

LUMMOXED BY FLIGHT

Uncanny, unconventional and unidentified, those are the only words you could use to describe the strange object seen flying down Carnaby Street at 11.06 am on Wednesday February 24th. Indeed, police and aviation experts were completely baffled by the unprecedented phenomenon. "We're baffled," said one spokesman. "Umhph," said another. So Frontline ventured forth on the streets, discover exactly what it is that has been sighted outside of Just Seventeen offices, not once, but 14 times already this year. We listened, while you spoke.

A very grumpy and bad-tempered giraffe who doesn't seem too impressed by this possible visit from little green men with 20 legs.

An extremely colourful and eventful Hawaiian dance with a very boring and unconvincing UFO buzzing past.

Alan, 18: "There's no chance at any sightings are of aliens."

Juice, 15: "I don't believe in aliens. If they did me down, they'd create creatures with 20 legs."

Steven, 16: "No I don't believe that UFOs are genuine, it's just a ploy for me people to get into the papers."

Marcus, 18: "I once saw one on Peckham Rye with my dad. I'm convinced it was real. With all those planets out there one might be inhabited."

Rachel, 16: "If these sightings are aliens, then I'd like to see one. I love strange cosmic disturbances."

James, 17: "I don't really believe that UFOs exist. But now that scientists have discovered organisms on Mars, then maybe there are aliens flying about."

Helen, 17: "There's too many reported sightings late at night outside pubs for there to be any truth in it. Those people are soft in the middle."
