Subject: DK And David I. Part 2.
May 26, 2011.

The purpose of my trip to Boise, Idaho was to witness my granddaughter's high school graduation. As most of you already know, my number four son died of drinking and no exercise 11 years. I had been told that his best friend Earl had said he would swear that my son Edwin had appeared to him and he could hear Edwin laughing after he had died. I confronted Earl about this and he said that it was true.

This explains more about how David I. is being protected.

The deeper message needs to be that each and every human being has the potential and capacity to connect with their divine aspects, their multidimensional nature, and that they too can hear the voice of their individual Godhead, the Divine Aspect of their being in their own way and it would not necessarily always be a male representation of that Divine Essence.

Many might find a female voice speaking to them - something that many who have grown up in a Christianized belief system still find very hard to believe or accept.

As to the secondary level of the question of why many think that they have the only true representation of God, the only true understanding and belief; this has much to do with a dualistic understanding that humanity is tied into at this time.

This Awareness reminds all that in a dualistic system of belief one is either right or wrong.

The ego cannot allow itself to consider that it might be wrong on what is held as its Truth and therefore holds that the conceptualization of the Divinity of God must be right the way they think it to be.

Thus individuals are convinced that their versions of the divine, of God, are the correct observations and beliefs of this matter.

This is further supported when they share a common ground with others who hold this conceptualization of God, for example, of God being an old man sitting on a throne with his flowing beard and his flowing robes, judging each and every individual who comes before him.

Many reject this concept now, for they have already expanded their conceptual understanding of the divine. But there are many who still hold an old traditional belief of a demanding God, a punishing God, and a vengeful God.

These individuals in their beliefs will put out to others that they are right, and in the extreme would force others to believe as they believe.

This was part of the development of man's understanding of the higher powers.

There were times when people were put to death if they were heretics to the existing beliefs that were given at that time.

Many, many, many millions of women were destroyed at that time, burnt at the stake because of their nature as the temptress, as defined in the deep beliefs and stories put out by these beings who held that very strict belief and conceptualization of God.

This is no longer the case, but if certain social conventions were removed and these people were given ultimate power once again, these people who hold such drastic concepts of God as a vengeful God they might indeed rise once again, due to dualistic thinking, due to their thought that they are right and others are wrong and those who are wrong must be shown the error of their ways, must be punished, and must be even tortured to renounce their erroneous thinking on this matter.

If they were given unbridled power, they might again bring in such a scenario.

But at this time the general level of consciousness and the thought regarding the Di-ine has indeed evo-ved to a much more liberal level that has much more tolerance than it once had.

Yet there still are pockets of society and nations that hold older beliefs and more fundamental beliefs, that are trying to push their way ahead. Generally speaking, the more fundamental r-ligions, be they J-daic, M-slim, C-ristian or any other fundamental belief system, would still force the populace to believe as they, for they have the right of it, as they believe.

This, of course, is erroneous but this is still how it is held.

Ascension would see the dropping of such rigid dualistic thinking in favor of a much more expanded awareness.

Those old conceptualizations of div-nity, of -od Itself would be seen to have simply been phases of thought; levels of thinking that defined the experience for those having that extreme experience at that time.

In the society that exists after Ascension, such radical strict black-and-white dualistic thinking simply would no longer exist, as Unity Thinking and belief would have replaced such dualistic thinking.

However, that which is planet B and the scenarios that would be available to planet B might well see a revival of such extreme attitudes and behavior.

This completes this answer.

Questioner: (Thank you) Can we go back to David I-ke for just a sec? Is he being protected in the sense that he's not "bothered" by the Powers That Be?

Cosmic Awareness: He is being protected, but he must always be observant to the fact that he too must be somewhat careful about how he pushes. His level at this time is barely accepted by those Powers That Be, for they do understand to eliminate him at his point would make a martyr of him and many would become even more convinced that all that he has ever said, as radical as it seems to many, must be correct, for he was eliminated. Of course, another danger if he becomes too popular is that they might take him out in an airplane accident, even though hundreds of others might also d-e.

It is to be remembered that those Powers That Be who have taken others out that have proven too dangerous to them are not concerned with the dea-h of several people or even several hundred people to achieve their ends.

Therefore, even though this Awareness says that this entity is being protected, he cannot disregard the protocols of protection that exist around him by becoming too abrasive and too demanding that he be paid attention to.

He is aware of this and therefore, generally speaking, although many know of him, keeps a fairly low level of attention on himself, and is low key in this manner although his voice is most definitely still being heard.

Curiously enough, as this Awareness spoke earlier, the Interpreter did meet this entity several years ago and had the opportunity at that time to express to David I-ke the information contained by the Cosmic Awareness Communications newsletters and of the organization itself and even of this Awareness, and this entity has indeed gone to that which is the CAC site, and has even familiarized himself with information from the CAC newsletter and the information of this Awareness.

He is a spi-itual being who is here indeed to fulfill a high purpose, the purpose of illuminating the truth for those who are seeking it.

Paul-Thinks-G-d-Is-Crazy

Questioner: Thank you, I just wondered. This next question comes from Paul Som-rville. He writes: "Something came to my attention that makes me think twice. Ma-thew and SaLuSa talk about Earth ascending. There should be an uplifting.

Awareness seems to be saying the opposite, saying we may have to experience transmogrification or find portals and vortexes to go through. That sounds like Earth is not ascending and we have to take unusual measures if we want to escape.

If G-d designed this planet A and planet B stuff, then I wonder if Go- is crazy. Earth should ascend and those mentally, morally or otherwise unfit should go elsewhere. Maybe we could find a portal for the I-luminati and push them through it.

Planet B never made sense to me. Why should the Earth fail to ascend or any part of the Earth? What is wrong with the part that doesn't ascend? We don't need a continuation of the little Greys breeding like rats under Arizona or the Orion Reptoids shape-shifting to appear as humans. If the whole planet ascends, then the garbage gets flushed. Does -od really have a better idea? I doubt it.
Love and light Paul." Comments please?

Cosmic Awareness: This Awareness wonders if this individual has truly understood what this Awareness has been speaking about, that the Earth will ascend. This Awareness has never said the Earth will not ascend. This Awareness has always said that the aspect of Earth that raises its consciousness, and that is raising its consciousness, will separate from that stream of consciousness reality that will constitute the Planet B that will be a continuance for those who have no wish or desire to ascend at this time.

This individual seems to fail to understand the eternal nature of the s-ul and its prerequisite to have many experiences in many different realities, even beyond that which is the reality of 3rd dimensionality on this planet. Because the so-l is multidimensional in nature and has millions, even billions, even an infinite amount of experiences in the various realities that exist within the mind of G0d Itself, Planet B is but a small little theme park to experience for those who wish to experience it, those who wish to play in this paradigm that defines the beliefs of a 3rd dimensional reality that is disconnected from its spi-ritual nature.
The G-d Essence does not condemn any aspect of the -oul or s-uls who choose to have experiences from ever returning back into the fabric of the sou-.
The-purpose-of-sp-ritual-evolution-is-to-expand-Consciousness and the awareness on all levels.
Thus, even the planet itself is seeking to expand her consciousness, her level of spiri-ual awareness of herself of itself as a planet that has a conscious identity and even that which could be understood as an expression of the so-l itself.
Thus, in the efforts of the planet, of Mother Earth, of Gaia seeking to know herself at a higher level, she is moving towards that expansion into that higher frame of consciousness that is Ascension.
The many who wish to be part of this can indeed partake in it and not all will pass through vortexes and portals. Many will simply continue their lives and may not even understand that an event occurred in the first place. What they will see and understand is that life has changed.
