Special "Matthew Commentary" Regarding Japan Nuclear Crisis!...plus UFO crash in Russia
...plus HAARP info!

Jean H-don wrote

Suzy W-rd sent me a correspondence she had on March 18 with Hannah B-aconsfield in which Suzy wrote:

"Three nights ago I had a call from Gen, the Japanese translator (of Matthew's books), thanking me for Matthew's message and asking if he had any more recent information. Matthew said "they" had heard that some ETs would land and help reduce the radiation situation but that information hadn't been verified.

The next day was crazy so it was very late when I asked G-d if he knew what Matthew had told me. He said yes, and he could verify it. A small ship had landed about a mile from the n-clear facility and the crew was using their technological equipment in conjunction with more extensive equipment in ships overhead; no one at the facility would know the crew was on the ground.

I relayed that to Gen and this morning he wrote: Somehow the radiation leakage from those reactors has been suppressed miraculously under critical level. I believe ETs' efforts are being manifested. There have also been video reports showing small UFOs flying at the sites."

~

The following question from Suzy and answer from the Pleiadians, as c-anneled by Hannah were also included:

Suzy's question: Has a small group of ETs landed in Japan to help?

We are the Pleiadian Light. We greet you with peace and joy.

Our perception on the assistance being given by ETs is that it is a multi-level force - a sort of intergalactic Peace Corps. There are several planetary groups contributing.

Remember, you live in a reflective universe. On your living planet there are many sources of help being sent to Japan: financial help, food and goods for survival, as well as people with specialized training to assist in finding survivors, tending the injured, and those who direct and coordinate all of the above.

Now, if you translate all that to ET assistance, you can imagine that the different planetary groups are providing a wide variety of help. And this includes some actual visitors to Earth.

Go- forbid we should contradict -od (we know he has a sense of humor) and we're not (contradicting G-d) . We just wish to put things in a larger perspective. The on-Earth assistants are acting primarily as grounding agents for the intergalactic energies.

They are not running around with clipboards, carrying blue prints designed to correct the malfunctions of the nu-lear plants. Then again, they might look exactly like that, but their true mission is to ground the alien energy, like lightning rods, to hold it on Earth. This allows ETs to send countermeasures from within their own technologies to alter the situations.

Good.

The ETs are also downloading information and ideas into receptive Earth minds of those who are working valiantly to save their people and their country.

We wouldn't characterize these visitors as a major landing party. There have been many visits like this throughout your history in both creative, as well as, de-structive events on Earth. Our sense is that the visitors are Pleiadian and some Sirius individuals dating from the periods in their development that resonate with the next step, the ascension period, in yours. They hold in their cultures the patterns you need to learn to proceed with your growth.

All is unfolding with more ease and grace than you presently perceive. As fears fade your perceptions will clear and you'll see more Light. Be at Peace. We are with you.

Massive UFO activity in Japan prior to Earthquake
<http://www.allnewsweb.com/page1199999510.php>

It began with a report three weeks ago of a UFO fleet being seen by witnesses as it moved over Japan's Mount Fuji before the individual craft fanned out across the area. This event was reported in all seriousness by no less than China's main government news agency, Xinhua (see their article here and our article here). Western Media steadfastly refused to report the event. The US based "UFO industry" also chose to completely ignore or suppress any information regarding this event, seemingly regarding it as unimportant: This publication was the sole English language news outlet that ran a story on this occurrence. Shortly after, we covered further sightings in Japan (see articles here and here). There was no doubt about it, UFO activity in Japan was unprecedented and something was happening in the area. For two weeks now our website's front page headline has stated "Asia awash with UFO and alien events". In a subsequent article we asked: "The question now on the minds of many Japanese citizens is, if indeed these craft are of extraterrestrial origin, what do they want from Japan?"

Numerous UFO sightings in Japan continue to be made, right up to this moment, and are still being ignored by the West. We just received a second witness's footage of the UFO fleet seen a week ago (see first video below) and close-up footage of what appears to be one of the craft originally seen above Mt Fuji (see second video below). UFOs have now been spotted in the aftermath of the Earthquake, even during media broadcasts (see bottom two videos and take a look at this video from the BBC and note the object seen at around 1:59).

