Subject: More Extraterrestrials. Part 5 of 5.
June 3, 2011.

This talks about the Ebens and Serpo.

Regarding your question as to the number of "S-level" facilities at Area 51:
I can only tell you there are nine (9) such levels within the S-2 facility at Area 51.

As to what is done on each level and at each facility, I don't want to disclose that highly c-assified information as it could very well compromise the security of the base; our group was unanimous on this issue.

In only the most general of terms, there are nine (9) levels at the S-2 complex.

They are:

Level 1: Administration

Level 2: Containment for Visitors

Level 3: Open storage and work sites for Visitor Crafts

Level 4: HAZMAT Containment Rooms

Level 5: Propulsion System Testing and Experimental Station-APS

Level 6: Secondary Containment for Visitor Crafts

Level 7: Vaults- Storage sites for Visitor's gifts [referenced in SERPO

Level 8: Storage site for Visitor's High Energy Devices

Level 9: Not used, at least through 1995

No one has mentioned the poor guard.

The examination of the scene revealed the guard was imploded.

The Archquloid had a hidden weapon in [on?] his body. The weapon, which was recovered and locked up, contained a form of an energy-directed beam.

The beam struck the guard's body and imploded it.

The largest piece of a body part left was about the size of a quarter.

ONE EYE-ALL WAS FOUND INTACT.

The Archquloid lived for about one (1) year after it was shot, but it was in constant pain since our doctors couldn't adequately and effectively treat all of his problems.

According to the information we developed from the Archquloid, which appears in the 300-page report, the guard threatened him and he

k-lled the guard in self-defense.

The investigation revealed the guard's handgun (Colt .45 automatic) was NEVER fired.

The gun was not destroyed, which brings up another interesting point.

If the guard was threatening the Archquloid with a gun, WHY DIDN'T the Archquloid destroy the w-apon? As you can see, there are many Unanswered questions.

In closing, the O-I Special Agent fired six (6) shots, striking the Archquloid four (4) times.

The Agent fired from a distance of 165 feet, which is really outstanding shooting.

-VICTOR: This particular "VisItor" was suffering from a medical [mental/emotional] condition.

Consider the following: - this creature came to this planet from another solar system; traveled about 38 light years - was locked up in a special containment housing complex; was shocked by our civilization and our culture; was not allowed to leave; was under strict compliance controls (metal straps that shocked the creature when it tried to leave or did not comply with our instructions), and was unable to communicate in our language.

It was probably suffering from PTSS [Post Traumatic Stress Syndrome].

What a shock!

This is the same type of shock felt by our 12 Team Members enroute to Planet SERPO in 1965.

The creature recovered from its gunshot wounds inflicted by the OS-agent. But it later d-ed, about one year later.

CATALOGUED ALIEN SPECIES and THEIR CELESTIAL ORIGINS:

VICTOR: Regarding your question as to where some of the aliens come from, here is the complete list of the alien species the U.S. Government knows of and has catalogued:

- 1) Ebens Planet SERPO in Zeta Re ticuli
- 2) Archguloids Planet PONTEL near the Cygnus Arm
- 3) Quadloids Planet OTTO in Zeta Reticuli (genetically engineered "praying mantis" and lizard-like creatures created by the Ebens)
- 4) Heplaloids Planet DAMCO near the Cygnus Arm
- 5) Trantaloids Planet SILUS in Zeta Reticuli

NOTE: SOME of the above appeared in "Project SERPO" POSTING #19]

NOTES: Both planets DAMCO and PONTEL are in the Milky Way near the Cygnus Arm.

B0 DAMCO is from a solar system which contains 11 planets and it is the fourth (4th) planet out; it's size is a little bigger than that of Earth.

B0 PONTEL comes from another solar system entirely with a sun just about the size of ours. PONTEL is the fifth (5th) planet out and just a little smaller than ours.
