Subject: More Extraterrestrials. Part 4.
May 30, 2011.

This tells where you might find some space people in Las Vegas, Nevada.

Cold-blooded like all reptiles, the Reptiloid is found to flourish in a warm, tropical climate [normally artificial... big caves]. With imperfect respiration providing just enough oxygen to supply tissues and maintain the processing of food and combustion, their temperature can be raised only a few degrees above the ambient [this suggests that heat weapons, like flame-throwers and so on, may prove to be very effective and fatal to this species under battle conditions]. The reproductive system is ovouniparous, with eggs hatching in the oviduct prior to birth. The underdeveloped Reptiloid cerebellum [for faster activities, physical activities] results in a slowness and simpler city of movement. The Reptiloid eye is composed of thousands of microscopic facets, each facet with its own independent protective lid. The eye is almost never closed entirely during waking hours; rather, sections of the organ are shut down in conjunction with the dominant light source. The reptiloids survived hidden inside the Earth [within] Big Caves Underground.

The Reptilian Blood Legacy

There are at least 5 types of Reptilians noted by various people. One type is only 4 feet tall green colored and very timid.

They would like to come up and mingle with humans, but they know that humans are not ready for them.

Another type, seen on the grey's ships are 9 feet tall, brown in color and states that on the planet Nibiru where he came from, the Reptilians have split into two groups. One group is violent and practices cannibalism of other Reptilians, but another group of these same Reptilians have decided that violence is not the way to live, and have changed spiritually and do not eat other Reptilians nor humans as have been reported at Dulce (see above) There is a Royal hierarchy of Reptilians. None of these Reptilians look like any photos I've seen on the internet. Their snouts are much longer - not short like the cartoon Geiko, but longer - not quite as long as an alligator.

SIRIANS

Sirians are usually described as about 6 feet tall, blond hair cut very short, and blue eyes that have a cat's eye vertical pupil.

There has been some discussion as to whether these negative Sirians are part of the Kamagol II group that built the records chamber under Gizeh, but that has not been established.

The negative Sirians are considered part of the Orion group that is playing the domination/control game.

SHINING ONES

Tibetans and American Indians both refer to shining beings they encounter in isolated spaces during secret religious rituals. They are humanoid and lit within. They guard sacred sites on earth, holding them in trust for a future of wonders and are bearers of great wisdom.

These may be the counterparts of the Celtic fairy traditions. Some abductees, including Betty Andreasson have reported such beings.

Science fiction writer PHILIP K. DICK wrote letters at great length beginning in February 1978 referring to encounters with just such shining beings. He wrote half a million words on incidents between him and the light beings over a four year period before his death in 1982. Dick found himself kept awake at night by, violent phosphene activity... within my head it communicated with me in the form of a computer like or Artificial Intelligence system like voice, quite different from any human voice, neither male nor female, and a very beautiful sound it was, the most beautiful sound I ever heard...the imposition of another human personality unto mine produced startling modifications in my behavior... Some living, highly intelligent entity manifested itself inside me and around me, but what it was, what its purpose was, where it came from... each theory leaves some datum unexplained...and I know this is not going to change. I have the impression that a master gameplayer and magician and trickster is involved."

Dick's insistence that it was both another human personality and that it had a computerlike voice, supports the theories being presented here. If the shining beings that imposed itself was both a robot and an emissary from a human source, this makes perfect sense.

PHILIP K DICK was a very influential writer, so much so that an ANNUAL AWARD IS GIVEN IN HIS NAME. His stories were made into movies such as BLADE RUNNER AND TOTAL RECALL. featuring ACCURATE UFOLOGICAL ELEMENTS.

STINKY BLOBS

(We don't know their real name - Clay Pickering called them "The Conformers"). These beings are usually wider than they are tall. Their height is about 5' 6" tall. They can be as wide as 9 feet. They change colors according to moods and thoughts. They seem to be made of something like PlayDoh They move across the floor akin to a inch worm or a slug. The Navy contact said they are 85% silicon and 15% carbon. They do have appendages, but the appendages only show when they are needed to grasp something. The appendages come out of the body in a snake-like form. They do not have a language that anyone has yet learned well. It was said by an abductee who saw them, that they do not communicate with telepathy, but Clay Pickering said his Navy source stated that they did. They make a variety of clicking noises, rather like pebbles hitting an empty bucket, but they seem to communicate more by smell (thats why they are called 'stinky') The have been noted to smell like burnt popcorn, burnt coffee, oil, skunky smell, sulphur smell, and others - not really pleasant. What has been learned so far is that they are extremely religious and have a prophet who told them that Earth was waiting for them to conquer it and take over similar to the Pilgrims and others to follow them who took over America. (Their prophet may be another stinky blob being. We don't know.) The greys have been attempting to get them to leave the earth space, and right now they are in quarantine by the greys on a secret ufo base on Jupiter.

Keeping them in quarantine is difficult because of the noises they make, they can imitate other sounds they hear on the ships. Clay Pickering in New York said during a projectcamelot.org interview that he was contacted by someone in the Navy who has seen these stinky blobs and in a secret meeting, the blobs were orange. On a 'grey's ship' they were blue. The Navy informer stated that Reptilians were working and speaking with the Blobs. Touching them causes burns to human skin. Clay Pickering stated that the blobs wore bio-suits, but on the grey's ships, they didn't need bio-suits. The Navy source stated that these blobs have been around observing, 5 - 6 thousand years since the time of the pyramids and have a base nearby in our solar system. The greys state that the blobs are new to earth and have never been here before. The source says a person has to be modified to be in their presence, and be able to understand what they are saying, but exactly how this is done, we aren't told. It has something to do with some kind of technology. The greys are studying their language.

An abductee source saw them on a grey's ship through a glass window. (It sounds to me like Clay Pickering does not have all the facts of what they are like either.)

TALL WHITES

Identified and named by Charles Hall.

In 1965-66, Airman First Class Charles Hall was Range Weather Observer for several gunnery ranges. Hall's job was to release and track weather balloons, measure the "winds aloft", and call in reports to Nellis AFB. . What was unique about his situation was that as he was performing his weather observing duties, he was almost continuously surrounded by a group of extraterrestrials observing him. Tall, white-skinned Hall eventually dubbed them the Tall Whites - somewhat human-looking but clearly not of any known Earthly race of human, the beings would be found in his weather shacks, all over his equipment, even watching him shower in his (otherwise-deserted) barracks, coming and going with complete freedom. Charles Hall states in his books that the Tall Whites' ships come into Earth's atmosphere only on the full moon when light it brightest on Earth. The come only during the warm months as they can't tolerate cold weather. It is apparent they come here only to repair their ships and allow their children to vacation in the desert sands. They do apparently like to gamble in Las Vegas and they put on human makeup and wigs and dress very covered up and go into the casinos. They are able to pass as strange looking thin, tall humans. They walk with a strange shuffle because they aren't used to the Earth's gravity. They love to walk around Indian Springs and look at the stars because they can't see stars in the sky from their home planet. The Tall White mothers always say that they love their children more than human mothers do. If you ever meet a Tall White mother, if you say to them, You love your children more than human mothers love their children, she will relax and feel more comfortable with the human. The Tall White women are far more talkative than the men who are all about protection of the family groups. The military knows they are here and protects them from harm when they are off the base. The ships are kept inside man-made caves made of concrete. Did the military make the caves for them? We don't know.
