Among those interested in the sightings is Warren Coates of the Northern Ireland Paranormal Research Association (NIPRA).

He said he planned to go to the area with a s-irit medium: "It may sound far-fetched, but we will try to pick up names of people who may not be able to move on from this life.

"We have looked into reports in this area before which related to a phantom hitchhiker who walked across the road in front of cars.

"This time, a man with his newborn baby and wife in the car saw a woman walk straight in front of his car and had to slam on the brakes.

"I know some people are saying it could be the moon, but I think most people can tell the difference the moonlight and the figure of a person.

This time of year is traditionally associated with high sp-rits as revellers welcome in another year.

However, a spirit of a different kind has been causing a bit of a commotion outside Coalisland in County Tyrone.

An apparent sighting of a ghost has led to crowds of people descending on the Brackaville area over the holidays.

"At one point, there was a line of up to 60 cars on the Mullaghmoyle Road with people trying to spot it," said Sinn Féin Councillor Desmond D-nnelly.

"It wasn't just one night, it was going on for a week or so over the holidays. I'm not sure how it all started - I wouldn't be one for ghosts, but you know how this type of thing spreads.

"If you ask me, it's more likely to be a reflection of the moon on the river that flows through the area. Although the talk is that what was seen was in the shape of a person."

Pat Hughes, speaking at the Central Bar in Coalisland, said the sighting had certainly got people in the town talking.

"Everybody's been talking about it in the bar and it has also caught the imagination of young people," he said.

"It has got to the stage where it's a bit like a drive-in movie."

As with these sorts of things, rumours about what was or was not seen quickly spread. It was claimed the apparition was a woman who had lived locally.

Your valiant efforts are to be most royally honored

When the moment for your awakening arrives great joy will envelop the planet, because it will be a magnificent event of great significance, and one towards which you have been heading for a very long time. Deep within yourselves, below the level of your conscious awareness, you have always known that you would awaken because, at that level, you have never forgotten that you are one with G-d, dearly loved, and only playing games in the illusory reality you made for yourselves during a momentary lapse in your awareness of who you are and where you have your eternal existence.

You truly do exist eternally, in infinite joy, in Go-'s loving Presence, because there is nowhere else, and consequently you are eternally safe in that state. The apparent reality of the illusion in which you experience so much suffering, anxiety, and dissatisfaction demonstrates the enormous intensity of your collective imagination to maintain and support it. And of course once you make the decision to dispense with the illusion it will indeed dissolve.

Events are occurring all across the planet that are causing immense suffering for those directly involved, and this is causing a great upswing of compassion and love in the rest of humanity for those experiencing that suffering. Yes, there are still many who wish to blame, judge, and punish those they believe to be responsible for so much anguish, but the love that you bearers-of-the-light are pouring into the illusion is destabilizing it so that the ability to maintain the energies of blame, judgment, and vengeful punishment will collapse. The time for those painful and illusory energies is drawing to a close as the energy flow of divine Love enveloping the planet strengthens and intensifies.

You are dearly loved and greatly honored for the tasks that you have undertaken as light bearers within the illusion at this point in humanity's e-olution. As you have discovered, it is a very demanding task emotionally, and as you observe the worldwide misery all around you, and also undergo the suffering involved with your own issues and s-iritual growth, it can seem very daunting, and at times you may well feel that you can no longer carry this heavy burden, even though you are well aware that you volunteered for these duties.

Know that you are lovingly supported in every moment by -od and by your a-gels and guides. At those moments when the burden seems truly unbearable, sit back, make a positive intention to relax totally, and then accept gracefully whatever situation is draining your resources, and as you do so ask the H-ly Spi-it Who is the individual and unbreakable direct connection that each one of you has to G-d to help you by boosting your energy. Very quickly you will find your burden easing if you truly relax and allow Him to assist you instead of driving yourself forcefully onward as though you were alone. Frequently, as a result of His loving support, you will find that you do have other options in whatever situation is presenting you with difficulties, as you allow yourself to be intuitively guided instead of soldiering on in the direction that your rather inadequate human reasoning suggests is the way forward.

Your joy at the moment of awakening will be mind blowing, infinitely beyond anything you have ever experienced as humans, and you have most certainly earned your eternal place in the brilliant light of Go-'s most glorious Presence. An ecstatic welcome awaits your awakening which is divinely assured. Your valiant efforts, which cannot fail to succeed to bring this stage of the divine plan to completion, are to be most royally honored. So do not allow the difficulties and suffering that you are presently undergoing to divert you from your goal for even an instant as you race down the home straight to the brightly lit finishing-line which is coming into view.

With so very much love, Saul.
