This talks about a person being a Wanderer.

As this Awareness has already explained, d-mons came from those beings that are now known as Reptilians and represent a necessary component to an army of beings that serve what is known as Satan or the d-vil. However, this Awareness would indeed recommend that the Ouija board be avoided, as it is not something that should be played with by those who have no understanding or awareness of what it truly is. It is a means by which to open those unseen levels of consciousness that exist beyond the veil of a physical being. Not the Veil of Forgetfulness, but rather the curtain that separates a physical i-carnate being, a human being, to those who have died in the physical but have not ascended back into their higher consciousness, back into that which is their soul fabric. There are many who chose not to go back, who chose to become earthbound, who are still attached for one reason or another to the physical plane of existence.

While the Veil of Forgetfulness exists so that the s-ul aspect that is having its experience forgets its source, forgets its home, so that it can be totally focused into the physical experience it is having, often this extends to those who d-e quickly, those who have strong attachment to their physical life, those who have strong angst or fear that they will be severely punished after they di-. These different groups of individuals often choose not to return back into that which is known as the Light, that which is known as G-d. They therefore choose to stay on the planet, no longer occupying physical form but at the same time no longer following into that higher level of energy that was made available to them at the moment of their de-ths. Often those who -ie quickly in an accident are projected out of their body and are confused thereafter because they do not know that they have di-d. There was no experience of dea-h. It was not a long protracted experience where they understood they were d-ing. They literally were in the body one moment and out the next. Often there are reports of confused aspects of the so-l who are viewing their own body or viewing their own -eath or viewing the accident that had occurred to them, not realizing even that they are d-ad. Therefore, these beings, in confusion, may still wander on that which is known as planet Earth, although they are not in physical form. There are those who have held so deeply to their physical experience, that have derived so much satisfaction from materialism, that also may not wish to completely let go of the physical experience, may not be ready to move back into their deeper nature, into their true nature. Then there are those who, because of their lives, such as those beings who are in charge, those beings who have elected not to return back to the 5th dimension, for they are part of the E-ite, part of the c-bal of power that manipulate and control matters on the planet Earth - that when they d-e they return only to the 4th dimensional levels for a time until they can re-ncarnate.

This is seen as a bypassing of the proper working of things, they do not return back into the 5th dimension, and they do return in specially prepared host bodies that often are created, if you will, through rituals and de-onic satanic ceremony. This is opening a door this Awareness at this moment does not wish to go further into or beyond and at this time brings this to completion. This Awareness did get sidetracked to the question of the Ouija board, and Its explanation of those entities that are -isincarnate, and It wishes to complete Its answer in this matter. Often it is those who have no understanding of their danger that they open a back door to these di-incarnate beings, some of which feed off the human energies, the life force energies, and attach themselves to humans. There are many who may have made the mistake of opening such a back door through playing with the Ouija board and did not know how to cleanse themselves of these entities that attached themselves to them, and go through their life often not even realizing such a thing has happened to them.

These individuals can even go into schizophrenia and other mental disorders, not realizing that the voice or voices they are hearing are actual entities and beings that attached themselves to them.

This happens through other means as well, but the Ouija board is one way by which those who are naive and ignorant often open an inappropriate doorway.

It is only when one has a fuller understanding and awareness of what could occur that one could take action to protect oneself when one uses the Ouija board, including invoking the highest level of spir-tual protection and light around themselves as one uses this board.

It is not the highest way to communicate with spirit-al beings but it is a way that is popular amongst younger individuals and older individuals as well.

This Awareness does advise against such use of the Ouija board when one is unaware of the dangers involved.

Birth-After-Ascension

Questioner: (Thank you) We have a question from Sheila Lloyd M-lvey there is no location. There are three questions within her commentary. She writes, "I'm a very isolated lady living on the south coast of England. I know no others like myself. I have been waiting for Ascension for more than 15 years but I have not been able to discuss it with anyone. It was with a great deal of satisfaction that I found your article about Ascension. I have been wondering whether relationships, for example: families with children will continue as now, being conceived and born in the usual way?"

Cosmic Awareness: In several timelines this may well be so.

What marks Ascension is a broadening of the mind and the consciousness, an ev-ling of consciousness to the higher perception and awareness of one's spiri-ual nature.

Thus it is that if one ev-ives to a high enough level, one might indeed be able to come back into physical form and have physical experiences, but basically would always realize that they are of a high spiritu-l essence or an aspect of the so-l.

This would be one possible timeline or one possible scenario that an individual or many individuals may experience.

But another may be a moving forward beyond that which is now known but not quite reaching the highest stage of spiritual consciousness and evo-ution that would allow one to pop in and out of physicality.

For many, Ascension will be a process by which the higher principles of spi-itual awareness start to ground themselves into their physical realities.

They begin to understand that cooperation with Mother Earth and with others in the human family is essential, and more than this, desired; and that in these scenarios of a possible Ascension experience, they may find themselves still having a physical life, still having children and creating families, but the teachings to those children will be enlightened teachings. They will no longer teach their children the lies that the children of the previous Earth were taught.

Many are taught erroneously from the beginning, being given belief systems that lead them into gross materialism, into a separation of sp-rit and the sou-.

This type of experience would not be appropriate on that which is a Planet A scenario, and thus there would indeed be the possibility that there would be families and a way of life that continues as it does now but at a higher and much more ev-lved level of awareness.

Her Son Is Not Yet Awake

Questioner: (Thank you). Her next question: "Another question relates to our work as Wanderers.

I have been 'awake' for many years but my son whom I consider as more likely than me to be a Wanderer, as he radiates such love, is not and shows no interest in Ascension. He does agree that it would be very nice if it were true."

Your comment please?

Cosmic Awareness: There is really not much this Awareness can say to the observation she has made of her son at this time.

While it is so he is of that nature that is known as a Wanderer, he has not yet awoken to this truth or this inner understanding.

This Awareness sees however that with the changing energies and the rising consciousness that will occur over the next year and a half, that he may well start to discover this inner truth.

The things that he finds interesting and delightful, if they were true, may begin to have greater truth to him and he will very quickly, because of his truer nature, move into this awareness and this understanding, and this would, of course, be a very pleasant development for his mother.

Questioner: She carries on, I think you covered this already.

I'll repeat and then will carry on with the rest of the question, "Would it be correct to assume that at a critical time in the near future, we will both feel an urge from within to do certain things? I have experienced such sensations in the past.

Other than that I am unaware of doing anything of value for mankind, although both of us are grateful for the hard knocks in our respective lives."

Any comments please?

Cosmic Awareness: First of all to the first part of her comment: this is in the affirmative that they both will become more conscious and aware, the son catching up with his mother in this matter.

In general, it is always important to realize that all human beings have within them the potential to awaken whether or not they are Wanderers.

This does not mean that those who are here to have a physical experience that does not include the Ascension experience, in that they ascend to those higher levels, will necessarily have such an experience.
