Message from the Ashtar Command 2/15/12

East contact. We wish you to know that we of your Star Family speak to you now and wish to share some thoughts with those who read your words. There have been some feelings expressed as of late by those who are beginning to question certain channels of information and we would like to make it clear to our channel that he has a solid and clear communication today.

Today we would like to discuss your ascension timelines and what we feel must be done before you experience the culmination of this event. Many paths have already been cleared and we wish you to know the remainder of these paths will be cleared in the days ahead, leaving no stone left unturned and nothing in your way that will impede your safe and successful ascension into the higher realms of this universe. This is one of our tasks here at this time with you and we wish you to know that we are soundly experienced at our jobs. We will never let any harm come to you, and take all safety precautions at all times. We have the power and capabilities to protect each and every one of you and we, of course, do so at all times unless your experience must be permitted to occur according to one's prearranged incarnate blueprint. This is an area where we cannot overstep our bounds, but each of you clearly understood this before your current incarnation.

We see matters unfolding perfectly according to the carefully laid plans of advanced minds and hearts, and we are very pleased to report that each of you that has chosen ascension is holding steady to this course and moving towards your desired goal smoothly, and from our vantage point, rather easily, although we do perceive that there are some of you who are experiencing certain discomforts at this time. We say to you all is necessary for your clearing on many different levels, and we suggest to you to see these signs not as symptoms of problems or difficulties, but as road markers you are passing as you travel forward towards your new home. Each of you understood there would be some difficulties you may experience along this part of your journey, but we see you handling very well these small bumps in the road. Continue on knowing your destination is in sight, and all your dreams are in reach.

We see so many of you coming together and assisting each other in every way you can, and we are very heart warmed at how you are all learning to work and play together the way you were always meant to. With your ancient antagonists being removed from your collective environment, we see humanity soaring to new heights in all your collective endeavors. We feel many of you will be quite surprised and overjoyed at how kind you can all be to one another and how well you can all work together when the root of all your conflicts is removed according to your wishes. This great task is being handled by many different groups and organizations at this time. Some of these groups are terrestrial, and some extraterrestrial. Our alliances are working in a peaceful cooperation with your earthen alliances, and together we are removing from your path many obstacles, including those physical and nonphysical that have impeded your progress as a race and a civilization for many eons.

Your journey as one race, the human race, will now take flight on wings of love, light, and unity, and there are no limits to what you can now experience together. Incredible adventures are what await you and you do not have long to wait, as we see the inevitable day of our reunion approaching quickly as much progress is being made behind the scenes. Much of what has been transpiring will soon be made known to you through your own media outlets, as there are events scheduled that will demonstrate clearly to you that much work has been going on unbeknownst to you. Much of what this work has entailed will be of a legal and administrative nature, as through the process of law our Earth allies have been able to successfully navigate through the mountains of red tape and stonewalling to acquire the legal means to remove and even arrest many members of your criminal class, including their highest-ranking leaders.

Some of these names that will soon grace your news reports may surprise even those of you who have researched this criminal organization and have followed recent developments. Much has been uncovered throughout this long and deep investigation, and there will be many arrests for a wide range of crimes that have affected so many innocent lives. Many of you will be stunned when learning some of the details of these crimes, but this is a very necessary step to wake up the masses to what has been going on and why intervention was called for at this time.

Humanity was headed for serious trouble at the hands of these dark ones, and their plan was to see every member of your human family enslaved to them and their wishes. There have been prison camps built all over the world for those who refused to follow their demands, and each of you was to be micro chipped to further control your movements, your speech, and even your thoughts. This is where you were headed, and so many of you should be proud today that you awakened to this plot and began taking action to stop it in its tracks. It all starts with love, and it is the love you have shown for each other that has raised your vibration as a collective that has allowed the intervention of your higher dimensional brothers and sisters to come to your aid and assist you in areas you were not equipped to deal with. The dismantling of the California's fighting forces and their vast weaponry was one of the tasks we were better qualified to handle, and we have effectively neutralized this once mighty military. There remain scattered groups here and there, but we have them soundly blockaded and they will not be any threat to you or us at all as we proceed with the purification of your planet.

Much work has to be done to prepare your world for ascension and we are eager to get underway with these many projects. As we have said, many of you will be working alongside us as we together begin these much needed tasks that we see as necessary steps towards your new 5th dimensional world. There will be many different areas of these projects with different degrees of difficulty that will take you to many parts of your planet, but we say to you no matter where you are in your world you will be only minutes from your home when you are working with us, the Ashtar Command. We have many ships of varying size and design capabilities, and each of you that will be working with us will be assigned to a crew that specializes in your field of choice.

There are many different areas that must be attended to on your planet, and we have highly trained and qualified personnel assigned to each area that needs attention. These men and women are very eager to begin working with you and instructing you in the many advanced technologies that will enable you to transform your world.

We understand many of you are anxious to get started with these projects, and we say to you to be a little more patient as events are scheduled to begin unfolding very soon. Again, we do not like to give precise dates, but we do have a timetable in place now and many of you would be quite excited at its prospect. We will be with you soon, there is no way this reunion will not happen as it must, and this has been the plan all along. Continue to keep an eye out for the catalyst of events to begin soon that will announce to your world the changes have begun and will not stop or slow until your planet and her people ascend into their rightful place in the Heavenly Realms.

We are your Family of Light from the stars.
