

UFOs: What They Are and Why They're Here

By JACQUELINE HIMELSTEIN

Flying saucers already have landed on Earth.

Aliens from outer space with the ability to assume human shapes at will are walking among us — and may have some world figures under their control.

But there's no cause for alarm because these beings are here not to harm us but to save us from ourselves.

Those are some of the opinions shared by six outstanding psychics who were asked by The ENQUIRER to train their extrasensory powers on UFOs following a recent new wave of sightings around the world.

All six psychics felt that UFOs aren't here to cause trouble, and five believe they have come to rescue the world from the brink of devastation.

monsters," said psychic Jacqueline Eastlund, who predicted accurately that UFO sightings would increase in 1973.

"They're prepared to take over, if necessary, by controlling people who have the power to change things," she said. "But they've come to save us, not to conquer us."

Sybil Leek, one of the world's best-known psychics, agreed: "We've fouled the ecology of the Earth and now we're threatening to foul up space as well. The UFO visitors are upset by what we've been doing, so they're hovering over us as a protective force."

Katherine Sabin, a consistently accurate prognosticator, said: "Some aliens are walking among us right now, taking on a physical appearance that makes them look like humans. And it's likely that they've already taken control of several key world figures."

Her views were shared by several other psychics. The Rev. Monte Ellis, better known as Akashan, added: "If we come really close to destruction, they can possess key figures and influence the course of the world."

Akashan — who predicted the unexpected accord between America and Red China — said aliens already have changed some lives. "Once someone has seen one, he's never the same again," he said. "He becomes more universal in his understanding."

UFO crews come with advanced knowledge about medicine, space and technology — and they'll share it with us, says psychic Bernadene Villanueva, who foresaw Spiro Agnew's resignation last year.

"In time we'll consider them friends, just as we now consider the Russians and Japanese our friends. The UFO people will seem just as acceptable in a few years," she said.

The aliens communicate by ESP, however, and we must learn to use this before we can successfully take advantage of their advanced knowledge, the psychics said.

Doc Anderson, a Georgia psychic who predicted the Watergate scandals, explained to The ENQUIRER: "The UFO visitors have found we need their help, and they're anxious to teach us, but we'll have to develop our telepathic abilities
