Your new paradigm is being created through your interactions throughout your online social networks. This was the vision decided upon by those who design and build new worlds throughout this universe. You have been told all along that you were co-creating your new Earth by your thoughts and actions each day, and this was not merely poetic license. You, each of you, are literally creating your new world with the building blocks of creation you have been given. The tools with which you are utilizing to build your new dream world are your computers, your social networks, and your visions, imaginations, thoughts, intentions, words, pictures, videos, stories, and most importantly, the manner in which you interact with each other.

As each day passes, we see your new world being created by you, even as you cannot yet see the progress of your blossoming creation. We can say to you that your new world is coming along absolutely beautifully, with gorgeous colors and breathtaking landscapes, and we can hardly wait for you all to see the child you are co-creating together.

Your new home will be a wonderland, rich in its tapestries of natural treasures, pure in its life springs of water and air, and will ever remain unpolluted by those of the dark nature. Your new world will be yours to cherish and safeguard from harm, to enjoy and to prosper, and it will be yours in the days ahead upon your ascension into your new beginning. Continue into each and every day with the understanding that you are building your new home with each interaction with each other, and your new world will continue to blossom into the gorgeous paradise we see growing before our eyes today.

The unveiling of your new home is not far off in the distance, but we do have pressing matters here that must be taken care of first. What we need from you is your cooperation, as we must feel it is safe to proceed with our landings in order for us to get started on the many necessary projects with you. This is why the criminal C-bal is being removed from their positions of power, and this is why you will soon witness them being brought to justice for their crimes against humanity. We feel it is imperative to clear the path for our arrival and not take such undue chances with those who wish to do us, as well as you, harm.

We feel the reasons for these arrests have been made clear to many of you, and so far we have not heard anyone who is not associated with the Cab-lists take an opposing viewpoint. This is important, as we have said, this is your world and we must follow your wishes, whatever they shall be. Having said that, we wish to make it clear there are limits to what will be allowed to transpire here, such as wars and the destruction of your planet.

At present, we, the Galactic Federation of Light, along with our Earth allies, have thwarted every attempt by the dark ones to start another world war as they desperately attempt to find any means possible to hold on to their power and thwart our reunion with you and your ascension into the higher realms. We have stated many times that we will not permit this, and as each day passes with no onset of war in your Middle East, you may see this as a sign that we are here and we do keep our word, for indeed we do. Looking at the prospects of the Cabal and those party to this collection of ruthless criminals, we see they are without hope and without chance to maintain their criminal empire any longer. Our Earth allies have effectively cut off many of their streams of money, which is your money, and faction after faction of their organization is going bankrupt, no longer able to pay their minions and their overhead any longer. This was part of the plan, to cut off their money supply and choke off the lifeblood of their criminal empire.

The Cabal's power has always been based solely on money, and vast amounts of it were necessary to keep their organization afloat. These enormous sums of money had to come from someplace, and it came from the only source of money there is left on this planet, and that is the money of the people. Every penny that lines their pockets comes from you. Whether they tax you for it, steal it from you, or sell back to you the natural resources of your planet that are rightfully yours. Your money, created by your labor, is the lifeblood of their empire, and they have cunningly crafted countless ways to pilfer this money from you.

Can you imagine just how much money will become available to the people once the Cabal have been removed from your society and all the wealth that has been siphoned from the people is freed to better the lives of all of you?

There exists such a vast amount of wealth that is available to you, that is and has always been rightfully yours, and it will be returned to you where it can be used to better the lives of every man, woman, and child on your planet equally, with no favoritism for anyone, any people, or anyplace. This will be your new system, and this system will be based on the natural law of abundance.

Currently, your economic systems are based on lack, scarcity, and debt, and a relative few have been dividing up the enormous amounts of wealth on your planet while the rest of you have been forced to scramble for crumbs left after their overindulgence. This is about to change, and it will change so many lives completely.

Remain patient dear ones, for you have journeyed so much longer than many of you realize and the days from now until all that has been promised are so few in the larger picture. It is not like your days today are filled with emptiness, for each of you reading these words have much work you are to be accomplishing. As we have said there are forces of light everywhere around you and their days are filled with activity, assisting in their own way to make all your dreams a reality, and each of these tasks is a vital piece to the complex and enormous puzzle. You too have a vital role to play, and it can be said that many of your allies await you and your success to inform your brethren of what is transpiring all around them.

Do not get stuck on one individual and one concept, instead, hit and run with an expanded vision of your collective reality. Many of you have already learned all too well that there are few among you who will be exposed for the first time to new information and immediately accept these new ideas as fact. Always try to keep in mind that your job is not to convince anyone of anything. Your job is to introduce these broader concepts into another's reality and allow them to accept it or reject it. That is all. What you are attempting to accomplish here is to prepare, even slightly, your human family for the arrests of the Cabal and the arrival to your home of your Star Family. Do not concern yourself with convincing anyone of these things. They will, if they choose to, witness these events for themselves.

After you offer these thoughts to your friends, family, or even those who you do not personally know, move on to the next soul that may benefit from your efforts. It should only take a few minutes to outline these two different, but related concepts, yet we see so many of you debating for hours and even days with one member of your family. Remember, you need not try to convince anyone of anything, they will be convinced soon enough. Merely plant the seed, that is all, and move quickly on to plant another and soon your garden will blossom.

Your Internet social networking scenes have been purposely inserted into your reality just for the purpose of connecting you all. Use these tools to spread the information of the pending arrests and of our arrival as you have the ability to reach so many in so little time in this manner. Sharing messages such as these are but one way to convey your message, as there are many avenues available to you to express yourself.

We see this information spreading across your planet, and we do thank you for all your tremendous efforts, though we do feel more of you could take part and assist this very important area of our overall mission. Without sufficient numbers of your people being adequately prepared for such radical changes, we cannot proceed with the next stages of our mission. We do see you making progress in this regard, and we say to you to push on and give these two areas your undivided attention and in no time we will be able to proceed.

We have shared with you that it is you we are waiting on, and it is this area that needs your focus at this time. We will be sending you help in this regard in the form of spacecraft that we will continue to permit to be witnessed and recorded, and we will step up the amounts of overall sightings as well as the quality of certain sightings. We feel this will be a major boost your to campaign, and you may look for these sightings immediately in your skies.
