

YOU AND ME— PEOPLE FROM OUTER SPACE!

THE HON. BRINSLEY LE POER TRENCH, half-brother of the Earl of Clancarty, is having a book "The Forgotten Heritage," published soon in which he claims that we are not descended, as the Bible teaches us, from Adam and Eve but from inhabitants of another universe.

"I have arrived at this theory after intensive study into early Scriptures and the history of Egypt, the Aztec civilisation and the people of the Valley of the Indus," he told me to-day.

"In all of them there are references to an early people descending to this earth, usually alighting on water, and I am sure there are other planets inhabited by other beings."

Mr. Le Poer Trench's first book, "The Sky People," attracted the attention of both President Lyndon B. Johnson and Barry Goldwater, as well as many space-minded enthusiasts in Britain.

A tall, erudite man, he lives in Drayton-gardens, Kensington, has a golden flying saucer as a crest on his notepaper and works as an advertising space seller on a gardening magazine.
