AWAKENING THE WORLD ...

... EVERY HEART MAKES A DIFFERENCE AND THE NON-COMPLI-DANCE
Please join the peaceful revolution that will change the world
Hello all ...

I am always being asked the question: 'What can we do?' This is hardly surprising when the direction of the world is becoming ever more blatantly obvious. Well, this weekend I am launching something with fantastic potential that we can do together without even necessarily moving from your chair. It is easy, simple, has endless personal benefits for those who take part, and will literally change the world if enough people get involved and dedicate just 20 minutes a day. The more we do this the better, but I am asking for a minimum of 20 minutes a day for a project that I am launching this weekend under the title Awakening the World - Every Heart Makes A Difference. There is also an expansion of this that I am calling the Non-Compli-dance.

The heart is much misunderstood. Most people see the heart as merely an electrical pump while others know of the heart chakra vortex and speak of spreading love from the heart. But few people are aware of the true nature and infinite power of the heart. Did you know that the heart has the most powerful electromagnetic field in the body and its own intelligence and awareness? Or that the electrical power of the heart is 60 to 100 times stronger than that of the brain? Or that there are more nerves going from the heart to the brain than coming the other way? Or that feelings of love, gratitude, caring and appreciation emitted from the heart are 5,000 times more powerful electromagnetically than feelings of hate, anger, resentment and so on?

And that is just for starters.

The heart is not only an organ. It also operates as an endocrine gland secreting hormones that can cure many diseases, including cancer. David V-selye, MD, PhD, chief of endocrinology, diabetes and metabolism at the James A. Haley VA Hospital in Tampa and a professor of medicine, molecular pharmacology and physiology at the University of South Florida, found that heart hormones killed up to 97 per cent of all cancers in cell cultures within 24 hours. Click here for the details ...

The Institute of HeartMath in the United States, and others, have established that the heart is fundamental to stabilising or destabilising emotions and to harmonising or disharmonising the interaction between itself, the nervous system and brain. This is the trinity of heart, mind and emotions.

When they are out of sync, so are we, and the heart is the key to that. The heart has now been shown to have its own innate intelligence, far more than the brain; its own nervous system, called the 'heart brain'; and it has been found to be a sensory organ that decodes and encodes information.

The heart is constantly communicating to the brain and the whole body through the nervous system, electromagnetic fields, hormones and other chemical reactions and blood pressure waves. We have come a long way from the heart being just an electrical pump.

We feel intuition - intuitive knowing - through the heart and heart chakra vortex. The brain thinks, the heart knows. When we have intuition about something we don't need sit down and use the mind to think it through. We just know.

If you have the intuitive knowing that you need to be in a certain place tomorrow, you don't have to ponder on the pros and cons, the ifs and buts. You just know you have to be there. The mind has to think and try to work everything out, because it doesn't know. The heart in its hormonal expression connects with the endocrine system that includes the pineal and pituitary glands in the brain which are part of the p-ychic senses that we call the Third Eye. The heart is at the center of everything. This is why the global co-spiracy has systematically targeted the human heart. The manipulators are terrified of its true power and they also know what mayhem is caused mentally, emotionally and 'physically' when the heart is in sync with the brain and the nervous system.

One of the ways they do this is by manipulating events to trigger states of low-vibrational, imbalanced emotion. They want us angry, frustrated, fearful, resentful, depressed and irritable. They want to us to close our heart and make it a bystander in the process of decoding reality and perception.

My friend, Mike L-mbert, at the Shen Clinic on the Isle of -ight, was telling me about some Kirlian photographs that he saw this week which capture the human energy field. He said that so many people were found to have almost no energy activity around the heart when that area should be an electromagnetic power station. This is how the Control System closes people down, disconnects them from their infinite self and enslaves them in the five senses.

Considerable research has shown that low-vibrational emotional states generate incoherent - imbalanced - heart rhythm patterns. This, in turn, distorts the relationship between the heart, nervous system and brain, and all h-ll can break lose mentally, emotionally and 'ph-sically'. Now we can see why heart dis-ase is one of the biggest ki-lers on Planet Earth - heart rhythm incoherence.

This is how stress and other emotions cause heart attacks and why people do d-e from a 'broken heart' when the emotional impact of a trauma or shock triggers severe heart rhythm incoherence. This is also what causes 'heartache'. Love, compassion, caring and appreciation have been shown to do the opposite. They lead to coherent heart rhythm patterns.

We have the power, more than the power, to bring down the vibrational p-ison walls if we understand even the basics of how it all works. The Control System is not structured by accident to generate incoherent heart energy and low vibrational thought and emotion such as fear, stress, anger, frustration and depression.

This is done to maintain humanity in a low vibrational, incoherent state, that generates the energy they want, e-slaves people in close-minded ignorance and... here's the big one ... projects a constant supply of imbalanced and chaotic low-vibrational electromagnetic energy into the Earth energy 'sea'.

HAARP and all the connecting radiation technologies are also being used to further suppress the vibrational state of that 'sea' and therefore manipulate the fish - humans - into those same low-vibrational states. This creates a feedback loop as people are influenced by the energy 'sea' into incoherent states and then feed these patterns back into the 'sea' to further empower its negative influence.

We have to break that circuit and transform the individual and collective energy field from the incoherence that the Control System depends upon to the coherence that will set us individually and collectively free. We can manifest energetic harmony from the manipulated chaos. We will do this through Awakening the World - Every Heart Makes A Difference and the Non-Compli-dance. People would be amazed if they knew the impact that humans are having on the Earth energy field minute by minute. Technology can now measure this and great spikes occur in the Earth's energetic state when there is a global reaction to something such as 9/11.

Obviously, the fear and emotion generated by the 9/11 attacks would have suited the goals of the conspirators, but we can have an incredible impact on opening the Earth's energy field to the love, peace and harmony that will bring down the house of cards that depends on imbalance and incoherence for its very survival.

We all have a significant individual effect on our energetic environment, but when we get together in groups and vast numbers the effect is extraordinary. S-tanists say that they perform their repetitive rituals at certain points on the Earth because they leave 'strong impressions upon the Morphic Field.' The b-oodlines manipulate large gatherings for royal weddings, re-igious rituals and other events to trawl the energy which is generated. They know about the collective power of human energy and it is crucial for them to maintain an energy 'sea' that is filled with fear, anger, hostility, resentment and all the rest.

We can change this, but to do so we have to put aside all non-essentials and focus. Another reason that they want an enormous cull of the human population is because they are terrified of our potential collective power if enough people wake up sufficiently to understand the power that we have.

I have known for many years that the most important contribution of my all-day speaking events around the world is the collective energy that is generated into the Earth's energy field by a gathering of like-minds and like hearts coming together as One.

There is a phenomenon known as 'hypercommunication' which means to connect 'individual minds' on a ps-chic, intuitive level to form a communication network. Bushmen in Africa communicate through hypercommunication and so we have the term 'bush telegraph'.

Researchers of hypercommunication say that if enough minds (and I would say hearts) connected in this way they would have a 'g-d-like' power to create and re-shape the world that we live in. This is certainly true, especially then you think that human brain activity operates in the same frequency band as the Earth's resonant frequencies.
