

If you click on "Read full report," you'll find that most of these sightings come from the National UFO Reporting Center (NUFORC), which is a major UFO reporting center and a great resource for data. Unfortunately, while you may find a few sightings across the world, the bulk of the reports come from the United States.

The Biggest UFO Research Organizations

Speaking of NUFORC, they also offer an excellent text-based database search that you can use to dig through many years of sightings reported to them by regular folks just like you.

What makes this collection so interesting is that you'll find historic cases dating back to the 1700's and 1800's, drawn from resources such as Jacques Vallee's Passport to Magonia. Sifting through these sightings is a very intriguing experience.

UFOInfo is another great resource - not so much because of its website but because of two specific sections - the Magonia Database and the Humanoid Sighting Listing compiled by Robert Rosales. The Magonia Database is a complete listing of cases that Vallee compiled from throughout an entire century.

The collection is exhaustive and each specific sighting lists the location and about a paragraph worth of details about the event. The Humanoid Sighting Listings span from 1000BC (seriously) all the way up to 2009 and beyond. Before you laugh, go in and read one or two stories. Many of them read like terrifying ghost stories, and they are especially creepy because the witness insists the story is true.

Doing Some Serious Research

If you are interested in getting down into the volumes of cases that exist throughout the literature, the resources I'm about to offer below represent the lions share of what you'll find anywhere else. The first site is the BlueBookArchive.

Below the banner is a navigation menu with buttons for "HOME", "ON DUTY SIGHTINGS", "EXHIBITS", "CONTACT INFORMATION", "STATISTICAL EVIDENCE", "PRESS RELEASE", "ABOUT ME", "BEST EVIDENCE", "UFO NEWS", "SCREENWRITING", "PROJECTS", and "UFO". The "ON DUTY SIGHTINGS" button is highlighted. Below the menu is a section titled "ON DUTY SIGHTINGS (1986-2008)" with the year "1986" below it. The text of the report begins with "January 1986. Location – Armadale, West Lothian, Scotland. Two on duty uniformed..."

With the reports offered on this site, Gary provides complete listings of both historical cases and modern cases. By providing cases studies of sightings involving police officers, this particular police officer hopes to elevate the public respect for witnesses of these strange events, and in effect bring a bit of credibility for all UFO witnesses.
