* SOVIET SCIENTISTS SAY ALIENS HAVE LANDED, TASS SAYS 1989
* MOSCOW, Oct 9, Reuter - Scientists have concluded that giant
* creatures with tiny heads which emerged from an unidentified * flying object and went for a midnight stroll in the Soviet city
* of Voronezh were aliens, Tass news agency said on Monday.
* The scientists were called in after frightened residents in
* the central Russian city reported that on at least three
* occasions they had seen a large shining ball hover above a park
* in the city after dark and then land.
* ""A hatch opened and one, two or three creatures similar to * humans and a small robot came out. The aliens were three or even
* four metres (12 to 13 feet) high but had very small heads,'' Tass
* quoted witnesses as saying after one such visit.
* ""They walked near the ball and then disappeared inside.
* Onlookers were overwhelmed with fear which lasted for several
* days,'' it added.
* Tass said the landings occurred recently but did not say * precisely when. The news agency said scientists had identified * the landing site and found traces of aliens ""who made a short
* promenade about the park''.
* UFOs have a special fascination for Russians and the state * press regularly carry reports of unusual sightings. Authorities
* set up a ""Commission into Abnormal Phenomena'' in February 1984
* after a ""flying cigar'' was seen near Gorky, east of Moscow.
* Asked whether the latest report could possibly be a hoax, a * Tass spokesman said: ""Tass never jokes. If we start joking we'll
* stop existing''.
* Genrikh Silanov, head of the Voronezh Geophysical
* Laboratory, told Tass that he had identified the landing site
* ""by means of biolocation'' and had managed to trace the aliens'
* footprints.
* Soviet reference books describe ""biolocation'' as an
* extra-sensory method used to track objects or people whose trail
* is invisible to human eye.
* ""We found two mysterious pieces of rock (which)
* mineralogical analysis has shown... cannot be found on earth,''
* said Silanov said.
