An explanation of the sealed boxes that have been on our coastlines is explained in this information. It comes from Greys who i don't trust any further than i can throw them.

Excerpt:

These sealed metal boxes are indeed alien, placed along significant coastlines to abort sudden and jolting plate movements. The number of boxes discovered by mankind, uncloaked and visible, are a miniscule number compared to the total in use, which range in the thousands. Most are under water. They are supposed to be cloaked, so that humans can look right at them and not SEE them, but mistakes are made in the rush to place the boxes, on occasion, so some are left visible. Have g-vernments removed them and tried to crack them open? Yes, but the boxes disappear from storage, without a trace.

Why is the impact of plate movements being restrained, at present, when the Council of Worlds has ruled that the Pole Shift is a natural event not to be averted? It has scarcely passed notice that our original statements about the 7 of 10 scenarios, whereby we anticipated a rapid start at the end of 2010, did not unfold. The 7 of 10 pace has been slow, not rapid. The Council of Worlds wants the public to be aware of what is happening, what is pending, so that s-iritual decisions can be made, the population having opportunity to evaluate the situation properly. The cover-up has prevented that school house lesson from occurring.

Thus, temporarily, the pace of change here on Earth will be slowed, but not averted. Nor is the ultimate result or timeframe being changed. The battle ground is on the cover-up, as the recent decision to allow more visibility of the Planet X complex has shown. For those who wonder how the boxes work, why the hum or aurora type glow they occasionally emit, we have no comment. You would not understand the mechanics, nor be able to replicate the boxes, and in any case if the s-rets were understood those in the Service-to-Self in your establishment would use this information to control and harm the common man. The boxes will remain a mystery, in this regard.

Feb. 21, 2012.

Well, for quite a while I've been wishing for a hole that I could jump in and pull the hole in behind me. It seems that my son has found an abandoned gold mine here the the Sonona Hills that fills the bill. He's has registered it and owns it legally.

It's big enough to go into and goes about a thousand feet into a mountain and come out at a different entrance. It will hold about one thousand people. I asked him to supply it with water, food and etc. so we can live in it in case a catastrophy comes our way. I don't expect any catasphore is going to happen but you never can tell. Oh yes, it does appear to have some gold in it.
