

TAKE ME TO YOUR SOVIET: Strange

Magazine, in its annual survey of the strangest occurrences of '89, has chosen the recent alien landing in the Soviet Union as No. 1. Tass, the country's official news service, reported that three school children had spotted a banana-shaped UFO and three-eyed creatures in silvery overalls. At the bottom of the list: a syndicated TV special in which a government informant explained that aliens like strawberry ice cream.
