This talks about receiving thoughts and information.

INCOMING THOUGHTS

◆Over and above the conscious thoughts that run through the mind day after day, is constant thought that runs through the entire cosmos! All creative thought by the G-d Mind and by all sentient beings constantly merge into what some have called the ◆Book of Life◆ or the ◆Akashic Records◆. More accurately, it is more like a constant computer program, sending and receiving eternally.

As thoughts are conceived and sent out by the Mind of Go- to be receive by all of the created species, they are placed into what you call the etheric stream. This could be conceived of as a layer of invisible, but very tangible thought forms. This is where new ideas are sent into the thoughts of those who have the intelligence, the interest, and the ability to open their minds to receive the information. A scientist will latch onto information that he/she is seeking; a doctor or h-aler will recognize the importance of an idea regarding a new method of he-ling.; an inventor finds new ways of creating a new machine or making an old one better. Like draws like. Just so do those who are on the s-iritual path find inspiration and answers to their questions in the wee hours of the morning.

During the night in deep slumber, most human beings travel sp-ritually to other places, are being taught by their teachers, or their minds are busy being confused by a heavy meal or reflecting the thoughts of the day. In the hours just before waking, however, if one is not jolted awake by an alarm clock, messages are given for the individual dreamer to help chart the lifetime and/or needful answers to questions actually asked before retiring or that are judged to be needed by the Guardians for the dreamer. This is the time when the conscious mind clears itself in response to the spi-itual direction to receive incoming messages. These messages are sometimes extremely clear and understandable, but usually couched in symbolic imagery. Why? The answer given to this c-annel long ago is that symbolism is the language of the universe that all species may relate the information to their own language and their own cultural experiences. Also, it is given symbolically to encourage the dreamer to do so deep, serious thinking, instead of just ignoring the whole things as some c-azy dream.

When the dream is written down and remembered, the different elements begin to make sense. The more they are reason out, the clearer the message becomes. Information from the etheric stream doesn◆t always spring into the mind in dreams; many people today are becoming very aware of that stream of knowledge and are using meditation and cha-neling to access higher universal knowledge, but there are many ways in which this is accomplished. People who are engaged in deep searches for information that will help them create new technology, new medicines, explorations of the past, etc., etc., are now realizing that the flashes of images, words and voices bringing them that information is not their imagination. Many can do this intentionally and actually work with the mighty forces of the universe. Those who have opened their minds to act as messengers for d-vine universal knowledge come to a point where they blend with the powers they chan-el, being always in a state where information is available at any moment. The knowledge comes through the mind and the Heart Chakra.

Almost all of you have, at one time or another, had the experience of suddenly hearing loud, explosive words or phrases pop into the mind that you would not yourselves even think of! Driving on a busy freeway, for instance, the thoughts of hundreds of people around you are amplified by the energy of the drivers and by the vehicles. You are surrounded by an extremely thick mixture of thoughts. It would appear as a thick, murky cloud, if you could see it. Out of this cloud the angry, stressed and frustrated thoughts of tired drivers screech outward and hit the small open places in your minds. A quiet, spir-tual person, thinking about the grandchildren, for example, is suddenly assaulted by s-ear words blasting through her mind she would never even think of! That can be quite disconcerting ♦ making the hearer wonder if this is some kind of subconscious, awful thoughts he/she is really thinking? We won♦t discount that, of course, but ordinarily this is a form of te-epathy. More and more the physical minds of humanity are starting to receive the thoughts of others. Strong, angry thoughts are powerful energies that penetrate the minds at which they are directed, even if they are not consciously heard or understood. This is how H-tler overwhelmed Germany! Over and over the i-sanity droned on and the thoughts transferred into the minds of the listeners. Commercials do the same thing; so do the constant, insistent ideals of p-litical candidates. Be careful. When your thoughts suddenly seem to take a different direction, don♦t accept them immediately. Find out where they came from and whether or not you really want them to become part of your personal belief system.

You must begin to be aware that you are a part of a tremendous broadcast system that connects you to the entire world and the universe.
