Subject: Ashtar Tells Us What's What.
Feb. 12, 2012.

Here is what Ashtar is trying to do. Please exclude the use of the word "Soon". They are trying to accomplish these things and when the time is right they may happen.

Message from the Ashtar Command 2/8/12

One thing your universal group needs to achieve here at this time is the reconciliation of past relationships with other universal groups. This is one area of this endeavor that is rarely discussed, but we feel this is very important for you to become aware of. We see how well so many of you are working together, and wish to thank you for your efforts in this regard. There are many different groups throughout space, and many of these groups have worked and also w-rred with each other in the past. An opportunity such as this, to work together in a peaceful cooperation, is an opportunity to reconcile some of our differences and some of our feelings towards each other.

Please continue to be good ambassadors for your people, as many eyes are upon you during these important days. Many new allegiances are being forged, and many hatchets are being buried. We wish to thank each and every one of you for your efforts and for volunteering for such a difficult assignment. As we have said all along, what happens here on Earth today has far sweeping implications throughout this entire universe. Please continue to give your all. You are almost at the finish line. An unveiling of sorts is close at hand. Your lives are very soon to receive a much deserved boost that will see the end to many of your long possessed struggles.

We are also nearing an important milestone here on this side of the curtain. We have reached agreements with the leading members of the C-bal and their surrender is now at hand. You will bear witness to this official surrender very soon in the days ahead, and we wish to make this event known throughout your world and use this opportunity to its greatest advantage. We are at this time ensuring that these a-rests will be televised for all to see throughout your world, which will act as a signal to all our Earth allies that the time to make their move is at hand. We have many who have been positioned for quite some time, and they are fully trained and prepared to step in and fill newly vacated positions at the top levels of g-vernments all around your world.

The U-ited States has been an important country in many of the dealings of the dark, and we see this as the most important place where these changes will occur throughout the reaches of their different branches of go-ernment. This is where most of the significant changes will take place, and this is where most eyes will be fixated throughout these very important times. There are many surprises in store for you all, and we are confident all your hard work and your waiting will have been well worth it. Sit back and enjoy which should be a very exciting show. We promise you that you won't want to miss it.

These arrests will clear the way for our fleets to make an open contact with you, the people of Earth. We have much work to accomplish together and we are very eager to get underway. Removing the Ca-al and their minions from power is perhaps the greatest obstacle that has blocked so many paths throughout your long history, and we see so many avenues becoming clear so quickly that your world is sure to experience changes at an incredible rate. We see so many of you being amazed at the speed in which such a large metamorphosis of a civilization can take place, and we are confident you will all enjoy very much what is in store for you. So many of your world have suffered for so long, and the day has come when their suffering has come to an end. We are very eager to see the suffering around your world cease, and this is where we will put our focus immediately. We have many important resources at our disposal and we will utilize them where they are most needed. Relieving the hunger of so many of your world is our first task, and we are confident so many of your people will gladly volunteer their efforts in this regard. What a wonderful day this will be for so many who need your help.

After this project is fully underway we will initiate many others immediately, and these projects will alleviate so much suffering that so many have been experiencing. We invite you to join us in these many projects, and we are so excited to be working with so many of you in a far more personal manner. We have so much to share with you, our brothers and sisters, and we look so forward to this opportunity. We possess technologies far beyond your current imaginations, and we see so many of you being amazed at what some of these advancements can make possible. Those of you with an interest in high-tech electronics and computers will surely enjoy greatly what we have to show you as we begin your hands-on training with this equipment.

Many different technologies were developed by many different peoples throughout this universe, and this is another area where a peaceful cooperation has been mutually beneficial to all involved. As you today work together to patch up your differences and mend old wounds, so too do we experience the same bonding of once tattered relationships. As above-so below. Keep this in mind as you go about your day and your interactions with others, as your efforts mean so much to the overall picture. We see so many of you from so many different worlds throughout this universe coming together in common goal to make your world a better place, and it warms our hearts to see how we can all peacefully coexist and work together to accomplish such great things. Keep up your good work. We are so proud of each and every one of you. Your efforts are greatly appreciated and are soon to pay off for all of us on both sides of this far reaching endeavor. Soon, we will all be working together as one, which has always been the goal at the core of this entire mission.

The Internet has been a live place where issues of an outside world can take place within cyberspace. What you are doing while you are working together on the Internet has far reaching implications, not only in your outside world, but even in the universe outside of the limits of your atmospheres. Building these working models from conceptual computer interaction, we of the higher realms are able to create scalable working models that we can build upon in the outer universe. This is an important creative tool that we have used for many eons.

Relationship building, problem solving, and model interplay between parties of different cultural backgrounds who possess unique philosophies and skill sets, are incredibly useful tools where much needed insights can be gained. Much of what you do on the Internet is monitored by us, and we take into account how well, or not well, many of these different groups work together. This is one of the aims of this cultural experiment taking place here on Earth at this time, and your cooperation and assistance in these processes are greatly appreciated. Much is being learned from all this, and great studies are being made through this truly universal cooperation. We greatly applaud all of your sincere efforts.

Many of you will continue to work together after your work here is done, and the friendships and working partnerships you are building today will be the architectural structures of tomorrow's workplace and social atmospheres. Give these last days of your current assignments your all, and your efforts will pay off for many years into your futures. We see many of you taking the skills you are honing today with you as you begin your new careers as honored members of the Ashtar Command.

We are your Family of Light from the stars.
