

Subject: Newsletter From Ruth.

From: "John Winston" <johnfw@mlode.com>

Date: 30/11/2011, 17:17

Newsgroups: alt.conspiracy.area-51

Subject: Newsletter From Ruth.

Nov. 30, 2011.

Here is what Ruth has to say for December.

.....
.....

Jan-s

From:

ruth_ryden_newsletter@yahoogroups.com

Sent: Wednesday, November 30, 2011

- NEWSLETTER #111 FROM RUTH AND THE MASTERS OF LIGHT
DECEMBER, 2011
MERRY C-RISTMAS AND A VERY HAPPY & BONTIFUL NEW YEAR!!

Here we are again, enmeshed in the throes of frenzied buying and planning for the Ch-istmas holiday. What is left of celebrating the birth of Je--s seems to be fading away more each year. Nevertheless, it is an important time to acknowledge the birth of a new way of life for humanity through His teachings. Let us not forget.

My family had a nice gathering for Thanksgiving good food and beautiful weather.

Hope you did, too. Came across the following Irish Blessing in an old box, and think it says it all for my wishes for my dear readers:

May g-d grant you always
A sunbeam to warm you, a moonbeam to charm you,
A sheltering A-gel so nothing can harm you,
Faithful friends near you,
And whenever you p-ay, H-aven to hear you!

(Masters, our country and the rest of the world are going around in circles, and this coming month and the turn of the year has so many worried and concerned about our g-vernment breaking down, not to mention countries trying to change their leaderships by v-olence and protests. Would you please comment on what you see for us in December in this regard and a little bit into the much-prophesied predictions for 2012?)

MASTERS: Looking at your world from the point of view of the history of millions of other planets and civilizations, your planet is in a state of a tremendous transformation that is extremely difficult for the beings of matter that reside on it. This is the continuance of creation and will continue until the transformation is complete. By that, we mean that seasonal weather will be changed to some extent, bringing the seasons into new yearly settings; weather patterns will be easily predicted, and the intelligence and wisdom of humanity will come together in unity, instead of throwing separate belief systems in each other's faces. All of the c-anneled messages have, in one way or another, been trying to tell humanity the same thing, in different ways. You know by now that your planet is stretching and shifting its upper crust, causing quakes and magma explosions. More importantly, the explosions in the minds of men and women are becoming even more expansive all over the world, as humankind is being nudged into the reality of the sp-ritual nature of all things. Your universe is only one of an unlimited totality of creation, which continues constantly. It will take many years for the younger generation to overcome the petty differences and realize that re-igions are man-made to honor the Creator, but set into place to further the power of their leaders. Gov-rnments that are today in crisis will make their way into uneasy coalitions that will go one way, then another, until it is finally recognized that humanity needs to pull together, be kind to each other, and find the truth of their being. The elections being held in other countries are in for the long haul, as there is still not enough understanding among the populations as to what needs to be done. Your upcoming U.S. gover-mental elections will be a swirl of fingers pointing at each other, until, finally, there will be a breakthrough of understanding and your leader will be confirmed. Tune out all of the nasty accusations you will be hearing, and listen with your inner wisdom and heart. The ancient predictions were given to those people to show them that their world would go on for a long time and approximately what might happen near this 2012 time period. What they foresaw is already happening. Dates are merely a point of reference. People are being killed for trying to bring the changes into reality, for they came to be the ones who will make a real difference in the workings of their governments. Honor them in memory.

You will see many changes also in the consciences of those who presently govern, especially in the United States. The imbalances of power have become all too apparent and your population have come to the point of saying, Do it right, or get out! What happens is now in your hands alone, to bring about global and governmental transformations as quickly as you can use your strength and determination to do so. The transformations are not written in cement, as you say, but in the formation of the intent; time or a date is not a factor here. Again, listen to your inner guidance in whatever situation you find yourselves in, and be a part of this transformation in whatever way you are placed. You all have a part in this.

As to weather conditions around the world in December, definite predictions would be, at this point impossible, for the frequencies bombarding the Earth from space, and the Sun's flares are happening as the consequence of the re-positioning of the planet within your solar system. Obviously, the normal seasonal conditions will not be normal, and this applies all around the planet. Earthquakes will be increasing in known areas, and the possibility of volcanic eruptions will also increase, and this extends to anywhere in the world where the fault lines are deep and known. Expect that winters will be colder; summers will be hotter and drier.

Heavy snowfalls in mountains will cause many landslides, and deserts will become wider and more arid. Water is becoming an important issue in most of the world, as the deep reserves are being rapidly withdrawn. Natural gas is being drawn on to lessen the need for oil, but causing numerous earthquakes from the faults they intrude upon. This is a time to conserve what you have, not rush out and throw your money away for nonessentials.

In other words, expect the unexpected, and be ready to deal with the conditions as they occur. This will not be an easy month, and the rest of the winter will need to be planned for, with warm clothing and ample fuel for warmth in the northern climes. In the southern parts of the world, it will be important to conserve water in whatever way is possible, for this will be a problem.

Not a lot of good news, but for you, the incarnated souls of the universe, this is a tremendous challenge, both personally, and globally. You have come to be an important part of this, and those who determine to help only themselves by their selfish actions will be very sorry when they return to spirit, not having accomplished their lifetime purposes.

This is an extremely important time to be in a human body, for you are part of an enormous creative Plan of God. We are always with you, just ask for help when you need it, and listen for the answer, whatever or however it may come. Enjoy the Christmas season with your families and friends, and do something nice for those who are alone.

Christmas Message from the Masters of Light
Finding Peace on Earth

In Christian Countries of the world, the focus of world peace has always been strongest during the month celebrating the birth of Jesus. Peace and love among all peoples were His most important messages.

Today, that focus is constant as wars between races, religions and countries scar the earth and bodies of millions of people almost daily. Where is the Peace that the Angels promised? It is with you now it always has been.

It was not peace between people and nations the message relayed; the Angels told of the Inner Peace that connects to the Mind of God, which automatically generates Good Will to Men! Consider that and see how very right it feels. The message was, and always has been, that humanity has that divine connection and it is only a matter of understanding and accepting the reality in order to be able to reach down deep within to access the Perfect Peace of G-d.

The message was not just for the followers-to-be of --sus, but for the entire world. The words of the Ang-ls were carefully preserved so that their meaning would eventually be understood by all humankind.

The word Peace as it is commonly used now, denotes the state of a lack of hostilities, in any form. When the world can live in such a state, able to raise children in a safe environment, grow food without unfair restrictions or mandated procedures, travel to any destination without hindrance, live and work with each other cheerfully, giving and sharing in joy, the world will experience the existence of real peace.

Before any of this can happen, however, before the world can come into the promised new a-e of peace, every living being must come to accept the Inner Peace the inner connection with All That Is. How can a person who seethes with resentments live in peace with his/her brothers and sisters, giving and taking fairly and honestly? How can a person who lives with fear every day of his/her life, expecting a tragedy around every corner, relax and enjoy what life can really be? How can a person who must fill his/her ego with thoughts of supremacy work and live with those who are considered of no consequence because they look, think, and wo-ship differently than they do? Inner Peace erases all such discrepancies.

Part 1.

John Winston johnfw@mlode.com