

GOODBYE, SAUCERS

FLYING SAUCERS, which from time to time have been reported hovering over Warminster, Wilts., have finally, it appears, flown to other pastures.

After 150 saucer fans kept an unsuccessful watch near the village at the weekend, Mr. Keith Palmer, an official of the Sky Scouts, said: "We feel there won't be any more sightings here now. The saucers will stop coming after this week."

Uncivil of them to disappear at the start of the tourist season.
