2011.

June 13,

This metions what will happen in China.

.....

There's no environmental impact at all.
Use the power of the tides, the oceans, the waves in clever ways. Use them in a bigger way than any designer has ever put together yet, to power your cities. The largest cities on your planet are on the coasts, and that's where the power source is. Hydro is the answer. It's not dangerous. You've ignored it because it seems harder to engineer and it's not in a controlled environment. Yet, you've chosen to build one of the most complex and dangerous steam engines on Earth - n-clear power. We also have indicated that all you have to do is dig down deep enough and the planet will give you heat. It's right below the surface, not too far away all the time. You'll have a Gaia steam engine that way, too. There's no danger at all and you don't have to dig that far. All you have to do is heat fluid, and there are some fluids that boil far faster than water. So we say it again and again. Maybe this will show you what's wrong with what you've been doing, and this will turn the attitudes of your science to create something so beautiful and so powerful for your grandchildren. Why do you think you were given the moon? Now you know. This benevolent Universe gave you an astral body that allows the waters in your ocean to push and pull and push on the most regular schedule of anything you know of. Yet there you sit enjoying just looking at it instead of using it. It could be enormous, f-ee energy forever, ready to be converted when you design the methods of capturing it. It's time. So in closing, do you understand what you're seeing? You're seeing intelligent design, quantum energy and high consciousness. You are seeing changes in Human nature. You're seeing countries putting things together instead of separating. You are seeing those who don't want w-r and instead want peace, good schools for their children, safety in their streets and a say in their go-ernment. We told you it was going to happen this way. I want my partner to teach these things that I have said in his 3D lectures for awhile. Many won't be able to know these things otherwise. Give energy to those who are in struggle. Help them to get through these things in an easier fashion than not. That's what old so-ls do. Use your Human compassion engine! Change that old paradigm of struggle, and instead accelerate the differences that are going to happen without strife, without de-th. Be in the right place at the right time and understand your compassionate place on this earth. You are an old sou- standing on this planet giving compassion wherever you can. That's the core. That's the fuel of Go-, and that will plant the seeds of peace on Earth. You've never been closer. Finally, try to ignore that which may change to the negative. We said it. Some things may not go as smoothly as you think, for these things need time and mistakes are made in order for you to learn.

The Recession

The recession is the result of you deciding to change your banking. The Il-uminati told many that this could never happen. Why? Because big money can't be touched. It's just too big for any culture to change it, and they counted on that. Well, it just was changed. Do you understand what you're doing here in this country? It affects the whole planet. You are trying to realign the integrity of the way money is used, printed, and loaned. It's not about one party or one gov-rnment idea. Both had a hand in creating this shift. Maybe it puts another spin on that which you've been told about your economy? When you prune an orchard, for awhile it looks wounded and ugly. Then over time, it blossoms into something far greater than it was.

China

I am Kryon. I've just given you the potentials. "Ah," you say. "But Kryon, right before you leave, you left out the big one. Nobody talks about China."

All right. I'll give you still another prediction. China is very interesting, is it not? Suddenly this very old country finds itself in an odd place. They hold the debt for the Uni-ed States! Some of you would say, "This is not good. This is not going to work." So let me tell you what this is about. Synchronicity has struck, because now China understands that if they're ever going to get paid, they're going to have to ally themselves closer with Western values and help create abundance. Here is the prediction: China will turn North Korea loose soon. The alliance will dissolve, or become stale. There will be p-litical upheaval in China. Not a coup and not a r-volution. Within the inner circles of that which you call Chinese p-litics, there will be a re-evaluation of goals and monetary policy. Eventually, you will see a break with North Korea, allowing still another dictator to fall and unification to occur with the south. How do you like it so far? I look at old -ouls who came into this earth courageous, who are sitting in chairs before me. There was a time when you never thought you would even make it to 2011. But because of what you've accomplished on this planet, you are not only still here, but are moving through the shift. Hard times are ahead. But this is all part of planting the seeds of peace. It doesn't come easy. It slowly, slowly moves in a direction that is positive. Your grandchildren will look at you, the ones who are not even born yet, who are on my side of the veil, who are looking at you now. They are saying, "Keep it up! Because when we get there, it indeed will be a peaceful place." And so it is.
