Subject: Words From AAM. Part 4 of 4.

Jan. 5, 2011.

This says that some of the space people or a-gels are androgynous.

SB: So far from the Galactics today coming to demand gold from us, they brought us gold, is that correct?

AAM: They brought you gold. They brought you materials that you do not even have names for yet. They brought you so many gifts. And yes, they have been planted in the Earth and planted in safe places for recovery at a later time. But they also, now, bring you gifts again. But the greatest gift they bring you is not technology or science or gold or information, it is peace. It is brotherhood. It is community.

SB: All right.

AAM: But what it does is it eliminates this have and have-not situation.

SB: Okay. I have been called foolish for relying on c-anneled messages, and I'm only referring to the reliable ch-nneled messages, instead of the testimony of insiders and other terrestrial beings. What do you have to say about that?

AAM: We would like you to be able to rely upon your fellow human beings. Now, the difficulty has been is in this reliability factor, has it not been?

SB: Yes, that's true.

AAM: So that many have operated with a great deal of information that they have shared. And I do not say this in a critical way. I do not say this in a way of judgment, for that would not be loving either. But what you call insider information has been a disastrous route. We do not say, "Only listen to us!" That would be foolhardy.

But we do have a different, and perhaps a fuller, perspective. Yes, it is true, sometimes there are translation difficulties - and you have more than pointed those out to us - but to only listen to humans, who are in their evolutionary process, and who have their own issues and vested interests? Now, we do not say those interests should not be there. But they are on a journey.

So it is not an either/or. It is this practice of discernment. It is taking the information from the Galactics, the inter-Galactics, the Celestial Realms, from your best friend, from reliable sources, from insiders, and then taking it to your heart, and saying, okay, what makes sense here? What feels like truth? And given that information and what I am choosing to create, for me, for my family, for my community, for my planet at this time, what information do I use? What is of love?

And if the message from your next-door neighbor feels more reliable and more loving and more caring in your heart than the messages that you receive from this Council of He-ven, then, dear heart, go ahead. We will support you. That is what partnership is about. It is about honoring your choices and your decisions. We do not always agree with them, but we will support them. But to say there is one source is ridiculous.

SB: All right, that's fair enough. A while back something happened which was most unusual, and I'm still scratching my head over it. And that's that a very good source, Wanderer of the Skies, appeared ♦ gave the appearance to lecture terrestrials. I was quite taken aback by that. Is Wanderer of the Skies a reliable source, and can you interpret that particular chan-eling in which he looked like - I'm not saying he was, but he looked like - he was giving terrestrials, more or less, a lecture?

First of all, we want to say that this Wanderer of the Skies is a very pure and clear and centered and loving being, and chan-el. Now, you have talked this night about frustration. And yes, there are times when the Galactics themselves become frustrated as well. [?] level of frustration of moving things along came through perhaps more strongly and not as lovingly as it should. No, there are times. Do not think of us, and certainly your star brothers and sisters, as having the same range of emotionality, but that does not mean that there is not feeling or what you would construe as emotion. So was it a bluff? Did the frustration come through? Yes. Would you [?] messages that this one has to share? That would be very sad.

SB: All right. All right. Well, I'm glad to have that reassurance. I've missed Wanderer's posts. I hope they'll start again. And thank you for helping me to understand that. Light workers have long been waiting to begin to serve, and to get into action. How can we serve? What are the opportunities for us now?

AAM: You have done well, and when I say you, I mean you, Steve, but I also mean you all. You have stepped forward, each in your own way. The best way you can serve, today, tomorrow and the day after, is to let go of these lower level frustrations. Take them out of your solar plexus, take them out of your head. Give them to me. Give them to Sanat Kumara. Give them to Archa-gel Gabrielle. Give them to your guides. Give them to the Mother. But give them away. Let them be washed from you by the white light of the H-ly Sp-rit. Let it go.

And then tackle the human obstacles, and the human obstacles are not just those in what you perceive as places of power. The human obstacles - yes, we still continue to ask you to work on, every single day, one person who is in the financial system with -ESARA, and then a second person to deal with the fe-r factor of your star brothers and sisters? full appearance.

But then begin, every single day, create one thing. And it means to create joy, to create something of love, to create something that is affirming of your belief. And if it is only speaking to a neighbor or a friend that you have hesitated to speak to because you think that they will judge you or chastise you or shun you, then be brave. Start to raise the bar in terms of collective consciousness in terms of what is really going on. Occupy your neighborhood.

SB: AAM: all right. And there are so many questions, but we're nearing the end. I'm going to ask three quickly if I may. A reader has taken exception to the fact that you characterize Archang-l Gabriel as a female. My understanding is that you're androgynous.

AAM: That is correct.

SB: So is Archange- Gabrielle a female, because most of us consider Archang-l Gabriel to be a male.

AAM: Well, she is both, she is male and female. And when this chann-l is working with her it is mostly as the Lily of Love. And it is that feminine aspect that comes forth.

SB: All right, L-rd. The music is overtaking us, and I'll have to leave the rest of my questions. But thank you very much for being frank with us, tackling our frustrations and helping us to find a way out of them.

AAM: Do not forget your sword and shield, and do not forget your flame.

SB: No, Lo-d. Certainly not.

AAM: I am with you. Go in peace.

SB: Thank you, -ord. Farewell.

AAM: Farewell.

Show Summary and Audio Link for An Hour with an An-el - Jan. 2, 2012

Below is a summary of the January 2, 2012 show An Hour with an Ang-l along with the link to listen to the show, as well as previous shows.

Linda D-llon talked about her 30 years experience chan-eling and her process.

Archan-el Michael tells us our efforts to anchor peace in nations, communities and within ourselves are going forward and that we are doing well. We are pivotal in this work. He describes it as a partnership with the A-gelic realm and our galactic brothers and sisters. He thanks us for sending light to those involved with NES-RA and Disclosure and encouraged us to continue.

NESA-A activities have begun, but it's being done quietly. He acknowledges our frustration that events haven't moved forward as fast as we would them to. He tells us that those of the Ang-lic realm and our galactic brothers and sisters are also experiencing frustration.

Governments have been particularly resistant, but discussions regarding a new economic system have been very encouraging. The James Martinez video is a not a hoax. It's a quiet announcement of hope and encouragement that things are moving forward. It came from a consortium of terrestrials, galactics, and celestials, not from the Mon-co Accord.

Those involved with the Philippine treasure are protected. Udo and JP have taken on the task of revealing these treasures to the world. They are among many many caches around the globe. The galactics brought gold and materials to earth for recovery at a later time. Their greatest gifts, however, are peace, brotherhood and community.

Use discernment when receiving information and follow your hearts that is where your truth is.

An-er, fear, and frustration are of the old paradigm. The best way Lightworkers can serve now is to let go of lower-level frustrations - give them away. Create joy. Raise the bar. Be brave. Raise the collective consciousness of what is happening. Occupy our own neighborhoods.

You have not been given empty promises. When we say it will occur, it will occur.
