Kundalini Energy for Manifestation of Intention Written by Enoch Tan

Kundalini Energy is one of the most underutilized energies for manifesting prosperity. This energy when focused correctly can be used to bring love, light, prosperity and even S-irit into your life. Kundalini is the s-cred life force of ethereal fire within you that moves through your chakra system. When you c-annel Kundalini, you can imbue power into your manifestation of desires. Remember that prosperity is an energy itself and the energy of Kundalini can be converted into the energy of prosperity in reality.

The physical dimensional planes were first constructed in order to give us a single moment of awareness. Prior to this, G-d and We (as an extension of our creator,) experienced all things in totality. The physical planes with their time and space qualities, gave Go-, as well as all other s-uls, an opportunity to experience a single moment, of anything. When we look at a blooming rose, we see the beauty of it in that single moment instead of experiencing all it ever was, all it is and all it will ever be.

What a gift! How excited so-ls were to first experience this wonderful gift. Sou-s found that i-carnating on physical planes also gave them a rare opportunity to isolate and engage their spi-itual growth, learning and experience. It was never conceived by our creator that our free will, so generously given, would extend to harming or hurting one another. In -od, there is no consciousness of s-n. There is only perfection. We are all here to experience who we really are in this world. Who we really are is -od in form.

Soon sou-s got lost in the wheel of Karma, and forgot who they were, lifetime after lifetime of paying debts. Yet man was never supposed to experience physical life detached from their source. G-d did give us free will, but Go- never sent -ouls to the physical plane without a lifeline. We are always connected to Go-,The Source, even though we may lose awareness of that connection. Being more connected to -od means being more aware. Gaining awareness is the path of spiri-uality and life progress.

Just as a baby is first connected to and nourished by his mother through the umbilical, each -oul is connected to their creator through a similar energy cord, which raises the Kundalini, and can be just as nourishing. Kundalini is your life-bl-od connection to the creation of your physical experience. Without it, you wander through physical reality a victim, instead of a creator of your own destiny. You create your reality with the power of Kundalini. It is the Source Energy from which all things flow and consist.

The fact that s-x is such an electrical surge of energy, both inwardly and outwardly, should be of some note. How could anyone not realize that all the energy expelled during se- actually had another purpose other than release? You can use s-xual energy to create magic in your life. Kundalini is se-ual energy. It is the driving force of all life and achievement. It is what motivates us to be, do and have anything we desire. All successful people have their -exual energy cha-neled in some way towards goals.

Electrical magnetism and that which creates physical attraction is the pull of your Kundalini Energy. How sad it is that many people on the planet spend their entire -exual experiences, and their lives, without ever raising their Chi, or without ever touching the d-vine.

Kundalini Energy is meant to be used as a pass key to H-aven. It is the method to reconnect with our creator. Spiri-ual energy and s-xual energy are actually the same energy in different slightly different forms. More of it means more of life.

The huge burst of energy expelled during -ex, is electromagnetically charged enough to pass through the spiri-ual planes, connect with your higher self and on a very real level, plan the remainder of your life. People with a desire for life are the ones that thrive and have a future. Those who lose their se-ual drive are the ones that lose further grip on life and all that it contains. The key to living life to the fullest and attaining your dreams and desires is to enjoy living and doing what you love. Life attracts more life.

When you learn to raise this energy with a -ex partner, it takes it to a whole new level, and can be a very powerful manifesting tool by attaching a thought to the energy just before its release, or just before you o-gasm. The Druids called this S-x Magic, and it can be very powerful, especially if you and your partner attach the same thought. Your thoughts have power to manifest when they are clothed with emotion. Kundalini, se-ual energy, desire and life force are one. Use this along with intent.

It is also possible to raise it through meditation, without a partner and without -ex. When the pathways along your spine are clear and the Kundalini can move through your body without being blocked, health quickly follows. To do this, you need to remove emotional blockages that prevent the energy from flowing freely through you.

Every blockage in each of the centers prevent energy from flowing freely to the other centers. The aim is to create space. Space is the primary requisite for building power.

In addition, when you raise the Kundalini, you connect both with your overs-ul, your creator and your so-l mate. This energy heals the connections with each of the above, and brings a joining of all of these parts of you. There is no better way to bring a sou- mate into your life! Also, if you can raise your Kundalini, you most likely will be broadcasting it on a subconscious level, and find you suddenly become very much in demand with the others. This is the pull of Kundalini energy. It is attraction energy.
