By now you should be getting a feel for what is taking place in your world. If ever you wanted proof that the mass consciousness is a powerful tool, you only have to register how many countries are under pressure for change. It seems to make no difference as to how powerful the rulers are; eventually the people get their way. Sometimes it is not achieved without violence, but even although they are often ill equipped the people still succeed.

Materialism cannot continue, as it is unable to move forward with the higher vibrations of Ascension. Therefore financial changes are most likely to be the most far reaching. In a future time money will no longer be used because it will become unnecessary. Creating wealth will not be the focal point as it is now, because sharing will become normal, and no one will seek more than they need. There will be an entirely new mindset that puts others first, until everyone has a fair share of the benefits of all labors. Work will not in fact occupy you to the extent it does now, and more than ample time will be available to follow more leisurely pursuits. You were never meant to be the slaves of those corporations that demand so much from their workers.

When you re-unite with your Higher Self you will have become a Galactic Being, with full creative powers. With it you will also have developed those necessary powers of control, and also carry such responsibilities with an outlook that seeks the best for all souls. Your high level of consciousness will heighten your sense of Oneness, and the grouping of souls with similar vibrations will occur. At such a high stage of evolution, you will have free choice as to which path to follow, although Ascension will continue to be an ongoing process. Families will still come together, and birth will always be planned and never happen accidentally. However, in the higher dimension, birth is quite different to your experience on Earth. A soul will join its family by arrangement in a semi-adult state, which is a highly event that is treated with great reverence and thanks. Parents are chosen for what they can give the newly arrived soul, who will have a clear life plan that the family will all know about in advance.

There is so much that will change and your lifestyle will be much more rewarding, enjoyable and exceptionally pleasant. Coming out of your present cycle of duality you will not carry karma forward, which is why it must be cleared before you can ascend. The conditions are therefore in part necessary for souls to have the opportunity to do so. If in your calm moments you think carefully about the present period in your life, you will almost certainly begin to sense the reasons why you are here. You should intuitively pick up on your weaknesses, and that will help you clear them a lot more easily. Do not be afraid to admit to yourself what they are, as that is the first towards forgiving yourself. Thoughts are a very good clue, as they will suddenly enter your mind without any direct intent on your part. As you become able to take in more of the Light energies, so your strength increases and you will experience the lower vibrations without falling into them. Indeed, when you become adept at centering yourself your Light becomes your protection.

As we have often informed you, once you express the intent to ascend you will achieve it. You will become motivated and attract the higher energies to yourself, and your decisions will be spiritually inspired and your knowledge will grow quite quickly. Also well before the end of the cycle we will have arrived on Earth, and you will have every assistance to help you succeed. Regardless of any other aspects in your life, the achievement of Ascension is after all the main object of your many lives on Earth. You have come a long way and experienced so much about human life. About its power and the weaknesses of the flesh, and the strength of the soul with its infinite life and journey from the stars. You truly have tried and tested yourself to the limit.

Now the time approaches when you can put everything behind you, and enjoy the reward of so much hard work. Your endurance has been so great that even when you panned the depths, you never lost complete sight of who you truly were. You will need reminding of how great you are and we will do so not to feed anyone's ego, but ensure they know that they are so much more than a mere physical body. There are even now so many souls who have not yet fully awakened, who have no idea that they are sparks of God with all the potential to become gods themselves. Again there will be ample teachings passed to you so that you understand the truth about all life forms. All have degrees of consciousness, and all have their being within the Universal energy that is God.

We know that some people will still scoff at the ideas expressed about your true origins. However we do know that given time they will open up to them, although the changes to their understanding are too much at present to contemplate and absorb. It is for this very same reason, that introducing ourselves to you has been a rather long exercise. Slow but sure is far preferable to be seen to force the truth upon you. People shock very easily when they learn that their cherished beliefs have been held in error, and it is too much to admit to themselves. We believe that by the time we openly show ourselves the truth about us and our relationship to you will have been discussed, and people will generally show more acceptance of us. There is certainly nothing at all to be frightened about, as we have consistently shown you that we come in peace.

Our actions are now more frequent on your behalf, although you would not necessarily be aware of them. But soon they will become more evident, as we have work to do that will take place before your very eyes. It is all bringing our open contact with so much nearer, but we will still approach it through your diplomatic channels. All along we have followed your protocol, but we reserve the right to act as necessary if any attempt is made to endanger our presence. Nevertheless ours is the way of peaceful negotiations, and we will never be the aggressors.

I am SaLuSa from Sirius, and have become so familiar with the ways of Earth people who are admired and immensely loved by all of your Space Families.

Thank you SaLuSa.
