Subject: Weather Report From The Space People. Part 2, June 30, 2011.

This attempts to show you how to heal yourself and heal others.

W-rs will become obsolete as humankind rejects the concept of harming others, from the utter futility of it. This will not erase greed, of course, for the desire to have it all will increase in the young. As the population grows older, however, the realization that gathering things has no real meaning. Men and women will live longer, of course, and some will choose at first to live forever. As time wears on and intellect increases, it will become clear that this small orb in space has serious limitations and the yearning to return home will send the immortals fleeing back to the Love and Peace of the spiritual kingdom.

We are instructed to give you now the Secret of Healing. This knowledge will be ignored for a time, for the achievement of using the knowledge properly is not easy. The seed is here planted and those who persevere will be the first of the new race of humankind to live unfettered by illness or mental problems. Keep these papers, copy them and share them with others, and either you or someone you know will realize the necessity of opening the consciousness to the re-creation of the body and mind.

THIS IS A GIFT FROM YOUR CREATOR:

There is within you, deeply hidden, the ability to heal your own body from any illness, injury or ailment. Within your body is a specific enzyme that carries the perfect pattern for the body. When it is activated, the enzyme starts broadcasting directions to all cells of the body, directing damaged cells to be replaced, diseased cells to heal, distortions in cells to be re-shaped into perfection. The bodies you have been given are self-perpetuating organisms which can be directed by the conscious mind, as they have always been directed from the subconscious mind.

IF THERE IS THE DESIRE AND NEED TO REMAIN ON THIS WORLD LONGER THAN THE NORMAL LIFE SPAN, AS IT IS KNOWN NOW, YOU HAVE THE INNATE ABILITY TO DO SO.

Immortality seems to be a wonderful goal, and it is possible to attain. But remember, you must realize that spiritual life is restricted enormously by remaining in the physical plane. Until you have experienced the soaring, wonderful spiritual love and beingness during deep meditation, you will not understand this. The spiritual being you really are enters into the physical body only to experience the challenges of density, continuing to rise in knowledge until it is ready to return to the Creator in complete fullness of consciousness; the excess time that the body remains in the third dimension only delays this process.

However, there is no need to live in physical misery while you are embodied. There are many healers today who have the conscious knowledge of the healing process and, when they lay their hands on others to heal, are in truth activating the Healing Enzyme in the body of the other, giving it the go-ahead to start the healing process. The healer calls for energy from God; the energy enters the body of the one seeking help, providing a jump-start for the enzyme, and the healing is commenced. This is the way Jesus, the Christ, healed when walking the Earth. Is it a miracle? No, it is finally using what the Creator has provided for His children. Having knowledge of such a process is the starting point in your own healing.

THE CELLS WHICH PRODUCE THE HEALING ENZYME ARE LOCATED AT THE TOP OF THE SPINAL COLUMN IN THE BRAIN STEM.

There are cases where this cluster of nerves has been so damaged that production of the enzyme is impossible because of the injury. Otherwise, the cells are well protected and lie dormant until activated.

DEEP MEDITATION IS NECESSARY IN ORDER TO ACTIVATE THE PRODUCTION OF THE HEALING ENZYME.

During meditation, the focus of the mind must be transferred to that area of the brain and a direct command is to be given for the enzyme to come forth and be fully active in the body.. You will feel not only a tingling at that spot, but a sharp pain as the energy it contains explodes into life. Do not be alarmed, just relax and let it be.

From then on, when you have need of physical healing, simply direct the enzyme with your conscious mind to take care of it. Focus your attention upon the afflicted part of your body and command that it be healed. Simple as that? Yes, but it will take time and practice to be really effective. Using the command regularly while in a light meditative state will be of great help, keeping this influence in your body activated. If the effectiveness of the enzyme seems to fail, this procedure may be repeated as often as necessary.

To the extent that an individual's conscious thoughts are in balance enough to recognize that mental problems exist, directing personal healing for the mind will be accomplished in the same manner. Deep sorrows, hatreds that cannot be controlled by the mind, depression, etc., can be gently dissipated with the Healing Enzyme. In many cases, this kind of healing will need to be done by another who is proficient in activating the enzyme. A diseased mind cannot activate or control the Healing Enzyme.

Can torn flesh be healed in this way? Yes, it can. This is the way miracle healings are accomplished. Broken bones and tortured flesh will come together and be made whole. This is the secret that humankind has been waiting for.

You have always been in full command of your own bodies and your own lives; humanity has just started to understand this reality. In the times to come, there will be no need for physicians as you and your descendants learn to take care of your own physical needs, although there will always be the need of one person for another, to share love and energy. When a person is seriously hurt and cannot command his/her body, another person can always intercede and activate the Healing Enzyme. Human beings will always need each other as they need the very Light of the Father of Creation around them at all times.

WHEN YOU GIVE LOVE AND HEALING TO ANOTHER, ASK
FIRST THE HIGHER SELF OF THE PERSON TO BE HEALED
FOR PERMISSION TO DO SO.

If the request is denied for any reason, you will feel an almost solid wall come between you and the one you are trying to help heal, and any energy you try to transmit will be turned back. The spiritual Higher Self of each human being has full and Free Will, always, and many are they who have determined before human birth to exit the world at a certain time or for specific reasons, or to suffer physical pain or disabilities, even if the conscious mind is unaware of that purpose.

Use the knowledge of the Healing Enzyme with yourself first. Train yourself in its use; see and understand what happens in your own body as you finally achieve the activation. When you feel you are in full control of this process, then, and only then, should you try to help others in this way.

You have a saying, A little knowledge can be dangerous. It can be dangerous, in this instance, by giving another person a great degree of hope that may become a disappointment if the process is not handled properly. Unless the mind is vibrating at the highest level of the third dimension or the lower levels of the fourth dimension, the enzyme will not activate in the proper frequency, becoming, not dangerous, but simply ineffective. This is why it is important to take time to reach the right vibration of the consciousness during meditation to be able to activate the enzyme. A healer has a great responsibility when sending energy to another, both physically and emotionally, and healing should not be attempted, whether by this modality, or any other, unless the healer is well prepared.

Use this knowledge within the Light of God. Use it with love for yourself and for others; use it because the time has come for you to do so.

(A year later, there was a follow-up message given, which I also share here.)

As the mind accepts the concept that there is an actual place in the brain that can be activated to send healing powers through the body, the desire to probe into the depths of your own minds becomes very powerful. There must first be an intense desire to use meditation in a way never before dreamed of, to access that healing ability for oneself and for others. As has been said, it is not a simple sitting down, meditating and finding that source of healing in an evening. This meditation must utilize your own conscious mind, even though it is stilled for that period of time you are in the silence, your spiritual self that you are reaching out to access, and the subconscious mind, for it is waiting to receive the signal of the activation of the Healing Enzyme Center so it may program that response to serve your calls to action. You will know when you have achieved this feat of activation when you suddenly feel a sharp pain starting from the base of the skull and reaching through the head to the front of the forehead (third eye) position between your eyebrows. It will last but a few seconds, longer in some people if they resist the pain, then it will subside never to be felt again. This also signals the subconscious to program this ability into your base memory. From now on, all you need to do is to visualize an area to be healed as being in perfect health, brimming with vitality. It is no miracle; it is the coming of age of the human race. The energy activating the Enzyme is the Energy of Creation.

God Bless you all on your quest!
