Government Folder Headings

Folder headings in the file holdings of Jan Aldrich

This inventory of government UFO material represents documents collected by over 40 individuals whose efforts span decades. This collection required tens of thousands of dollars and man-hours to assemble. The collection, contained in 24 "stor-all" boxes and one legal-sized four drawer filing cabinet, comprises well over 50 linear feet of papers concerned or related to government UFO investigations. The current inventory represents about 85 per cent of the complete holdings. Other material has yet to be categorized or filed, and some of this listed material will be further organized into additional separate files.

A separate annotated inventory of over 500 microfilms containing UFO or related material is currently under preparation. While these vast holdings are impressive in size, the material on microfilm, paper and other media, does not represent by any stretch of the imagination the sum total of government UFO documents. There has yet to be anything resembling a systematic search through the documents that are available to the public at various archives, and a great deal of government material is yet to be uncovered.

Utilizing references and leads in these current holdings, significant new material might be located, but not without considerable effort and expense -- and judging from past experiences -- only after some frustrating searches that result in dead ends.

When this collection is taken together with Barry Greenwood's impressive collection of government documents, these two nearly complementary holdings show the spectrum of government UFO interest over the last 50+ years. It should be noted that while there are significant overlaps in both collections, much of the material is exclusive to either Greenwood's or this collection.

The core of both collections is the material found and assembled by Robert Todd of Pennsylvania. His ceaseless efforts resulted in the release of huge amounts of documents by various government agencies. Over half of both collections originated with material originally found by Robert Todd. To date much of this material has seen only limited dissemination.

Barry Greenwood has assembled the inventory of his collection by categories based on material from originating agencies. While this represents an efficient method for locating material, this collection uses a general system composed of the different categories listed below. These listings will be refined into further subcategories at another time.

While it is accepted that some categorizations, such as "FOIA Requests" might appear unsatisfactory, it was considered a priority to make this inventory available as soon as possible.
