

Now you're all seeing Things!

Following letters about mysterious flying bubbles, many other readers have reported sightings of unearthly phenomena. Mrs. C. COLVILLE, of Horndon-on-the-Hill, Essex, writes:

A FEW weeks ago I saw a tennis ball-sized object speeding at rooftop height over the field behind our house. It glowed a beautiful green and then suddenly vanished as if the light had been switched off, or it had entered a waiting larger vehicle.

My husband saw the same thing the next day.

And Mr. T. IKIN, of Newcastle-under-Lyme, Staffs, says:

Early in the morning of December 14 several work-mates and I saw a blue glare in the western sky.

As the glare died, a glowing shell fell in a short arc. There was no noise.

While Mrs. G. WHEATLEY, of Hornchurch, Essex, reports:

I saw a transparent object, the shape of a large saucer, going up and down in the sky and moving away from me.

I am a very down-to-earth person, but I can't help thinking this was something out of this world.

Finally, from Mrs. A. MILNES, of Cowley, Middlesex:

On the evening of December 18 my husband and I were badly frightened by a cone-shape light which flashed past the tree tops at the end of our garden. We waited for an explosion, but nothing happened.

☆ Well, there you are, folks—your guess is as good as ours, but whatever the flippin' things are, they're certainly keeping us on tenterhooks.
