This tells when to take this formula.

Well, Karl did survive, of course, and made it just barely off that very dangerous mountaineous terrain, and spent the next eight months attempting to discover through painstaking and time consuming research, the exact, specific molecularly-synergy of herbs which could result in this very thing he had, suddenly with great passion, p-ayed for on that mountain top. And, of course, back then, with no computers existing to have made his research so much faster, he basically would slowly begin to combine different herbs together or rather would just use certain exact molecules from various different herbs (so that whatever he was to ultimately come up with then, there would not be any so-called allergic reactions to the formula, since sometimes, once in awahile, when one attempts to use the whole herb, rather than just certain specific molecules, then someone might have a so-called allergic reaction to that particular herb or herbs. But with only part of or certain molecules used from many different herbs, this was not the case. But slowly, he began to combine various different herbs, and each time, right after slightly changing the total synergy recipe of molecules from these various different herbs, he would then ingest each of these, later check his b-ood under the microscope to see how or what had changed, And then he would again go back to slightly change the molecular alignments on the chalk board, and then continue to gradually repeat this long drawn out process it was literally like looking for the needle in a haystack. And as I like to also explain it, with one using marbles to represent the various and infiinite number of molecular-cellular combinations, one could literally spend many, many lifetimes, forever, of continuing to rearrange these molecules, and one would never, ever come up with the exact, same combination. So eight months went by, with him getting not much closer to what he was passionately attempting to discover. He was a real humanitarian-genius type of person, yet he just had not in all that time, had gotten close to what he was looking for.

But he shares the story that then one night, he had a very powerful dream, in which the S-iritual Ma-ters came to him in the dream and showed him this very unique synergistically-molecularly aligned long herbal formula and he suddenly woke up out of that dream, and with this formula still very vividly in his mind, he wrote the formula on a piece of paper Thank G-d! And the next morning, he went to the laboratory there at the University of Vienna and Eureka!!!! he was then able to scientifically prove & document to the board of 26 scientists who were those who decided whether one got their Doctoral Award or not, that he definitely could not only totally detoxify one's bl-od of any toxins what so ever, but also increase ones oxygenation retention by over 30% more than normal. So, karl Yurak did indeed win his Doctoral Thesis with Top Honors, for this wonderful formula that the Mas-ers had shared with him in his dream.

Even though Karl Yurak was to go on to develop the latex paint formula, because he was tired of people being poisoned by the use of lead paints, and he also helped pioneer the Bird's Eye method of freezing foods to retain as many nutrients as possible, and helped to open up all the medical labs in Canada, along with over 30 other medical patents and awards to his name he still felt that of all the things he had accomplished, that this little herbal botanical preparation which he had tried to decide what, just exactly that he was to call it, but since it did contain, besides a lot of other very wonderful properties, lots of excellent quality potassium, he decided to refer to it as Km which is also the potassium symbol on the chart of elements. And in all the 60 years since then that he had actually freely given it away to all his many friends and framily members, totally only by word of mouth, he had stated that in all those 60 years until the 92s, when his son and a marketing expert decided to make it available as part of a MLM known as Matol Botanical International, he stated that he had never seen it not help each person who had used it, in at least one of more ways, in whatever area of health challenges that they had been facing.

And, of course, since we are not allowed to ever make any medical claims I'll just state that literally hundreds of thousands and millions of coincidences kept occurring through all these years since he first discovered or rather was given the formula in his dream that time from the Mast-rs.

When Aurora and I had came back from Hawaii, from our trip to be there during the famous Harmonic Convergence, we had each used over three bottles of Km, and had gone to a three day Holistic event in Phoenix, AZ, and I was doing my little short 15 minute Cosmic Hors doeuvres mini Readings at our booth (to later set up my much longer 90 minute Transformational Ch-nneled Readings). The medical guy in the next booth to us, was doing a thing called Live Blood Cell Analysis (also referred to as Dark Scope Microscope) and literally that three day weekend, I watched (in between the many Readings I did), literally hundreds of people's blo-d samples were placed under a microscope and blown up onto a monitor screen, with the bloo- cells blown up big enough to very easily see the real health or lack of health of all their -lood cells. And as it was easy to both tell by just looking at the monitoring screen, and also talking to the person doing these Live B-ood Cell Analysis tests, that most people literally have a cess pool of unhealthy and toxic bl-od, as was clearly shown on the monitoring screen, with their cells all clumped together, with very little oxygen present and very little auric fields surrounding the cells.

But then on the last day, as he was about to pack up from doing these tests, Aurora and I asked him if he would not mind doing one more test for us, to check to see just exactly what our own particular blo-d also actually looked like, compared to the other bloo- samples we had already seen. For we had each used over three bottles of the Km (with each bottle being 32 oz.), and since it is a biological fact, that it takes approximately 90 days for the body to produce entirely new -lood (so three bottles later of drinking one ounce per day would more than cover that time). It also takes about eight months to get entirely new organs, and 7 to 10 years to get entirely new physical bodies.

So I still remember that awesome and revealing moment, as he took our sample of bl-od and proceeded to show our blo-d cells on the monitoring screen. He flipped out in astonishment at what we were now all watching, as compared to any of the earlier numerous toxic bloo- samples that he had tested. Our -lood was very clean and beautiful, with absolutely no clumping of the cells, as they were all moving around very fast (unlike the earlier bl-od samples, with the blo-d very sluggish or slow moving), and there were huge beautiful auric fields around all of our bloo- cells. He stated in his surprise that our bloo- was literally the most healthy and beautiful -lood he had ever seen in all the years of him doing his Live B-ood Cell Analysis tests, and he wondered, of course, what we had done to have our blo-d turn out this way. We, of course, looked at him and stated that even though we also ate very healthy, natural organic foods, we also had been using the Km for over three months, and obviously, as this test showed and demonstrated, what a difference it makes when one is able to properly oxygenate and detoxify their body. Of. Course, also, as stated earlier, since we are not allowed to ever make any m-dical claims, in this f-scist me-ical monopoly, with any forms of natural herbal supplements, I will merely say that thousands and millions of health coincidences have been occurring for those who do the same things and get the same or similar results.

But getting back to our Synergy Recipe: When you drink the ounce of Km, allow it for about 15 seconds to be against the back of the tongue before completely swallowing it, for as when one takes a homeopathic remedy or any other herbal tincture of putting it behind the tongue for a short while so that it starts the assemulation and digestive process.

Next, immediately start sipping down the water mixture right after swallowing the Km (in other words do not totally gulp the water all down in one gulp, but allow yourself at least a minute or more to fully sip it slowly and drink it all) and see what affect, either very subtle or more overt that this great Energy Synergy herbal drink causes you to feel, both within the next few minutes and especially over the coming days, weeks and months, as it more strongly begins to permeate your entire system and metabolism and consciousness.

It is also recommended that one drinks this Synergy Energy drink right after they first get up in the morning to start the day (instead of coffee or tea).
