Subject: Disclosure. Part 3.
April 7, 2011.

This talks about a extraterrestrial attending a summit meeting.

Apparently, Bin Laden was organizing and training people to conduct attacks against Iraqi oil fields and pipelines. The people believed they were doing the right thing -- by fighting the Great Satan through cutting off the oil. However, if that oil had ever been able to flow out of Iraq, the supply would have gone up -- and prices would have come crashing down. Bin Laden apparently could have been killed a long, long time ago. His whereabouts were known -- but no one went after him. He was being kept alive in order to boost oil prices and profits. No one who profited from high oil prices had any intention of ever seeing Bin Laden killed.

For that same reason, the Obama Administration's surprise operation has sent shock-waves through the insider community.

QUITE UNEXPECTED "MOTHER LODE" OF COMPUTER DATA

It is also interesting to note that Obama was apparently the only one in his administration who didn't want to blow the whole compound to smithereens.

<http://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-1382828/Osama-Bin-Laden-dead-picture-White-House-NOT-release-gruesome-photo.html>

Intelligence experts in Afghanistan are today sifting through a treasure trove of computer hard drives and other intelligence captured from the compound in Pakistan - described by one official as 'the mother load'. A senior U.S. official said Navy SEALs had recovered 10 hard drives, 5 computers and more than 100 storage devices from the compound - including discs, DVDs and thumb drives.

This could turn into very big news. What if Bin Laden was still actively in contact with certain groups -- at a level that is so treasonous as to be absolutely astonishing to the average person? Use your imagination and think about it. Who would know -- and who would want you to know? Whether any of this will see the light of day or not, I have no idea -- but this may have the potential to completely unveil the truth behind 9/11 and many other dark conspiracies once and for all.

FORESHADOWING

I also see the strike against Bin Laden as a tremendous foreshadowing of what Disclosure will be like for the average person. In order for Disclosure to occur, some very great negative forces will have to be exposed and nullified. In the conventional Western media mindset, Bin Laden was THE ULTIMATE evil. For many truth-seekers, "the ultimate evil" on this planet goes much farther than Bin Laden. The exposure and nullification of these groups should ideally occur in the form of world tribunals rather than gangland-style shootings, as we apparently just saw with Bin Laden. I believe there are many innocent people trapped within these groups -- and it would be a great atrocity to start new Salem witch trials and treat everyone as if they were equally culpable. For now, the point is that Bin Laden's apparent death is a "very big event" in mass consciousness. Disclosure would be a much, much bigger event.

FORGET ABOUT BIN LADEN FOR A MINUTE -- THERE IS A BIGGER STORY

I did say that a plan for Disclosure was approved by all the various "alphabet soup" agencies. I did not say that they agreed to do this willingly. In fact, it appears they had no choice. These documents would probably never have been released, except for the fact that the BRICS alliance -- B-azil, R-ssia, I-dia, C-ina and South A-rica (with N-geria and C-ngo apparently soon to follow) -- insisted that it happen.

BRICS now possesses the resources, numbers, manpower and assets -- including extraterrestrial assistance -- to force the negative factions on this planet to stand down. And if the Western agencies didn't disclose, BRICS was going to do it without them.

THE JANUARY SUMMIT

I believe the strike against Bin Laden was conducted with the direct oversight and collaboration of the BRICS alliance.

Chinese premier Hu Jintao visited the US for a major summit in January -- and according to my top insiders, an extraterrestrial human diplomat came along with him to negotiate the terms for Disclosure and the standing down of negative factions.

The visitor was apparently wearing a brown jacket, and was there at the initial meeting with Vice President B-den when Jintao first arrived. I was told that there are certain pictures, which may or may not ever have made it into the mainstream media, showing Bi-en and others looking completely dazzled to meet this enigmatic man and shake his hand.

This summit came as a direct result of China's October Surprise -- where extraterrestrial allies of BRICS began systematically destroying classified military assets beginning in October 2010, as I have documented in several prior articles.

The sudden mass deaths of birds and fish, beginning in late December and continuing into early January, appeared to be the result of desperate HAARP counter-strikes against these attacks.

So far, I have not been able to find any photograph of a man in a brown coat during the time of this diplomatic visit. If you find anything like this, please send it along and we'll use it!

This mid-January summit appears to have been a direct precursor to the official Disclosure plan that was drawn up in mid-March. The documents were then released in April -- followed by the stunning attack against Bin Laden.

WHY DID THEY FINALLY CAVE IN BY THE END OF MARCH?

Everything had obviously come to a head by the end of March. That's when I heard from multiple sources that a final Disclosure plan had been submitted for all the insider agencies to sign off on.

After the China / US summit in January, BRICS apparently took steps in March that sealed the deal.

One possible example of an 'endgame maneuver' was an edgy article from March 1st that threatened to openly disclose the existence of joint human / ET bases now in existence on the Moon.

India's Space Research Organization Announces Giant Underground Chamber on Moon

<http://gizmodo.com/#%215773346/giant-underground-chamber-discovered-in-the-moon>

Back in 2009, the Japanese Space Agency JAXA announced a moon hole deep enough to contain a small human base. Now, the Indian Space Research Organization has discovered a "giant underground chamber" near the Moon's equator, in the Oceanus Procellarum area.

The huge cave discovered by the Chandrayaan-1 spacecraft is more than one mile long (1.7 kilometers) and 393 feet wide (120 meters).

By comparison, the vertical hole that Jaxa discovered was only 213 feet (65 meters across) and 289 feet deep (88 meters). This new chamber is big enough to contain a small lunar city or a secret Nazi base with a few thousand UFOs.

The Indian researchers have published a paper detailing their findings and talking about the possibility of making this giant underground vault as a future human base. The settlement would be protected from radiation, micro-meteor impacts, dust and extreme temperature changes by the lava structure....

They also point out that explorers would only need minimal construction, without the added cost of having to use expensive shields against the hazardous lunar environment.

If humans ever colonize this chamber, I hope they call the city Attilan.

REVERSE-ENGINEERED UFO SHOT DOWN IN RUSSIA?

The very same day this article on a possible Moon base came out -- March 1st -- an unidentified flying object was shot down in Russia. this appears to have been an Old W-rld Order asset, snooping around where it didn't belong and acting in a threatening manner. Part of what leads me to think this is "one of ours" is the mention of a "pyramid-shaped UFO." Apparently this system utilizes the same technology as the flying black triangle -- only now you have three triangles formed into a pyramid shape. This may have been one of the key events that led the insiders to realize they had to surrender. If their own technology could be shot down by the Russians, or their ET allies, they no longer possessed the needed mili-ary advantage to win the battle.

Massive UFO Crash in Russia

<http://philosophers-stone.co.uk/wordpress/2011/03/massive-ufo-event-in-russia-crashed-flying-saucer/>

A UFO event of Roswell proportions has taken place in Russia and is being ignored by Western media.

On March 1 in the Irkutsk region of Siberia, a huge object, glowing pink and blue according to some accounts, was seen by thousands of locals as it hurtled towards Earth.

An enormous explosion was then heard over a wide area. Curious and frightened residents inundated various p-lice and rescue departments with phone calls. The mil-tary soon confirmed that it had not been doing any exercises in the area and therefore cannot be responsible for any reports of UFOs.

One villager, Mr Sergei Ivanov, described what he saw:

It did not look like an aircraft, more like a UFO or some other unexplained object.
