My N.-.S.A.R.A. Check Vision
by Michael Ellegion*

A few days ago (Jan. 9, 2012) while I was laying in bed, early in the morning, having just awakened, I suddenly had the most vivid and intense Vision, which was specifically about of at least one part, of the implementation of the upcoming new planetary, world wide N.E.-.A.R.A. economic system, or otherwise known as the National -conomic S-curity and Reformation Act.

This Vision was, as stated, very intense and very focused, and it was very detailed, in what I very clearly observed. I will describe what I saw and the strong sense of what was occurring, and it was as if I was remoting viewing a definite, upcoming event that will soon occur, sometime this new year of 2012.

I was looking at what I knew or sensed was the edge of the inside of a much larger warehouse of some kind, and sensed or Knew within that this was just one of at least several of these same exact type of warehouse & printing facility, which the cabal or power elite knew nothing of, but that this particular building warehouse was where much of the Rainbow money has been stored, that is the new NES-RA currency that has been already printed up for many years (I also recently heard from more than one source, that some of this NES-A Rainbow currency is already at a few of the bigger banks to be used as soon as NESAR- is officially Announced and implemented).

The area that I was observing was just a very long hallway along the back wall inside of this warehouse, which was totally white in color, both the floor, wall, and ceiling, which were totally spic and span clean, and there were a row of windows all along this back white wall, up toward the top of the wall, Behind me, on the edge of this hallway, were a long line of dozens of different types of large computerized printing machines, which appeared to have more than one function. This is the only part of my Vision which was slightly unclear in that I was not sure if what I saw next for a few brief moments, as far as what I saw as the exact steps in this printing process of whether the huge roll of paper which I did for a second, briefly glimce, was actually at this exact, same location within this warehouse that I was in, or if that was a glimce of another location where the initial step was taken to first cut up the huge sheets coming off this roll of paper was first done and cut into much smaller pieces of paper, and this was later shipped in boxes or containers as smaller blank pieces of paper that were then received at this location of the warehouse. In other words, I could not tell if only part of the whole printing process that I briefly, but vividly, observed in this Vision, ALL occurred at this warehouse, or only the LAST process, of when different things were then printed upon these pieces of paper.

For I DID glimce the huge roll of paper, and as it turned very quickly with the huge sheet of paper coming off of this huge roll, I saw some type of cutter quickly come down on top of it and first cut this huge sheet into many smaller pieces of paper, each about the size of a currency bill or a check.

The scene suddenly shifted, and I was not sure if I was actually seeing this first part of my Vision had also actually occurred at the exact location I was at, or it had occurred at some other location prior to what I was next to observe at the warehouse. But the next instant, I observed each of these smaller pieces of check or money sized paper moving along this automated track that then moved them into some kind of computerized printing machine, and I was also aware that at some step in this process of printing them up which was either done automatically by a machine or manually by a person this process, again, was not exactly clear to me how it was done.

But I knew or sensed that these money or check sized pieces of paper had been put or placed (either manually or by some kind of machine) into envelopes right at the very end of the whole printing process and I clearly saw the envelopes rapidly drop into large carts (they looked like those kind of carts that they use at the post office, to wheel the mail around to the various slots and shelves inside post office, and they had those small plastic looking wheels, and cloth sides like those specific type of carts have that are used in mail sorting, etc).

Standing beside these carts, where the stuffed & sealed envelopes were falling rapidly into, were men and women, whose job it was to then put the stuffed envelopes into brown cardboard boxes. These boxes were then placed onto another cart, which was pushed down the long hallway to doors that opened up to the back of the warehouse, where large, white, unmarked trucks were all parked, with their back sliding doors opened, and these boxes very quickly were placed into these trucks, which I knew or sensed were then driven to the nearest post office.

I could see all of this, instantly, with great detail and clarity, and I knew that this vision was specifically being shown to me to have it stuck in my mind as something I would not ever forget, and that I also must share this with everyone else I was to connect with.

And it was then that as my Vision moved around to be able to now see what was being printed upon each of those smaller sheets of paper before they were inserted into envelopes.

It was only then, suddenly, that I realized what I was specifically looking at, what these smaller pieces of paper actually were they were individual checks, which each contained the exact, same thing or heading at the very top, the word that stood out in big bold, capitalized letters was: N-SARA! This is the word that did, specifically appear or stand out to me on these checks, and even though I did not specifically notice what else was printed with this heading, I did see that they had some kind of address right under the word NE-ARA (it may have been the U.S Treasury, but I am not sure), as well as the fact that each of these checks had a different name & address of different people that they were specifically going to be sent to which I knew were also printed on each of the envelopes that they were being inserted into. But I did not, specifically notice the exact names & addresses, other than the fact, which was specifically impressed into my consciousness, that these are, indeed, the NES-RA checks of the prosperity funds -- that will soon be sent out to most everyone here in the U.S.* (the 99%, that is!).

The other thing that stood out to me upon each of the checks that I was seeing at that moment that were being printed up, was that each of them were for the amount of $100,000.00 each!

It was at that moment, that the whole Vision began to suddenly fade away, just as suddenly as it had started. But I was, as stated, left with the undeniable sense of certainty, of the fact that it was as if G-d, our Divine Creator, and the Galactic Federation of Light wanted to impress upon my mind and consciousness, of the absolute certainty of this occurring, of not only the official Announcement of NES-RA and implementation, but that that we would all be receiving these checks, either mostly through the post office, and/or through other various ways of delivery, and that I must share this very vivid Vision with everyone else, and for them to also share it with everyone else they knew. And, of course, as the fact that whatever we individually, and especially collectively put Attention & Focus upon, and that which we Invision, Decree and Invoke into being, especially if we all do this with an open and Loving heart, mind and So it WILL occur, and we have the power to do this very thing, and also Call upon Go-/Di-ine Creator, and the Galactic Federation of Light to help us Manifest this most wonderful Reality, of this new planetary, world wide, NES-RA economic system.

Of course, we must also Decree, Invoke and Visualize that the corrupt federal reserve system will first officially be ended ASAP, before NES-RA can be officially Activated & implemented. So let's all help speed up this process as best we each can.

Also, this last Wed., Jan. 11th, which was the 2nd Launching Pad II-Dialogs with the Galactic Masters meeting, St. Germain spoke/Direct Voice Ch-nneled through me, about how he has been working to finally be able to implement this new economic system, and that it is definitely about to be Announced. This last week's (Jan. 11th) Meeting and the first week's Meeting, Jan. 4th, with Ashtar Cha-neling through me, should soon be available to listen to in the archives, for those of you who did not get a chance to have viewed & heard them live, as all of the future meetings, are also broadcast Live and over U-Stream video (at:

http://theLaunchingPadTV.com/LIVE_Broadcast.html <http://thelaunchingpadtv.com/LIVE_Broadcast.html and then archived for one's viewing convenience later.

Also, each week, usually an entirely different Ma-ter will bespeaking/Direct Voice Chan-eling through me about various subjects, so it will always be interesting with so many different Beings that will be Chan-eling through me over the coming weeks and months, and the various subjects that they are planning to speak about, as we go further into 2012!
