This discusses something about Mother Of Earth.

The Mother speaks

I woke up this morning in conversation, finally, with the Mother, the Mother of Earth, the Mother of All, the Mother of Creation. It's not often I get to speak with her, but I heard her clearly. She gave me downloads, as I call them, with lots of information to process in short time, and this can feel like overwhelm, but I said I would write it out. I could not write all of it...it's a book. With torment I could not understand how I could do this and asked her to send me help. I almost tried to not write it. But I could not think that way. I sat to write and closed my eyes and didn't know where to begin...and I remembered her first line. I believe she, herself, helped with the rest.

She said it would help those with ears to hear and eyes to see.

I must be as brief as possible to retain the information and to write what all I can without being on the PC for too many hours. Forgive me if this does not wax as poetic as one would hope. I do not write this with the intent to make anyone believe anything, nor do I care what your responses are. I do not do this for you, but in my desire to help the Mother, the Earth and Life, and my plea to know what I can possibly do, she spoke and wanted to be heard, and so I write this out for Her.

I promised to write out what I was given today grateful to do something at her request, but leery of how it would be received. By evening in the garden I realized I may lose some people who will negate what this says, but Mother quickly said "you do this for Me"...and so for certain I do. Therefore, I relinquish all cares to negative responses, so please keep them to yourself as I write this out of deep love and desire to assist The Mother. The rest is up to you.

Take what you will, or not.

It started out with my concern of the n-clear fallout and the possible dangers that existed for humanity everywhere. She showed up with joy and a smile which surprised me delightfully though, but she assured me, that "'within the consciousness of the Mother, all nu-lear fallout can be transmuted into stardust'". She was very pleased to tell me this and I was very pleased to hear it!

I made a comment that made her laugh and she decided to speak more. She wanted her perspective to be heard, to be known, and to hopefully "'open the consciousness of HuManity within Hers'" for it is only within Her Consciousness, if we should merge with Her, can we live the true magic and m-raculous nature of all Life. I found this perspective mind bogging, that to merge with Her consciousness is how we can experience all her Ma-ic and the worlds of beauty otherwise known as 5th dimensional life.

All of the following words are hers. It has taken me all day to make sure what I've written is her own communication. I cannot be 100% sure as a lot of it I already know and have spoken of before. Maybe this is why she spoke to me, as it would be easy to communicate that which is already known within me. I have had to erase, and rewrite all that was not perfectly expressed for her.

At times she speaks to me what to write, and at times she speaks herself to you, the reader. At times I didn't know what to write anymore, so I walked away, Then in the silence here I would hear something again and was told I could write that. It has taken me all day to be as clear as possible. She repeats her identity often to be understood since there has been an eons long blackout of Mothering awareness, so she needs to repeat.

She made it known that.....

'within the consciousness of the Mother, all nuc-ear fallout can be transmuted into stardust''.

'the mind, intellect, logic, reason, practicality has been the lockdown used to keep humanity in high ignorance...for in that realm of mind there is no room for the Creations of Herself, or Prime Creator...there is simply no room. The intellect of logic, reason, practicality consists of about 4% of all Reality, strictly limited to the density of the 3rd dimensional physical existence, and that 96% of reality is the unseen, and the realms of most of where Life is born, truly takes place, and is transcendent and transcending, and where there is room for mag-c and mir-cles....the Natural state of Life and all within it.

The lockdown of the mind within intelligence/logic is a patriarchal construct, and is foreign and fatal to Life because it specifically excludes the Mother, the Feminine, the Woman, the Mystery, for the unseen to be born, and where the impossible becomes possible, the natural state of Creation.

'Anything that removes the Mother is fatal to life. All things based on this elimination of the Creator is a downward spiral into lack of consciousness. The well known 'Fall of Man'' began with this singularity of extricating me from your reality. To define me as only a physical body is to show how you've been indoctrinated into a 4% reality (as your science has now figured out) of limitations and scientific dogma, and accepted the program to cut you off and out of my existence.

I exist and am to be experienced in the imagination via the Heart as are all my stories and mythologies through which I am still accessible. Though I am seen in the physical with the 4% brain, logic and reason as Nature and the body known as Earth, this is only a tiny portion of my existence, and if you reside only in this amount of space within your own consciousness you will find it difficult to experience the vastness of me.

I do whirlwinds and dances around your immutable physics! It all has to be rewritten when they come across my realities. What is logic to them is deconstructed when they come up against my realities and they can never understand, explain, nor dismiss the magnitude of magnificence that I am, with mind or intellect, but I can only be experienced when such limitations are suspended. I reside mostly in the imagination of play and mi-acles, in stories, in experience, in feelings and in sentiment, in ma-ic and mystery and it is this very mystery and mag-c that Creates! And thus, your nuc-ear radiation can be rearranged within my consciousness.

'For the Mother IS CONSCIOUSNESS. Consciousness being a realm, a dimension of existence. Without the Mother there is none, only a physical living existence. The Dark Patriarchy knows this and has instilled this lack of Mother in all constructs within HuMan paradigms planet wide from their w-rs, their r-ligions to their educational systems and the enslaving construct of working for another of their creations...money. These, the mechanics of demise of Human Consciousness. Beliefs and teachings were not enough, they had to replace the perfection of my creations with abominations of their own.

'The re-igions known in pre-Ch-istian history as paganism, honored the balance between the Mother and Father, or more accurately Yin and Yang, and at least here there was both. These two forces cannot be explained to your mind. Balance being the key with which all was kept in harmony with each other and with which emotional stability was prevalent. An emotionally stable being is not prone to false teachings. They possess an inner strength that is kept alive with the Light of Truth. This is the indicator that all is well. This balance kept the extreme beauty and diversity of life's creatures available to be perceived and experienced by all and resulted in much joy. Which means all of her beings of creations, including the mythological elementals, f-iries, etc....these are also part of her creation and therefore were experienced by Humans and animals

When the dark patriarchy came along, by eliminating Her, they thus began to eliminate the Humans ability to interact with all in her realm, demonizing all non human living creatures including the woman, and over time with great violence and deep conditioning Humans were less and less able to experience the rich diversities of all living beings in co existence with them, not because the others were sent into another realm for this would imply they came from another realm, no....nor did they cease to exist, but that by the dark priests cutting the Mother out of HuMan consciousness including all her other diverse creatures, HuMan consciousness was sent into a lower realm of mind only, and thus not able to see those other beings demonized by the dark priests.

HuManity descended into small mind locked out of the greater consciousness of life that is the Mother and all her Creations....including our abilities to connect with and interact daily with these other beings all of which and whom imparted a magi-al quality to life and made it extremely diverse and enjoyable to live life. These were experienced by the single all seeing third eye, the pineal gland which sees beyond physical dimensions. But the dark patriarchy destroyed that with their religi-ns, by b-ood and sword, fire and enslavement, by coercion and manipulation, and by o-cult means, with a program to eliminate the Mother from the Creational stories, to the Mother in community, for many various reasons.
