This talks about the death an-el.

Faith writes: I just read the newsletter and came across the note from "Faith" asking about Macular Degeneration. There are treatments that can halt the progression and even improve vision. My own Dr. McLean in Asheville, NC ...a retina specialist....has used a treatment used at the Mayo Clinic....where injections are made right into the eye...once the di-ease has gone "wet". (JW I personally would not use this sort of method but try to get over it by more natural means.) Please suggest to "Faith" that she look for a really good ophthamologist/retina specialist and if not in her locale....check in with the Mayo Clinic to see if her condition can be helped. I have AREDS....age related mac deg.....dry and my doctors have held it in check since discovered 3 years ago.....a friend has the wet in both eyes and gets these injections every 6 weeks and the progress has been halted along with improved vision. Please tell your lady that it is not a lost cause. Thank you so much for all your good workI send you many blessings.

MORE BASIC QUESTIONS FOR THEO

DEATH AND PREPARATION ♦ PART 1

Theo, how do you handle a situation in which a life contract calls for someone to be killed at an early age like the one I lived early in Word W-r II?

I handle it the same Tom as all the other contracts that call for someone to not live to be or die at an old age. My job is to take care of them until that time and to assist in actually setting up or pushing them along to be where they are supposed to be so that the event will happen. That may sound a little callous, but keep in mind these are soul contracts and my job is to give aid and comfort as much as possible until the time of d-ath.

Why did I seemingly wait so long to have a life where I was k-lled as that child in WWII?

You just had to find the right circumstances for your birth to a J-wish couple where you would not live long. Yes it did free you of a Karmic debt stretching over several centuries. But that ♦s how Karmic debts are taken care of. It can be done within ten or twenty years or 2,000 years. It does not make any difference on this side.

I assume I had taken the life of a child at some point in some life?

Yes of course you did. So you had to suffer the same fate as the child you slew in a past existence. Remember that everything must balance out and there are lives where you have been a cheat, thief and ki-ler and then there are lives where you were called a s-int.

Did I have any Karmic ties to the German soldier that kil-ed me in World Wa-II?

Yes of course you did. He was the child you had slain in the previous life. That was a good question, Tom.

So did he incur a Karmic debt in -illing me?

Not so much as the Karmic debts he owed for k-lling all the other people ♦innocent people with no weapons. He has much to work off in future lives.

But perhaps those people also owed him a Karmic debt too?

Yes and no. Some people did but others had had no relations with him prior to their de-ths at his hands. Naturally he would later -ie in the -ar, so that helped a little, but only a little.

Is there a way to better prepare for dea-h?

Ah, an age old question Tom. No and yes. You can request benevolent outcomes that the deat- process be easy and peaceful. A human's built-in survival instinct is to fight the going, which is why there are s-uls that you call dea-h a-gels that appear to comfort and assist the person to understand it's time to go. Certainly it helps if the friends and family tell the person that they are releasing them and wishing them a good journey. But requesting MBO's for healing, calming energy to be sent to yourself can help and assist the process of transition.

Do you meet me at my time of passing?

Yes I'm there with many other sp-rits to greet you and in forms that will be recognizable to you. You will have a crowd this time like no other.

Are there an-els actually assigned or volunteer for de-th duty or is this simply done by you and my guides?

No there are loving -ngels that assist in this de-th process Tom. There are many jobs to be performed on this side of the veil for you and d-ath duty is one of them, as these a-gels have great compassion and love and are able to transform themselves into whatever form your belief system calls for to assist in the transition.

Why is a de-th an-el needed when you're there anyway?

A good question Tom. My job is to greet you along with all your friends and love ones. The a-gels that handle this duty are experienced in guiding everyone in the right direction so to speak, as your sou- will no longer be tethered to your body. We wouldn't want you to become lost, now would we (a little humor there)? So their job is more complex than it might appear on the surface. They certainly do much more than take on some appearance of a friend you know or relative.

Months later I would ask for more information about the d-ath process. Theo, I would like to cover the de-th process in more detail for everyone. Where does it actually start?

Yes Tom, it starts early on actually weeks in advance. The or your immortal so-l informs you during the dream state or even twilight state if you are incapacitated that it is time to leave your body, so then the preparations begin. At this point I your Guardian A-gel, am working quite closely with you, along with your guides.

Has the de-th An-el made an appearance yet, or do they wait until the time of d-ath?

No, they are still in the background shall we say. These loving spi-its are aware that the person will soon pass over, and they can shall we say analyze you in an instant as to your re-igious and cultural background your belief system and they do consult with us, although this is certainly in a millisecond in your time frame. So everything is made ready for the individual passing over. The body is worn out, or, in the case of a sudden death due to w-r, disaster, or any other type of de-th where the person does not live to old age, this is all done in your sleep time. As you have read many times, people have what are termed premonitions of -eath. This is due to what they are being told during their sleep time. In many cases it is a relief on a higher level that you are getting to leave, as you have been veiled from knowing your true self for many years.

OK, so the preparations have been done. Is the next step the day of d-ath, or is there something else?

No, you're quite correct Tom. These preparations go on until the day of de-th, and if it is a violent deat-, the Guardian Ang-l makes sure that that person is in the right place at the right time for the d-ath to occur, per that person's soul contract. When everything is in place, then we are all gathered for that moment when the person expires. The loving s-ul that is one of the volunteers for dea-h duty is on the scene to comfort and accompany the person to the next level.

Do they travel on a tone as we do during the sleep or dreaming time Theo?

Yes, exactly, Tom. At the moment of d-ath, the silver cord, as it is known, releases. It is not cut, but simply releases. The d-ath a-gel leads that person's so-l fragment on and here is where there are the reports of beautiful white lights and a tunnel, as the tone acts in a way like a tunnel, and there can be music or whatever that person needs to become aware that they have passed on and this is not a dream. In many cases other soul-fragments that the person has known will be in attendance to welcome and encourage the s-ul fragment, and they will appear as they had in, or during that person's life. This is especially true for the so-l fragment's own s-ul group or cluster. At this point there is much celebration, and the person is guided to an interim location, if you will, where they can rest and regain their strength and orientation, depending again upon their belief system. There is no time on this side, so this process can last as long as appropriate. They the so-l fragment may wish to envision a beautiful mountain cabin, or one on the shore of a beautiful lake or ocean. Then slowly they become bored with this and it is time for review of the last life and preparations for the next life.

So the review does not come immediately after they have passed over?

No, it's not necessary, although this process can be almost immediate for some individuals that quickly remember the process. Each person or so-l fragment is different and is treated with loving care by the sou-s who are assigned to them upon arrival.

So the de-th s-ul (a-gel) is only there for the de-th process and that is all?

Yes, this is very important and requires dexterity shall we say, as some soul fragments are disoriented and due to their belief systems are not prepared for this process.

Someone asked what about the benefits to families and our s-ul when we leave behind a part of us when we die. Your comments?

Yes this fragment of the fragment so to speak, does remain attached with its biological family, so that there is a connection to the fragment that has gone back to the s-ul group. A little difficult to explain to you, but this connection serves both the living and the fragment to keep an eye on the rest of the lives of its children and mates. It is a way of giving comfort to them that they can feel this presence around them whenever they wish to.

Does this extend to the grandchildren?

Yes of course, if the person was alive when they were born, they will send loving feelings to these children whenever they wish to receive them on a subconscious or subliminal level.
