BURNS

A young man sprinkling his lawn and bushes with pesticides wanted to check the contents of the barrel to see how much pesticide remained in it. He raised the cover and lit his lighter; the vapors inflamed and engulfed him. He jumped from his truck, screaming. His neighbor came out of her house with a dozen eggs, yelling: "bring me some eggs!" She broke them, separating the whites from the yolks. The neighbor woman helped her to apply the whites on the young man's face. When the ambulance arrived and when the EMTs saw the young man, they asked who had done this. Everyone pointed to the lady in charge. They congratulated her and said: "You have saved his face." By the end of the summer, the young man brought the lady a bouquet of roses to thank her. His face was like a baby's skin.

Healing Miracle for burns:

Keep in mind this treatment of burns which is included in teaching beginner fireman this method. First aid consists to spraying cold water on the affected area until the heat is reduced and stops burning the layers of skin. Then, spread egg whites on the affected are. One woman burned a large part of her hand with boiling water. In spite of the pain, she ran cold faucet water on her hand, separated 2 egg white from the yolks, beat them slightly and dipped her hand in the solution. The whites then dried and formed a protective layer. She later learned that the egg white is a natural collagen and continued during at least one hour to apply layer upon layer of beaten egg white. By afternoon she no longer felt any pain and the next day there was hardly a trace of the burn. 10 days later, no trace was left at all and her skin had regained its normal color. The burned area was totally regenerated thanks to the collagen in the egg whites, a placenta full of vitamins.

Awesome or Off-Putting: Oklahoma's 286 Million Year Old Block Wall
<http://bestofnet.info/awesome-or-off-putting-oklahoma%E2%80%99s-286-million-year-old-block-wall>

Awesome or Off-Putting is a weekly delve into cryptozoology, ufology, aliens, medical marvels, scientific wonders, s-cret societies, g-vernment c-nspiracies, cults, ghosts, EVPs, myths, ancient artifacts, r-ligion, strange facts, odd sightings or just the plain unexplainable.

Most historians would agree that human civilization began sometime in the 1850s. No exact date has ever been given and frankly we don't need one. What we do need is an answer to this if that's true how could there be a 286-million-year-old-block wall found deep in an Oklahoma mine?

One man claims he's seen such a wall with his own eyes.

In 1928 Atlas Almon M-this was a miner hammering away in Oklahoma's deep underground. He was looking for coal what he found was far more baffling. You see, although it's commonly accepted that the earth was formed about 4.84 billion years ago, the modern intelligent human didn't show its face until around 200,000 years ago, according to fossil finds. This is where things get confusing. We'll let Ma-his tell his own story:

In the year 1928, I, Atlas Almon Mat-is, was working in coal mine No. 5., located two miles north of Heavener, Oklahoma. This was a shaft mine, and they told us it was two miles deep. The mine was so deep that they let us down into it on an elevator. . . . They pumped air down to us, it was so deep, the next morning there were several concrete blocks laying in the room. These blocks were 12-inch cubes and were so smooth and polished on the outside that all six sides could serve as mirrors. Yet they were full of gravel, because I chipped one of them open with my pick, and it was plain concrete inside. As I started to timber the room up, it caved in; and I barely escaped. When I came back after the cave-in, a solid wall of these polished blocks was left exposed. About 100 to 150 yards farther down our air core, another miner struck this same wall, or one very similar.

A weird mirror-wall is a strange enough find by itself but it gets weirder when you think of how old it's speculated to be.

A website called bibliotecapleyades.net explains the oddity:

The coal in the mine was probably Carboniferous, which would mean the wall was at least 286 million years old.

And what does such a supposedly old wall mean? Some say it rewrites history that there's no way modern humans are only 200,000 years old. Some say humans have technologically developed and then destroyed themselves several times in the world's history and that right now we're just at the tail-end of another cycle. Others believe the commonly accepted fossil record is true as we understand it that we do have the correct age or our ancestors but that time travel may come into play.

A webpage called Skybooksusa adds a bit more to the puzzle and they follow it with some questions of their own: According to Math-s, the mining company officers immediately pulled the men out of the mine and forbade them to speak about what they had seen. Mathi- said the Wi-burton miners also told of finding a solid block of silver in the shape of a barrel with the prints of the staves on it, in an area of coal dating between 280 and 320 million years ago. What advance civilization built this wall? Why was the truth, as is so many of these cases protected and hidden? What is the real truth about time travelers, modern humans, and modern technology in our past?

So what is the truth? We don't know. But the first thing we'd like to do is go to Oklahoma's Coal Mine #5 and check things out. If the wall has actually lasted for all these millions of years, it probably hasn't withered away since 1928.

- * The Non-Zodiac Constellations

*Updated from the 'Age of Aries' descriptions of the character of signs to be found in Ptolemy's Tetrabiblos.

On the assumption that Ophiuchus has the same character and planetary ruler as Scorpius, as the two share the space which is mistakenly allotted to Scorpius alone by Ptolemy, as he uses an equal-sign solar zodiac.

Further Information: The stars of all 48 Classical constellations were considered by ancient astrologers to be significant in astrology, not just the stars of the Zodiac constellations listed above. Ptolemy, in his masterwork Tetrabiblos, also lists the powers of the stars of the non zodiac constellations of Classical astrology.