The connection between UFOs and earthquakes has been made by hundreds of researchers. Academics such as professor Michael Pe-singer of Ontario's Laurentian U-iversity have written about the topic extensively. I myself received dozens of emails from UFO enthusiasts telling me that all of this activity alludes to an upcoming earthquake. Can this really be co-incidence? As I write, reports are filtering through announcing that one of Indonesia's major volcanoes has erupted and is spewing lava, forcing locals to evacuate. Indonesia's first crop circle was reported only weeks ago.

The question now being asked by many is: If indeed these UFOs are under benevolent alien control and these beings were aware of the coming disaster why didn't they warn us? Perhaps they did, but we weren't listening. It is time the connection between UFOs and earthquakes is taken seriously. If it is being taken seriously, the public deserves to know.

Massive UFO event in Russia: Crashed flying saucer?

By Michael C-hen - 17 March 2011

A UFO event of Roswell proportions has taken place in Russia and is being ignored by Western media. On March 1 in the Irkutsk region of Siberia, a huge object, glowing pink and blue according to some accounts, was seen by thousands of locals as it hurtled towards Earth. An enormous explosion was then heard over a wide area. Curious and frightened residents inundated various police and rescue departments with phone calls. The military soon confirmed that it had not been doing any exercises in the area and therefore cannot be responsible for any reports of UFOs.

One villager, Mr Sergei Ivanov, described what he saw: "It did not look like an aircraft, more like a UFO or some other unexplained object".

Soon a large array of officials inundated the area: Army chiefs, Air Defense personnel, Ministry of Defense officials, heads of police, Emergency Ministry staff, geophysicists, avionics experts and members of the secret service.

These officials made their way towards site of the alleged crash, declared the event classified and announced to the media that the specific area of impact would not be revealed.

Meanwhile a sizable number of journalists arrived in the region and fanned out to the area's various settlements in search of witnesses: And they found them in the hundreds. Some locals blamed the event on an alien UFO base said to exist beneath Lake Baikal. Others talked of intense UFO activity leading up to the event.

The head of a primary school in the town of Vasilevka recounted how she saw a giant pyramid shaped UFO in the skies above the area in June 2010. The mayor of the village of Bayanday, Anatoly Tabin, talked of a giant flying saucer that shot a ray of light onto the ground near his house. Another group of residents talked about an odd object that "crashed" near the village leaving behind only mysterious footprints.

Only hours prior to this event, air-traffic controllers in Yakutsk, Siberia claim to have picked up a UFO on radar travelling at 6000 mph at a height of 65000. When they tried to speak with the crew of that craft they heard bizarre cat noises being uttered to them. Are these two events connected? Was this the craft that crashed later that day? And finally: Did the craft actually crash at all or was this just a noisy landing?

The video below shows some footage taken of the event.

NOTE from Jean: I had forwarded this article above to Suzy Ward with a suggestion to check this out with Matthew but she consulted instead with Hatonn, who according to what is posted at <http://www.matthewbooks.com/mm/anviewer.asp?a> is "director of communications between Earth and all points elsewhere during the era of Earth changes" and also "commander of an intergalactic fleet":

Hatonn, do you know anything about this?

Yes, it was an eight-person reconnaissance craft with crew members from different civilizations, and it was struck head-on by a scalar beam. Larger ships can avoid those but the small ones are vulnerable.

I'm sorry, Hatonn.

So are all of us. I don't know if this will change plans in any way, though.

You mean landing plans?

No, I mean if there's retaliation. We'd need authorization, and it couldn't be a matter of quid pro quo, it would be based on taking out those facilities run by your mad scientists so they can't turn that weaponry against you.

Good.

Who would authorize that action?

Go-. It would come to us through the highest council in the universe, the same ones who designed the Golden A-e master plan.

I see. Thank you, Hatonn.

Of course, my friend.
