

Subject: Our Space Fleet. Part 3 of 3 And Texas Rain.

From: "John Winston" <johnfw@mlode.com>

Date: 14/08/2011, 22:34

Newsgroups: alt.conspiracy.area-51

Subject: Our Space Fleet. Part 3 of 3. And Texas Rain.
14, 2011.

Aug.

Here he talks about the Bla-k Triangle Crafts.

.....
.....

But there are experiments going on in the ribbon to see what kind of effects it will have when it reached the inner solar system. Good question. so far they just don't know. the ribbon has some odd qualities to it.

Well I hope Dr. Deagle is wrong, but the guy is one of the most intelligent people I have ever listened to. Although he does seem prone to flights of fancy!! If the Nemesis Dwarf Star is as close as people are indicating then no doubt its been visited by advanced Space Command craft. He also confirms we have hyper light speed spacecraft, so he knows something concerning b-ack programs! Please if possible ask something about this problem. Although I know that things are very compartmentalized, so its hard to find stuff out!!!! I would think something so epic I would have heard of. i will surely ask around. thanks for the heads up. I think I've heard Deagle on the internet a long time ago. From what I remember he did sound intelligent, but I can't remember him talking about this nemesis dwarf star. I'd wager it doesn't exist or I would probably have known. But this business is all about compartmentalization and secrecy. a need to know basis. so you never know! I'll ask around.

You guys are the pilots of the huge black isosceles triangle mother ships, right?

[link to www.soupmedianetwork.com]
[link to x40.xanga.com]
[link to www.ambergristoday.com]

No, but the black triangles are ours. that is an airforce asset. they are mainly used below 150k ft. They aren't designed for interstellar travel.

Hi guys. i just wanted to get the word out that you should start listening with your radios, point them towards elenin. you should start picking up a signal soon if not already.

Thanks for the questions, this has actually been very fun. Can't really go into anymore detail, but i must say, you are a fine lot here. Thank you and I really mean that.

One more thing. i'm not saying I won't be back. I have just told you as much as I can right now and duty calls. so i won't be able to post until i'm back on August 11th.

When I get back I will post an update. I look forward to it. because 10 years ago I was on the net searching myself, I know what it's like. Take care all. And I will catch up with you soon.

Part 3 of 3.

Subject: Rain In Texas.

It's started to rain some in Texas. Lubbock, Texas received a good rain about last week with water on some roads coming up to the doors of cars. Midland, Texas recieved about three-quarters of an inch of rain and that is not much but it more than they have received in several months time.

Thank you and keep up the good work and send forth your positive thoughts that it will continue to rain more and not flood much or hurt anybody.

John Winston. johnfw@mlode.com