized.
