Subject: Seperation Of The Worlds. Part 2.
Sept. 14, 2011.

This talks about those people who are left behind.

.....

What this unusual meeting revealed to me was that the Dark Ones reign was finally ending throughout the dimensions, and obviously many of them were and still are profoundly angry about this unexpected fact. They actually never believed this would happen and they thought they'd be able to prevent (via endless attacks) the Starseeds/Lightworkers/Wayshowers/Prototypers and Indigos from doing what we've done in physicality. This lucid dream kidnapping event may sound rather insignificant but it was an extremely important hand-delivered sign that the energetic Changing of the Guards was well underway and had reached the higher level Astral plane (4D) during the fall of 2010. Incremental stair steps going both up and down with this entire multidimensional Ascension Process.

March 9, 2011 the Ninth Wave/Universal Underworld begins: certain old Ascension symptoms from the Eighth Wave returned on this day, plus I perceive for the first time that the Cosmic Cavalry as I've called them (extremely advanced Beings of Light that reside close to Source) were on their down through the higher dimensions towards 3D physicality and Earth. This happening is going to make the i-carnate Starseeds/Lightworkers/Wayshowers and Indigo's jobs VASTLY easier and shorter!

Why are They coming down into physicality now? Because the Dark Ones are finally being unseated, dethroned, removed and redirected away from the Ascending/Ev-ling Earth world and its population and this magnificent happening has been increasingly easy to see across Earth since the start of the Ninth Wave. In really simplified Denise terms, some very advanced Lightbeings had to come down through the higher dimensions (which coincided with the start of the Ninth Wave) to do an intervention on the Dark Ones. This action by these Lightbeings upon the Darkbeings (Dark Ones) is another huge and very important process within the multidimensional final stages of the Separation of Worlds.

July & August 2011 required the Starseeds to embody/prototype/transmute massive distortions from within their Mental bodies (some more in their Emotional bodies) and from the planetary Collective's Mental body also. As usual, this was a painful process in and through our physical bodies but much Dark patriarchal negativity, distortions and manipulations from within the individual/Collective Mental body were unplugged, transmuted, removed and replaced with Source-created Light codes/blueprints/architecture.

August 2011 the Cosmic Cavalry arrived within the physical world and the intervention of the Dark Ones was fully implemented. Said another way, this was the start of the Separation of Worlds from the third dimension (3D) finally. Between what was happening with the intervention by the Cosmic Cavalry, the 2011 summer Energy Work done by and through many Starseeds, major Dark manipulations and distortions within the human Mental body were transmuted and the Dark Ones took a huge blow and were multidimensionally ousted. Another Stair Step and layer to the Separation of Worlds.

This intervention has been unfolding throughout the higher dimensions since the start of the Ninth Wave, but it arrived and was fully implemented within the physical dimension and Earth world during the month of August 2011. Because of all this old lower frequency things (global systems and rulers etc.) will more rapidly disintegrate, while higher frequency things will simultaneously strengthen until the two different frequency worlds with their matching frequency populations literally repel energetically, break apart, and we have complete Separation of Worlds and timelines.

This is another reason why we've been learning over the years how to keep and remain within a higher frequency energy (within the lower Eye of the Storm) and keep our focus on/in our High Hearts and what we're doing, why, and where we're headed. It's been so easy to fall vibrationally back down into the lower frequency patriarchal world reality which is painful, not to mention dangerous for us, but this too has been training in learning to maintain a specific level and focus (and read different frequencies of Energy) no matter what negativity and insanity is going on all around us.

Accelerated earthquakes and weather related destruction, purging fires and floods: more in-your-face blatant negativity, lies, greed, corruption, insanity and violence for mass humanity to hopefully finally see and chose the Light over the Dark. What appears to many to be horrific destructive events around Earth are also last-minute warning signs and scare tactics desperately trying to get more people's attention, redirect it, and shock them awake and into their Hearts enough to refocus on higher ways of living, being and perceiving. Some people got/get these difficult and shocking messages in their hearts others haven't and won't.

Further major changes coming in through the October 10th and 11th 2011 portals 10-10-11 and 10-11-11.

I've been seeing 10:10 screaming at me (again) since June so I took a closer look at the dates of the remaining Mayan DAYS/NIGHTS and was amazed to discover this potent, reality-changing double whammy right around the corner! 10-10-11 is the last day of NIGHT Six. 10-11-11 is the first day of the last Day DAY Seven! I have a draft written about just the 10-10-11 and the 10-11-11 that I'll publish soon.

VISIONS OF THE EARTH WORLD THAT DOES NOT ASCEND

For decades I've clairvoyantly seen certain nearly incomprehensible to me scenes of an Earth world filled with billions of people that didn't want to ascend that quickly drops even deeper into the Dark. I've never talked about this because it's worse than the worst movies we've all seen like the Matrix and others. I've also not talked about what I've seen of this world because it will upset people, make them angry and frightened, and in many cases they lash out at the messenger instead changing themselves and their ways.

I've seen this Earth world and its population becoming more Dark, more controlled than the Earth world we all incarnated into in these current lives. One main way that humans in this world relinquish more of their personal power and mental capacities to whomever wants it is through the use of machines and machines surgically implanted into human bodies, organs and brains. Also, tiny machines (nanobots I believe they're called today) are added to foods, drinks, water, vaccinations, pharmaceuticals, soaps, shampoos, skin creams, eye drops etc. as a way to control the minds and bodies of the population completely. (There are many people today that cannot wait to be made into part human part machine.)

What's so painful about all this is that once the Separation of Worlds is complete, the world that ascends will have much more Light in it where the world that doesn't ascend will have much more Dark in it than Earth did prior to the Ascension Process if you can comprehend that. The non-ascending world and its population that's still attracted to warring, killing, violence, need to control, greed, manipulation, having power over others, handing your power over to others, wanting someone else to tell you what to do, think, feel, fix, heal etc., won't continue the existence they've had on the old patriarchal Earth world; they'll experience that world and reality rapidly becoming much darker and much worse. (Don't attack or protest at the messenger!)

It was tremendously hard for me to see and realize that the humans who weren't ready to utilize the Ascension Process at the end of this Great Cycle would continue into more density and negativity not less. They'll enter a world with more Dark pressures and restrictions all to try to get them to finally choose responsibility instead of handing their power, consciousness, and everything else over to another for any reason.

SEPARATION OF WORLDS: THE DARK ONES & THINGS & PEOPLE
DISAPPEARING FROM THE ASCENDING WORLD

I sense that the Earth world that does ascend can if we want it to change dramatically in a split-second. I've also sensed that it can if we want it to change much more slowly. (It's going to change dramatically anyway and just being rid of the Dark Ones and all the horrific things they've done to our bodies will instantly altar and improve reality in astonishing ways.) Personally, I'm more than ready to make the quick short jump to 5D Universal Society and all that goes along with it in the twinkling of an eye. What's going to happen will, but, we can have much more happen much more quickly if we desire and intend it to happen and manifest that way. Conscious Creating and Co-Creating remember?

Another aspect of the ongoing Separation of Worlds is that, especially since 2011, we've been perceiving certain things where they shouldn't be. I know many of us have seen objects, buildings, Beings and such that exist in higher frequency realms and dimensions increasingly superimposed or bleeding-through into our world and space and vice versa. As we and Earth continue vibrating with more Light we literally transition into a higher, larger, more complex, faster frequency level, dimension, place in space and timeline. Doing this means we're going to be seeing and feeling many new positive things and Beings.
