

Spellbound PCs' close encounter with weird UFO

By STUART HIGGINS

TWO starry-eyed policemen believe we have been invaded from outer space.

They are so convinced of their close encounter that they have lodged an official report of their sighting.

In the last ten days, two other UFOs have been reported near Cwmbran, Gwent — just 20 miles from the latest sighting.

PCs Simon Holder, 24, and Timothy Banks, 23, were spellbound when they saw a weird white light hovering in the sky at 4 am over Monmouth, Gwent.

Claim

Their official report describes intermittent flashing red and blue lights.

Last night PC Holder said: "It couldn't be a plane because of the way it was moving.

"It was faster than any jet. It put the wind up us but we couldn't take our eyes off it."

Police and RAF experts are investigating. Chief Insp Keith Harris said: "It had better not be a joke."

THE SUN.
SEPT 25, 1982.