

Vicar sees 'flying saucer' on his stroll

THE vicar and his wife got a surprise as they took an evening stroll through a park. There, hovering six feet from the ground, was a "flying saucer."

The Rev. Anthony Millican, vicar of St. Christopher's at Brislington, Bristol, says that he and his wife, Margaret, saw the "saucer" in Arno's Park, Bristol.

"It was uncanny," he said yesterday. "I had the strange feeling that it was in some way malignant."

Light

Mr. Millican, 40, added: "We saw a light that grew larger and larger and for more than 20 seconds we clearly saw a transparent dome-shaped object that hovered above the grass and appeared to pulsate.

"It was about 15ft. in height. We did not approach — because, quite frankly, we were rather frightened."

Now Mr. Millican has told the police—and members of a saucer-spotting group.
